

"Nothing Succeeds Like Success" Our World of White Sale is An Unqualified Success

A Big, Whole-hearted Money Saving Event, Presenting Crisp, Fresh, New White Goods at Reductions which have seldom, if ever, been approached in Pendleton.

From the first hour of this great white event our store has been the mecca of alert, shrewd shoppers, who realize that another buying and saving opportunity such as this may not come around again for a long time.

The success this sale has attained from the very start is NOT the result of luck or haphazard price-cutting; on the contrary it is the direct effect of much hard work and planning and the expenditure of much time and money. For months before the opening day of this sale we watched the market and took advantage of every favorable circumstance.

By buying direct from manufacturers.

By buying in extraordinary large lots.

By buying for spot cash, in many instances.

By buying while the cotton market was the lowest.

—we are in a position to offer you choice of these splendid qualities, these extensive assortments and these extremely low prices.

COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF. A VISIT WILL CONVINCING YOU that this is the greatest white sale ever held in Pendleton. You can't see all of this sale by coming once, you should come every day. New things arrive by every morning's express.

$1,000,000 IN ALIMONY IS OVERDUE

Seattle, Wash.—"Any woman who leaves her husband expecting to live on alimony is embarking in a precarious undertaking," said Superior Judge Wilson B. Gay from the bench recently. "I want to make this plain here and now; alimony is a fleeting security, even at its best. I advise them to hold on to the maintenance which is real rather than to fly to risks evasive and ephemeral. I have no doubt that the court records will imony overdue and uncollected in show at least $1,000,000 worth of alimony county and these accounts would not bring five cents on the dollar. When a man loses his wife in divorce court and is loaded up with an order to pay alimony, he gets restless and uneasy and there is a strong tendency for him to seek another climate and evade the court's jurisdiction. Much time and eloquence are wasted over this alimony business that might well be saved by careful consideration of the dangers of shoal water and forbidding rocks on the divorce coast."

RESIDENCE AT EMPIRE BURNED EARLY MONDAY

Marshfield, Or.—The residence of Captain William Magee, master of the steamer Redondo of the C. A. Smith fleet, was entirely destroyed by fire at Empire. The house was owned by Miss Mullen of California and was rented by Miss Mullen of California and was rented furnished by Captain Magee. The loss on the house was $2500. For a time a part of the residence section of Empire was threatened with destruction, but the entire population turned out and fought the fire and a favorable wind prevented the flames spreading.

LA GRANDE MAN LOST IN HILLS, PROBABLY DEAD

La Grande, Ore.—Posses of ranchers and foothill residents are combing the dense forests out from the Red Apple orchard near Mt. Emily for a young man named Roy Crandall who early Saturday morning lost his bearings while inspecting his traps and has not been heard of or seen since. It is generally conceded that he has died from exhaustion and cold and his body probably devoured by predatory animals which are known to have their habitate in that vicinity. A large force of men are today searching the district for further trace of the young man but friends and those interested are resigned to the belief that Crandall is already dead, and if alive, will need relief to sustain life over night.

WEALTHY WANT SUNDAY SHAVE

Des Moines.—The organization of What A. M. Hubbell calls the "Million Dollar Tonsorial Club" was announced here, simultaneously with the filing of a petition with the city council asking that it be allowed to operate. The purpose of the club is to provide the means by which its members may have their heads removed by real tonsorial artists on Sunday morning, without danger of breaking a state law.

AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum.
Interesting program for Tuesday's change:

1. "Vivagraph Monthly of Current events." "Bobble" Leach going over Niagara Falls in a barrel is the leading feature a hitherto unaccomplished achievement. Admiral Togo of the Japanese navy on his visit to America, Atwood, the great aviator in the unprecedented flying trip from St. Louis to New York, Miss Rose Pitney, sixteen years old, in her swim of 21 miles, the opening of the Coney Island public bath house. These and other great occurrences will spread an animated newspaper before the public eye.

2. "The Awakening of John Bond." Edison. An interesting drama that tells a story of city life. A picture every one should see. It not only teaches a lesson in hygiene but is a dramatic story of pleasing interest of vital importance because of the topic with which it deals and a masterpiece from an educational standpoint.

3. "A Bear Hunt Romance." Pathé. The American drama. Beautiful scenery and good acting makes this a picture worth seeing.

4. "Getting Even With Emily." Essanay. This picture shows how a man got even with his wife, when she neglected him for a poodle dog.

5. "Stray Bullets." Essanay. A young boy is made a present of a rifle. He sets up a target in front of an apartment house. He seldom hits the target but causes a panic in the apartment building.

The Pastime.
The home of good pictures. A classy program for Tuesday's change.

No. 1. "His Last Cent." Vitagraph. Featuring "Maurice Costell." His last cent proves a lucky penny, and brings good fortune and a wife to an unfortunate and deserving young man.

No. 2. "A Girlish Impulse." Lubin. How a fair maid foiled the wicked plans of a disappointed lover and was happily united with the man of her heart.

No. 3. "Lost in the Arctic." Selig. A thrilling tale of the far north. Pictured by the natives themselves in far off Labrador.

No. 4. "Poisoned Arrows." American Pathé. The medicine man decides her fate.

No. 5. "French Cuirassiers' Maneuvers." C. G. P. C. An interesting film of army life.

No. 6. "Noted Men." Selig. Showing intimate views of James G. Sherman, Joseph W. Bailey, Champ Clark and Joseph G. Cannon.

Musical program for Tuesday:

No. 1—My Pony Boy two step, C. O. O. Donnell.

No. 2—Beautiful Eyes, Ted Snyder.

No. 3—Down Among the Sugar Cane, two step, Mack and Smith.

No. 4—I Wish I Had a Girl, G. Le Boy.

No. 5—Indian Love Song, two step, Jos. E. Howard.

The Cosy.
If any one in Pendleton misses hearing Chas. H. Hampton, the convict lecturer, the favorite speaker of our western America, and seeing his pictures depicting the actual everyday life of both men and women convicts at the Cosy theater tonight and Tuesday, they will miss the rarest treat ever presented to our Pendleton people.

His pictures (the only authentic ones ever shown to the public) and his lecture are in themselves a lesson, but his plea alone to the boys in behalf of the fathers and mothers is worth many times the price of admission. His work is certainly in accord with the teachings of every parent and is evidenced by the packed houses and enormous patronage which he so deservedly merits.

Pendleton will undoubtedly see to it that at least the boy will get the benefit of the experience which the convict has so dearly bought. Rules and punishment especially, the whipping post, are only a few of the subjects lectured on, and all are of intense interest. The departments of this justly famous prison, showing 1680 prisoners in convict stripes and the daily lives while kept in subjection, confinement and at work in their different departments, give one an accurate idea of convict life and results in a lesson to our boys we cannot afford to have them miss.

This lecture is given practically free in addition to the regular picture program and at the regular price of admission.

At the Grand.

"An Artist's Model" is taking well and the song numbers are the best ever seen here. Bates & Bates in "By the moss covered well, Dear Estelle," assisted by full chorus was a decided hit. The beautiful ballad, "Mother," sung by Miss Gladys Vall assisted by the chorus drew many encores. The company is being strengthened tonight by the addition of another member to the company. New specialties and numbers will be added to the bill again tonight and Wednesday night. Thursday night the Austin company will produce the great western melodrama, "The Midnight Express." This is one of the best bills ever produced on any stage in the west. It was presented by Mr. Austin in Salt Lake, Utah, September last and it drew so well the management of the Majestic theater kept the "Midnight Express" running for another week. The company has been working hard on this bill for the last two weeks and will
