

OUR 24TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE

Continues Its Record Making Success

We are now in the last lap of this sweeping clearance of winter merchandise, and though thousands of dollars worth of goods have been bought by shrewd purchasers, there still remains very satisfying choice.

As the sale will continue only a few days longer we are turning our attention to the problem of clearing decks completely before the final windup.

Every day we go through the stock and carefully examine every lot. As soon as it becomes apparent that there is a possibility of a lot not moving as quickly as we wish—deeper goes the price cutter.

These specially underpriced LOTS CANNOT be advertised. If you want to secure these extraordinary values it is absolutely necessary that you visit the store daily.

PENDLETON BOY TO DEBATE WITH UTAH

(Special to the East Oregonian.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Jan. 11.—Preparations for the debate with Utah on February 3 and for the annual triangular debate with Washington and Stanford on March 29 are being projected under the supervision of Coach Leroy Johnson. The team which meets Utah debaters upon the judicial recall and the negative side of the question will be upheld by E. P. Jones of Newberg and P. C. Crockett of Pendleton. The other teams are Leon Ray of Eugene and Ralph Moores of Salem, who meet Washington and Carlton Spencer and David Pickett of Prineville, who oppose Stanford.

Much interest is being evinced in the Utah debate because of a proposal by the co-eds to give a leap year informal dance immediately following the debate. In this way it is hoped to arouse more interest in the contest.

The soldiers will be encouraged to cultivate these and profit derived from their work will be shared among the men.

A somewhat similar idea has proved very successful in Germany. There the soldiers took up the work with much interest, especially in the cultivation of fruit trees near the walls of the barracks.

THE GREATEST SUCCESSFUL CURE OF ANY CHRONIC DISEASE WITHOUT THE KNIFE.

See our patients testimony. Dec. 1st, 1911. I am glad to tell the public what the Chinese Doctor did for me. I was nearly dead suffering from abscess in the stomach and three American doctors told me there was no hope for me except an operation which I felt would kill me. So we called Dr. Leo Ching Wo and tried his medicine and in two weeks I was out of danger. Took his wonderful medicine four weeks more and am nearly well. I can cheerfully recommend his remedy to any one who is in need of a doctor, for he certainly saved my life. Mrs. Ida Herring, 215 West Alder St., Walla Walla, Washington.

We receive testimonials from our patients daily who have been cured. If you want to be cured, come and see us or if unable to come, write and enclose a two cent stamp for symptom blank. Write without delay. Address—LEO CHING WO, CHINESE MEDICINE CO., 14 E. Main St., Walla Walla, Washington.

SNAKE GOES WITHOUT MEAL SEVEN MONTHS

New York Zoological Park Keepers Amazed at a Twenty-Foot Anaconda.

New York.—Although everything has been done in the last seven months to induce Big Annie, a giant anaconda in the New York Zoological Park, to eat something, not in all that while has a morsel of food been taken by the serpent. Never before in the experience of the keepers has a snake gone such a long time without food. They are at a loss to find a reason for Big Annie's long fast. By some it is thought the snake is having a fit of stubbornness and will eventually eat a square meal.

Big Annie was sent to the Zoological Park last May by a man in Trinidad. The anaconda, which is twenty feet long and has a girth of thirty-seven inches, had been in captivity only a few weeks before being shipped to New York. She was placed in a large packing case and it was nailed up, with sufficient space between the boards to admit air. And air was all the anaconda had on the way to this city from the West Indian port. The favorite food of anaconda, as with all members of the boa family, is pig. Big Annie should have, if she gets back on her feet again, an appetite large enough to demand a fifty-pound pig. After she had been unloaded from the packing case and placed in her cage here such a delicacy was offered to her, but she refused to touch it.

From that time on at intervals pigs and other delicacies have been offered to Big Annie, but always she has stubbornly refused to eat. A month after her arrival two score or more small anacondas were born. The keepers thought that in celebration of such an event the anaconda would take nourishment. They were once more mistaken. Evidently the anaconda had left her appetite in Trinidad.

But Big Annie, while holding the record for long fasts, is not the only serpent that is saving money for the quartermaster's department in the Zoological Park. Three big pythons have not eaten anything for nearly four months. The latter, however, are about due to show their appetites and in preparation two or three forty-pound pigs are being fattened for the glorious fast-breaking.

without food for three or four months," said Snyder, "but Big Annie has us puzzled. How she keeps in condition without food is more than I can say. Anacondas are the most ill-tempered snakes alive. It may be stubbornness with Big Annie, or because she refuses to eat in captivity."

A large number of the small anacondas have been given away and a few have died.

GOLF STICK DELAYED SUES.

Man Recovers One Cent Damages Against Express Company.

New York.—One cent damages for "great anguish of mind" after having been "repeatedly beaten at golf by inferior players," was awarded to Henry W. Jessup in the municipal court. Jessup sued Edward T. Platt, treasurer of the United States Express company, for $100 damages for alleged delay in returning to him a golf stick which had been sent for repair from Montrose, Pa., to New York. Jessup is 6 feet 4 inches tall and alleged that he was unable to play well with any other stick. He also alleged that his health suffered because of his inability to play the game as he should.
