SOCIETY

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

On Tuesday at high noon occurred the wedding of Miss Freda Roesch to Frederick Steiwer, the ceremony being performed in the Church of the Redeemer with Rev. Charles Quinney officiating. Only the members of the bride's family were in attendance, local society being in ignorance of the event until late in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Steiwer are now at home in the cottage on North Vincent street just recently built by the bridegroom. The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Roesch of this city and has spent most of her life in Pendleton. She is a graduate of the Pendleton Academy and received further education in an eastern school. Mr. Steiwer is a prominent member of the local bar, having begun his practice here as deputy district attorney and associate of Judge G. W. Phelps three years ago. He is a native Oregonian, the son of a well-known Marion county family and is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural College and the University of Oregon at both of which institutions he was prominent in student body affairs. At the latter he was connected with the Sigma Nu fraternity. Since coming to Pendleton, Mr. Steiwer has won a host of friends who wish much happiness to him and his bride.

The next few days will see the homecoming of a number of Pendleton young men and women who are attending colleges and schools in the northwest. From the University will come James Johns, Jr., Lyman Rice, Nat Kimball, Lynnwood Livermore and Tom Boylen. Glen Storie, Brook Dickson and Bert Jerard will be late in returning because of their connection with the Glee Club which is now on tour. From the University of Washington will come Cress Sturgis, Richard Devine, Miss Blanch Badley and Miss Gladys Hamley. Miss Edith Sushier will return from St. Helen's Hall at Portland and a number of other students at Oregon Agricultural College will come back for the holidays.

A number of Lady Maccabees entertained the Budy Bee club Tuesday afternoon in the Secret Society hall. The afternoon was spent with needlework and guessing contests. Refreshments were served. The invited guests were Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Webster, Mrs. Kimerly, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Cag and Mrs. Endicott.

On Wednesday evening, the recently organized Moose lodge gave its first annual ball in the Eagle-Woodman hall and it proved a most enjoyable affair to the large crowd which attended. To the strains of music furnished by the United Orchestra, the members and their ladies danced until a late hour.

Miss Hazel Mann arrived last night from Portland to be the guest of her cousin, Miss Erial Mann, during the holidays.

Dr. E. R. Swinburne, who left recently for Seattle, will leave soon for Honolulu accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Swinburne.

Mrs. Charles Hamilton and Mrs. Frank Frazier will return Sunday from a month's visit in Portland.

Robert Stoll has returned from a week's visit with his mother, Mrs. Wm. R. Ellis, at Cathlamet, near the mouth of the Columbia river.

Mr. and Mrs. George La Fontaine are in Honolulu and will spend the balance of the winter there.

Charles Samuel Jackson returned on Wednesday to his home in Portland after visiting for several days in this city.

The alumni of the Lambda Sigma fraternity will give their annual holiday ball on Wednesday evening, December 27.

Mrs. Lachlan McLeay and son Donald, left today to join Mr. McLeay in Oswego, New York.

The Evening Bridge club met Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Marshall.

Roy T. Bishop has returned from a business visit to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ruppe left Wednesday for Mosier where they will spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cooper.

Miss Viola Shea went to Walla Walla Thursday to visit with friends.

Mrs. Anna Selkirk Norton of Walla Walla, was a guest of Mrs. Edwin P. Marshall on Wednesday night.

KICKED TO DEATH BY HIS OWN HORSE

Old Reduse's Corpse Found With Body of Starved Beast.
Oregon City, Ore.—With his skull crushed and bruises on his body and arms, Julius Norris, 79 years old, a recluse rancher of Maple Lane, was found dead in a stall, and the horse that had killed him and then trampled his body lay dead beside him. The animal had died of starvation, and two cows that were in the barn were almost dead. Coroner Wilson said the man had been dead more than a week.

A box of groceries in his buggy returned home from the city on a shopping trip. It is believed he was kicked on the head by the animal as he was fastening it in the stall. Not having seen Norris for more than a week, Frederick Colger, a neighbor, went to his house Sunday afternoon to see of anything was the matter. Repeated knocks on the door of the house failed to arouse any one, and Colger went to the barn, where he found the bodies of the man and horse.

Norris' wife, son and daughter are now residing at Wilsonville, where they own a farm, and word has been sent to them as to the disposition of the body. It is probable that some member of the family will arrive today and arrange for the funeral. Norris and family formerly resided in this city, near the Barclay schoolhouse but about three years ago Norris bought a little place near the Abernethy, where he has since resided.

Besides his wife, Henrietta Norris, a daughter, Miss Emma, and a son, David all of Wilsonville, survive him.

N. P. SENDS FAITHFUL SERVANT HOME, CHRISTMAS

Spokane, Wash.—"Old Jimmy" Rowan, trackwalker between Umtanin and Roza, in the Yakima canyon, will pass the Christmas holidays at the home of his birth in Ireland as a guest of the Northern Pacific Railway company, in whose employ he has been for 32 years without a vacation or a layoff. He has been in central Washington since 1887, living alone in a rude shack, built of odd pieces of boards and discarded railroad ties, and has been on the track at all hours and in rain and shine. He has seen the tributary country in transformation from the sagebrush and jack-rabbit period to the day of high agricultural perfection and enjoys the friendship of scores of engine drivers, firemen and other railroad employes as well as the acquaintance of every man, woman and child for many miles around. Rowan, who is 67 years of age, recently expressed the wish of returning to his native home. His request and record were forwarded to the company's main office at St. Paul, from which word has been received that transportation will be provided. His railroad friends also made up a purse to cover his expenses while he is abroad.

HAS LOST HUMAN HEADS.

Philadelphia.—Professor George B. Gordon, director of the University of Pennsylvania Museum, has just received, through his agents in London, three human heads, which, although preserving the full contour of the features, are approximately 100 years old. They are grotesquely tattooed heads of leaders of the ancient Maori of New Zealand, who were first discovered in 1770 by the famous explorer, Captain James Cook.

Professor Gordon explained that the heads were preserved by a process of smoking them and were kept for the same reasons that the Caucasians keep pictures of their ancestors. The heads are not gruesome or revolting, even to the most sensitive and highly imaginative persons.

The faces are smooth and do not suggest human flesh any more than the face of a wax doll. The eyes are closed and the hair is well preserved. The entire face is covered with fanciful though symmetrical figures, tattooed during life. The Maori are the only tribe of the entire Polynesian race who preserved their heads, but do not tattoo their faces as did the Maori.

According to Dr. Gordon, there being only two or three known to be in existence besides the Robley collection at Columbia University, which contains nearly a score.
