FARMERS GATHER FOR CONVENTION

EDUCATIONAL UNION GUEST OF PENDLETON TOMORROW

Executive Committees of Co-operative Organization and Tri-terminal Warehouse Company Arrive and Hold Preliminary Session Today.

With members from all parts of the state already here and more arriving on every train, the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of Oregon is ready for its second annual convention which will commence in this city tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and continue through Wednesday. Indications are that the attendance will exceed that of the first annual gathering which was held at The Dalles last year.

Today both the executive committees of the union and of the Tri-terminal Warehouse company are holding sessions preliminary to the opening of the convention.

The state executive committee of the union is composed of the following: President, John W. McAllister, E. S. Norris of La Grande, Clyde Williams of Buhl, Idaho, J. D. Brown of Arlington, M. M. Waterman of The Dalles, and C. C. Connor of Holik. The board of the warehouse company consists of seven men, L. C. Crow, president of the Washington Farmers' union, B. F. Manchester, W. M. Booth of Idaho, C. W. Nelson of Seattle, W. W. Harrah of Pendleton, M. M. Waterman of The Dalles and Alex Strahn of Grass Valley.

Charles S. Barrett of Georgia, national president of the union will arrive tomorrow and will be a distinguished guest at the convention. He is scheduled to make an address tomorrow. Other out-of-town speakers tomorrow will be C. W. Nelson of Seattle and C. W. Curry.

PRIZE WINNING PUP HOVERS MANY MOTHERLESS CHICKS

Spokane, Wash.—"Pat," a water spaniel, owned by Mr. and Mrs. William L. Wright of Spokane, and winner of a bushel of cups and trophies at interstate bench shows, has served as a brooder for more than 200 orphaned chicks during the last 12 months. The animal has proved an excellent guardian for the chicks, but will have nothing whatever to do with ducklings and goslings. "Pat" does not desert his charges after they crawl out of the shells, but tends to them with all the care of a mother hen. The dog has defended scores of chickens from attacks by hawks and predatory animals, at one time killing a large cougar, which went to the henry in search of a choice morsel. "Pat's" favorite son—"Mike"—of a litter of ten, declines to brood, probably holding that blue-ribboned dog is above the poultry industry. Both animals, however, do many little chores around the house. "Pat" carries home the groceries and newspapers and can hold his own with a pack of hungry wildcats.

Lone Bandit Robs Bank.

Vancouver, B. C.—A lone robber entered the branch of the Royal bank on Park Drive, and holding a revolver to the manager's head compelled him to give up all the money in sight. About $2000 was taken, according to the bank authorities. Five minutes after the robbery the whole detective force was in pursuit of the bandit. Just a year ago the same bank was robbed at night and about $6000 taken.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Brown to Tell Troubles.

W. A. Brown, manager of the Hotel Pendleton, is scheduled to make an address before the hotelmen's convention in Portland Wednesday, and his topic is "Our Local Troubles."

Position With Local Store.

C. M. Stype, for the past few years manager of the Richland Hardware company has accepted a position with the Taylor Hardware company of this city and has already entered upon his duties.

Well Worn Couple Marry.

A marriage license was issued late Saturday afternoon to Ernest O. Draper, formerly head of the Pendleton business college, now bookkeeper for the Central and Cash markets and as assistant pastor of the Christian church, and Miss Ellen R. Blue, a well known young lady of the city.

Freewater Lots Sold.

By a deed filed today with Recorder Burroughs, S. A. North and L. B. North, her husband, have sold to Emma Everett for a consideration of $2050, lots 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 in block 85 of the town of Freewater.

Big Increase in Licenses.

Showing that hunting in Umatilla county is growing in popularity or else showing that hunters are observing the law better, are the records at the court house showing that to date 1481 licenses have been taken out, twice the number for the entire year of 1910.

Three Presidents Sign Patents.

Three patents, all of them more or less ancient, were filed with the county recorder today. One was made in 1892 and signed by Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States, another in 1895 and signed by Grover Cleveland and the third was made in 1902 and signed by Theodore Roosevelt. The first was to Reibhold Hesse, the second to William Koper and the third to David B. Goodlin.

Sues to Clear Title.

A suit was filed in the circuit court today by Nettie L. Sturdivant, administratrix of the estate of Amos Boynton, against Alton Acton whereby the plaintiff hopes to secure clear title to a certain lot which deceased had purchased at a sheriff's sale. She alleges that defendant claims some interest in the land and asks that such claim as he makes be declared invalid. George W. Counts is attorney for the plaintiff.

Keefe Wants Members Out.

