MAYBE SO AND MAYBE NOT.

Seccluded Romance in the Early Life of Hatched Man on Earth.

Altoona, Pa.—Daniel J. Clark of Williamsburg told a remarkable story of John D. Rockefeller while a witness in a well-digging case at Hollidaysburg.

Mr. Clark began as a driller in 1865. At one time, when he was foreman of a drilling gang and his pay was $2 a day, he had Rockefeller in his employ, the future millionaire receiving $1.50 a day. Clark and young Rockefeller boarded at the same shanty.

Rockefeller sent every cent of his wages to a bank in Cleveland after he had paid his board. Finally one month he became ill and was sick nearly the whole month, and when pay day came he did not have enough money to pay his board, expecting of course, that under the circumstances the boarding boss would let his board go over until the next pay day. The boarding boss was a close-fisted man who steadily refused to trust any of the oil men more than one month, and when Rockefeller did not have the money to pay he immediately swore out a warrant against Rockefeller under the old poor debtors' law then in force. A constable came to the shanty to place Rockefeller under arrest. When Mr. Clark heard of the affair and offered the money, amounting to $20, the boarding boss was willing but the constable was determined to take his man before the Justice of the peace in Bradford, who had issued the warrant. The justice agreed to drop the case on payment of the board bill and the costs, the whole amount being $27.

When asked why he did not apply to Rockefeller for a pension now that he is old, Clark replied with some indignation that he was able to make a living and he would not think of turning to his friend of other days for assistance.

THINKS CASE LEPROSY. Home of Lavina Blackwell in Indianapolis Guarded by Order of Health Department.

Indianapolis, Ind.—What is declared to be a well developed case of leprosy has been discovered in this city, and the health board has called a meeting to decide what action shall be taken.

The supposed victim of the malady is Mrs. Lavina Blackwell, colored, aged 60. Three other persons, two women and a child, made their home with the patient. Guards have been stationed about the house and a strict quarantine established.

The case has been pronounced leprosy by the state bacteriologist. Few physicians at Indianapolis have had experience with leprosy and outside help probably will be called.

MAN DISCOVERS EIGHT PEARLS IN OYSTERS

Six of Them Small But Two Fully as Large as Good-Sized Pea.

New York.—Mrs. George O. Starr, wife of an embalmer, living at No. 14 South Tenth avenue, Mount Vernon, bought a quart of oysters and served them at night. Mr. Starr speared one with a fork and was about to swallow it when something rough struck the roof of his mouth.

He investigated and there, nestled on the edge of the oyster was a pearl. The rest of the oysters were found. Six of the pearls are small, but two are as large as a good-sized pea, Mrs. Starr claims the pearls because she bought the oysters.

FINDS GOLD IN GOOSE GIZZARD

Wisconsin Man's Fowl Picks Precious Metal from Sand.

New Richmond, Wis.—Although not the traditional goose that laid the golden egg, William Gross, living near here, found 75 cents worth of gold in the gizzard of a goose. It is supposed the gold came from sand the bird had eaten.

Fine baby, old Stork Time.

"She is Waiting" and so are those she is waiting on. And mind you, a good high-ball is well worth waiting for. Good, pure, wholesome Rye Whiskey, like the brands we are now selling, will make one wait patiently, but enjoy the wait when the liquid arrives—cool, comforting, and refreshing. If you are a high-ball lover, better try a bottle of this splendid Whiskey of ours. You will always want that brand afterwards. And the price will satisfy you, too.
