SPOKANE FIRE CHIEF ONCE DEFEATED GOTCH

Spokane, Wash.—Albert L. Weeks, who has just received the appointment as chief of the Spokane fire department, succeeding A. Harry Myers, resigned, hammered all fistic ambition out of Frank Gotch, champion wrestler, in a 12-round bout at the Spokane Amateur Athletic club the night of September 23, 1905. The battle was declared a draw by Eddie Quinn, referee, who had been instructed to call it even if both men were on their feet at the close of the twelfth round. It was Weeks' last fight.

The fireman started in wildly, but soon settled down to business and fought the pride of Iowa to a standstill. Gotch was floored by a terrific swing in one of the early rounds and stalled during the rest of the bout to avoid punishment and earn a draw.

Mark Shaughnessy, widely known in sporting circles in California and along the Pacific coast who trained Weeks, looked upon the fireman as championship material. He showed class in boxing stunts with "Bob" Fitzsimmons and "Jim" Jeffries and once was matched to fight "Doc" Rolter, but the authorities would not sanction the mill. Friends prevailed upon Weeks to quit the fighting game and work for something better. At that time he was a member of the fire department, working on the ladder wagon. He earned rapid promotion from the ranks and later became secretary to Chief Myers.

Weeks was one of the best semi-professional ball players in this part of the northwest eight or nine years ago. He played first base, fielded in big league style, was a heavy hitter and fast as a runner. He played with the Northwestern leaguers on numerous occasions and made good, but could not be induced to quit the hook and ladder wagon for the professional diamond game.

Weeks was born at Salem, Ore., 34 years ago, and has been connected with the Spokane fire department since 1898.

FLYING MAN RESCUED GIRL FROM DROWNING

Child Floating Toward Fall Grasps
Bars of Plane Whizzing Past.

Thompsonville, Conn.—What is believed to be the first rescue from drowning by aeroplane occurred a mile south of this village. The circumstances surrounding the rescue are most spectacular.

Pora Pease, a 6-year-old child, while returning from kindergarten, stopped a few minutes to watch men harvesting ice on the Connecticut river. Two large cakes of ice attracted her attention and, seating herself upon them, the little one began to amuse herself by propelling them along the frozen surface of the river.

Suddenly the ice cutters were aroused by a loud splash and a child's screams and were horrified to see the child seated on an ice cake floating rapidly down the river toward the Enfield falls, 150 feet away. An attempt to rescue her child by means of a long rope failed. Several of the men ran along the banks of the river and one of them, throwing off his heavy boots, sprang after her. The cold water forced him to abandon the attempt, however, and in a few minutes the child was within a few feet of the roaring falls, thirty feet in height.

The attention of the panic stricken men were attracted from the child in her perilous position by a whizzing above them as Charles S. Jenkins, a shoe repairer and amateur aviator, swept down from the sky to the west and over the river. The ice cutters attracted his attention to the child who seemed to them to be at the very brink of the falls. The child's attention had also been attracted to the aeroplane which was swooping down upon her and she waved her hands and screamed to the aviator. As the machine passed over the cakes of ice the child made a leap and a wild clutch, grasping a cross support far below the engine and was lifted to the seat by Jenkins.

Just as the child leaped the ice reached the brink of the falls and fell to the surging water below, minus its victim. The machine was brought to earth on the shore of the river and the little girl taken to her home.

THE FATNESS OF HEALTH.

Simose Fills Out the Curves and Makes Thin People Fat.

If you are thin, your health is not it should be. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that should be attended to at once. You cannot be healthy and strong if you are thin.

Perfect health and good, solid beautiful flesh can only come through the use of Simose, the remarkable flesh forming food.

This makes the thin and scrawny, plump and robust. It mixes with the food so that all of the elements that make solid bone firm muscle and good flesh are thoroughly assimilated and retained in the system.

Simose is not a drug or a stimulant; it is a scientific flesh forming food that restores thin people to a normal condition of good healthy flesh.

These statements are confirmed by Koeppen & Bros. who offer to refund the money to anyone buying and using Simose who does not gain in weight as promised. The risk is all Koeppens. The thin and scrawny can buy Simose at drugist Koeppen & Bros. store, with the knowledge that if it is not successful it will cost absolutely nothing.

HUNDRED GUNNERS WILL SLAUGHTER JACK RABBITS

Spokane, Wash.—One hundred and fifty gunners, carriers and drivers, armed with double-barrel shot guns, a ton of ammunition and pikas, will start for Marshall, Wash., early the morning of February 18 to participate in the first annual jackrabbit shoot arranged by the Inland Empire Game Protection and Propagation association. John T. Little and J. S. Craig, who have been chosen captains of the teams, will station men along the right of way of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway, driving toward Cheney. The game bagged will be presented to the Salvation Army. The gunner making the best individual score during the day will receive a medal, while the team scoring the least points is to entertain the victors at a banquet. It is purposed to continue the drives with the assistance of orchardists and farmers in the various districts until the intermountain country is cleared of rabbits, which have damaged crops for many years. The rabbit drive is to be followed soon by an organized battle against coyotes.