Last evening, December 3 is the last business meeting of the club for the year 1911. Let it be a good one and have the attendance far bigger than ever before. It won't be a bore. All the business can be done in a very short time and the business itself will be interesting. Music and mirth will take away that tired feeling, and the election strain. The Pendleton Commercial club quartet will render some selections that are new and snappy. Come on, get away from the grouch. All are welcome. J. E. KEEFE, JR., Sec.

W. D. Fletcher Laid to Rest.

The funeral of Wesley D. Fletcher, pioneer Pendletonian who died in this city Saturday morning, was held yesterday afternoon at the home of the deceased's son, R. W. Fletcher, on Jackson street. Rev. Charles Quinney of the Church of the Redeemer performing the funeral ceremonies. Interment was made in Olney cemetery by the side of the wife of the deceased.

Eagles to Bury Tetanus Victim.

The funeral of Harry Leese, the young man who died of lockjaw at the local hospital Saturday following an injury received while working on the Alta street water ditch, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the undertaking parlors of Ralph Folsom. The local lodge of Eagles will have charge of the services and all members are asked to report at the hall by 2 o'clock.

Buys Oregon Motor Company.

B. F. Arambly, well known auto expert, has just completed a transaction whereby he becomes owner of the Oregon Motor Car company on Court street and Saturday moved his machinery which he has had in the shops of the Pendleton Auto company, to his new location. Mr. Arambly has conducted the repair shops of the Pendleton Auto company for several years but his lease had expired and he resolved to enter the automobile field for himself. The Oregon Motor Car company handles the Ford car and has headquarters on Court street near the E. L. Smith Co.'s store. The place was formerly conducted by John Bohl.

Meeting of Directors Soon.

County School Superintendent Frank K. Welles is preparing for the annual convention of county school directors which is to be held in the court house on December 16. He anticipates that the attendance of 100 last year will be doubled this year because of the advertisement received by the personal visits of the county school supervisors to each district. Among the prominent speakers who will address the convention are L. B. Alderman, state superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Calvin S. White, state health officer. The board of managers of the Commercial association will probably arrange some form of entertainment for the delegates while in the city.

TACKLED WRONG DOG.

It Was An Expensive Brute, As Litigation Proved.

Glenside, Pa.—When dogs without pedigrees are listed at $181.31 there must be an unusual reason. There was, in the case of Mrs. Emma Leighton and her son, of this town. It was related before the Montgomery county courts that Mrs. Leighton and her son beat a dog owned by one George Goodwin, also of Glenside, after the dog had trespassed on the Leighton premises. It was also charged that the Leightons used a sharp tined pitchfork on the dog and injured him; after which they summoned a suburban police official, told him the dog was a savage animal and had him killed.

Goodwin claimed the dog was harmless, inoffensive and a general pet of all the Glenside kids. An action in cruelty against the Leightons was heard by Magistrate Kirk at Jenkintown; but he sent the case to Norristown to be heard. The Leightons were found guilty by a jury, and the bill they paid in settlement a couple of days ago read something like this: Fines, $50; costs, 131.31; total, $181.31.

MOLASSES CAN EXPLODE.

Jury Awards Woman $75 Damages Against Grocer. Philadelphia, Pa.—A jury in Common Pleas court awarded Susan McSorley $75 damages against J. Joseph Kratz, a grocer, for personal injuries sustained by the explosion of a can of molasses.

Mrs. McSorley said she went into Kratz's place and asked for molasses suitable for cooking purposes. The can she received from the grocer contained a label with this notice: "Molasses in this can, being in a condensed form, will not ferment." But later in the day, as she was removing the lid, there was a loud report and the gases generated by fermentation exploded, pieces of the tin receptacle striking her in the face.

Mrs. McSorley wears glasses and the bursting of the can shattered the left lens, some of the broken glass entering her eye and for a time impaired her sight.

WIDER RECIPROCITY IS URGED BY KNOX

Secretary of State Announces He Is for Trade Pacts With South America.

Washington.—Secretary of State Knox is favorable to reciprocity with the South American republics.

In discussing the question the Secretary said that his views had not changed since he made an address at the commencement exercises of the University of Pennsylvania in 1910, when he said:

"With the republics to the south of us, commerce, which makes so powerful a bond of friendship, is flourishing under conditions very favorable to their great export products and which it is hoped, may in time be adjusted in some cases upon a more reciprocal basis.

"The investment of our surplus capital and the exportation of our products not absorbed by the home markets, like the foreign enterprises of our citizens, which increase with the slackening of the domestic demand for their activities, should vitalize our commerce with the other American republics."

John S. Matthews of Baker was an arrival in Pendleton yesterday.
