RAILROADS MAY MAKE BURNS GREAT CENTER

Harriman Line Officials Talk of Making Town Western Terminus of Extension.

Baker, Ore.—If the present plans of the Harriman lines are carried out, it will mean that Burns will be the western terminus of the extension now under construction from Vale west, but it is not believed that much work will be done this winter. When Judge Robert S. Lovett, head of the Harriman system was in Portland a short time ago he declared that engineers had been instructed to make the final surveys west of Vale. He added, however, that the western terminus had not yet been selected.

While Bend is said to be the natural terminus of an east and west road connecting with the Oregon Short Line at Vale, as it would connect there with the O.-W. R. & N. Co.'s Deschutes line, it is believed that the Harriman system does not contemplate going farther than Burns at present. This extension will require about 140 miles of road west of Vale and it is reported that this has been authorized.

The reason for the great interest the Harriman system has taken in the Vale-Burns extension arises from the fact that Burns recently made an offer of a $50,000 bonus to David Eccles, president of the Sumpter Valley railway, which now reaches Prairie City, if he will extend that road to Burns, and also that the extension from Burns to Bend, can easily be constructed. Although no official announcement of the acceptance of the $50,000 bonus has been made, it is known to be under consideration.

RICH WOMEN STIRRED BY DYNAMITE CASE

Resolve to Work for Better Understanding Between Capital and Labor.

New York.—The accompanying resolution, to be presented at a meeting in the Waldorf-Astoria may be accepted as an evidence that the whole country is awake to the gravity of the fate that leaves her single.

Edwards spent his vacation last summer at a house near that of G. F. Harrison, a prosperous farmer, who had two daughters. People living in the neighborhood have often mistaken one of them for the other and that situation between capital and labor as laid bare by the confessions of the McNamara's.

The meeting is introductory to a series of ten lectures by members of President Taft's cabinet, the course having been arranged by Miss Elizabeth Marbury, Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan, and Mrs. Francis McNeil Bacon, Jr. The resolution reads:

Resolved, that the recent developments in the McNamara case show such a lack of harmony between labor and capital, whose interests should be identical, that our country is in danger of becoming a house divided against itself. In the face of such evidence it behooves every citizen to study the processes of government and the condition of his fellowmen in order that justice and sympathy may prevail and the cause of common humanity be advanced.

The chief significance of this message lies in its being offered to an audience representative largely of the moneyed class. The greater number of those who have subscribed to this course of lectures being given under the management of the women's welfare department of the National Civic Federation are names familiar to Wall street and the banking and legal fraternity.

On the general committee with Mrs. Morgan, Miss Marbury and Mrs. Bacon are women whom the public usually identifies with society. Among others are Mrs. Lindon W. Bates, Mrs. August Belmont, Mrs. George Blumenthal, Mrs. Francis Higginson Cabot, Miss Mabel Clyde, Mrs. William Rand Jr., Mrs. Alexander Shaw, Mrs. Walker Smith, Mrs. James C. Cushman, Miss Caroline Shippen, Mrs. V. Everitt Mackey, Mrs. Gertrude Robinson Smith, Mrs. Mary Hatch Willard and Mrs. Lindsay Van Rensselaer.

WEDS TWIN BY MISTAKE.

Captain, in Haste to Elope, Marries Sister of Girl He Courted. Annapolis, Md.—In his haste to carry out his elopement plans, Captain Harry R. Edwards of the schooner May H. mistook the twin sister of his bride-to-be for the girl he had been secretly wooing and eloped with the wrong twin. The girl whom he meant to wed is home mourning the was what Edwards did when he eloped.

He landed from the schooner intending to elope with Mary Harrison. He met Betty first, and thinking she was Mary hurried her off to a parson and then aboard the schooner. The schooner is somewhere in Chesapeake bay, with Edwards and his wife aboard, headed for Baltimore.

It was reported last summer that Betty was jealous of the attentions paid her sister by Edwards, and it is believed in some quarters she learned Edwards was going to marry Mary, and decided the best way to stop it was to marry him herself.

Commission Form Rejected. Olympia, Wash.—Olympia rejected the commission form of government by a majority of 68 votes. A complete republican city ticket was elected by substantial pluralities. The socialists and prohibitionists combined polled only 461 votes out of 1753 cast for mayor. Two women were among the defeated socialist candidates.

AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum. One of the very best programs for Tuesday's change.

1. "Vitagraph Monthly of Current Events." Vitagraph. This issue is packed full of wonderful news happenings of the past month. First and foremost is the International Motor Boat Races at Huntington, Long Island; the Annual Mardi Gras at Cooney Island; the Start of the Aviators at Sheepshead Bay, New York, and the flight of the intrepid Rogers on his way from New York to San Francisco.

2. "How They Stopped the Run on the Bank." Selig. Rumor has it that the Forest City State bank is hard pressed for cash. The news spreads and a run is imminent. The president faces ruin and disgrace. His finances secure a ferocious live lion from the circus and the crowd forget about their money in an effort to get as far away as possible.

3. "Christian and Moor." Ed'son. A Christian knight falls in love with a Moorish maiden. Her father makes an oath that anyone crossing his boundary lines shall be killed. His daughter is entrapped by an unknown person and before it is realized she has crossed the boundary and is doomed to death and is saved by her lover.

4. "The Squaw's Mistaken Love." American Pathes. An old miner leading some of the younger men across the mountains to the gold fields permits his daughter to accompany him in the disguise of a man. The camp is surprised by Indians and the girl and her companion are taken prisoners. One of the squaws falls in love with the girl dressed in men's clothes and helps them to escape.

The Pastime. Where you see only the best in motion pictures. Tuesday's change of program:

"An Accidental Outlaw." Lubin. A strange streak of fate turned a quiet cowboy into a desperado and stage robber and finally enabled him to win the prettiest girl in the country.

"An Old Sweetheart of Mine." Ed'son. By James Whitcomb Riley. Adopted from the well known poem and carried out in a novel way the film conveys all the poetic feeling of the original. The verses are used as sub-titles.

"A Revolution in the Bachelor Club." American. A farce dealing with a bachelor and a beautiful woman. The result of the mixup is a revolution in the club which surpasses words.

"Coals of Fire." Selig. A strong frontier drama. This story treats of two men, one a big, brawny fighting man, who wins a girl from the other weaker in valty but superior in his intellectual mentality. In future years this disappointed man becomes governor of Missouri and saves his old sweetheart's husband from paying the death penalty after killing a man.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH AUDIENCE WAS DELIGHTED

Miss Lingenfelter Well Received at the Christmas Church Last Night.

It is said that all were pleased at the Christmas church last night in putting it very mildly—they were more than pleased with Miss Lingenfelter, who has been engaged by Evangelist Homes to assist him in the closing days of the revival. She sang both before and after the sermon and revealed a wonderful voice under perfect control. Some feared that her instructor, Mme. Armenta of Seattle, had praised her too highly, but none left the church last night with that opinion. In presenting Miss Lingenfelter to the public her instructor says:

"It gives me great pleasure to recommend to the public my gifted pupil, Miss Mary Lingenfelter, who has for the past four years been an ardent student in my vocal school of music. She possesses a rich mezzo soprano voice of rare beauty and of persuasive quality, with a modest and charming personality and a natural taste for the highest standard in her chosen profession. I am assured of a continuation of the success she has achieved in the past season in church and concert work."

The people of Pendleton will miss a rare opportunity to hear one of the most gifted soloists of the coast if they fail to hear Miss Lingenfelter.

The sermon of Mr. Holmes on "Seedtime and Harvest" was highly complimented in that there were several requests to have it repeated. He spoke of three plantings in every life and the results that follow: Heredity, Environment and Personality. Some are foredoomed by the sins of parents. This is nature's method of teaching morals. Others, though well born, are doomed by a sinful environment, but over both the tendency to sin inherited from others and the temptation to follow evil due to one's surroundings, a strong personality may conquer. Mr. Holmes is strong in his denunciation of sin, but equally strong in his appeal for a change of life in the sinner. His theme for tonight is "A Prayer from Hell."

GEO. WEBB PRESENTS PICTURE TO LODGE

More momentous than any gathering held by the Odd Fellows' lodge in La Grande was the annual roll call session last Saturday night whereat a life size painting of Uncle George Webb of Pendleton was presented to the lodge as a gift by Mr. Webb, says the Observer. Anxious to find a safe and permanent abode for which the ex-state treasurer posed before a German artist in Portland 24 years ago, Mr. Webb concluded to present the La Grande lodge of Odd Fellows with the valuable piece of art and choosed the roll call night as the most fitting occasion to bestow the gift. Past Grand Master and Sovereign Grand Lodge Representative H. E. Cooldge made the presentation speech in his characteristic impressive manner and the gratitude of the lodge toward Mr. Webb was expressed by others as well.

The gift is especially prized because Mr. Webb was the first noble grand of the La Grande lodge. This was in 1867 when the charter was granted and the lodge lived in cramped circumstances before it attained its size and prestige. The struggle the original membership went through was aptly told in a stirring address by "Uncle George" Saturday night.
