News Notes of Pendleton

One Marriage License.

A marriage license was issued late yesterday afternoon to Hersel L. Shaw and Maude Young, both of this city.

Local Lady Gets Divorce.

Circuit Judge G. W. Phelps this morning granted a divorce to Effie Laing, wife of Arthur Laing, on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Laing is a resident of this city but her husband has been living in Spokane for some time past.

Mrs. Hartman Worse; Son Leaves.

George A. Hartman, Jr., left last night for Portland in response to a telephone message from his father stating that his mother was seriously ill. She suffered a stroke of paralysis a few weeks ago and it is supposed by friends here that her present illness has resulted from that shock.

Severs Artery in Wrist.

Barney Anderson, well known farmer north of the city, is wearing his hand in a sling today owing to an accident yesterday while he was repairing machinery. He sustained a cut on the left wrist so deep that one of the arteries was severed.

Project Boomers to Meet Monday.

Secretary Keefe of the Commercial association has been notified of a meeting to be held in Echo Monday for the purpose of discussing the proposed irrigation ditch from Barnhart out into the Prospect Farm country. All interested in the project are invited to be present and participate in the discussion.

Architect's Assistant Here.

George W. Root, who will represent his brother during the building of the new high school, has arrived in the city with his bride of three days and has rented the Roy Alexander residence for a couple of months. His brother is an architect and is connected with the company which is to build the school building.

Smallpox Prevents Revivals.

Rev. E. W. Warrington has been compelled to postpone again the series of evangelistic meetings to be held at Pilot Rock, on account of some new cases of smallpox. Rev. W. L. Van Nuy and Miss Grace Allen were ready to come, but have been asked to wait on this account. The people have not been able to meet at all on Sabbath for services.

Teachers' Training Class.

Much interest is being shown in the teachers' training class for Sabbath school teachers which is being taught weekly on Thursday evenings at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church. Fifteen at present are taking the course and most with the hope of obtaining their diplomas when they finish. The class is just finishing the first section of book one. Others may start at the next section. Workers from any church are invited to take the course.

Echo Defeats Pendleton.

A Pendleton basketball team, composed mostly of high school students but not representing any institution, went to Echo last night and met defeat at the hands of the heavy team of that city by the score of 38 to 12. The game was extremely rough, according to the local boys, but they admit that the Echo players have a good team. Houser played center for the Pendleton team, Strain and McDonald forwards, Ferguson and Finnell guards while Kirkpatrick acted as substitute and Sturdivant as referee.

Baseball Game Tomorrow.

Baseball seems to have begun in earnest here in Pendleton for another game has been scheduled to take place tomorrow between the Hawthorne school and the Pendleton Business College. The contest will occur on Matlock field on West court street at 1:30 o'clock and promises to be a fast one. The opposing batteries will be Hendricks and Hatcherell for the business college and Gillette and Passco for the school. Passco is a colored boy and is said to be a wizard at the game.

Elks Get Out Nifty Window Cards.

The windows of the business houses of the city took on fancy decorations this morning when the Elks inserted their fancy hand painted cards announcing their big minstrel show next Thursday and Friday evening. The work is from the pen of Jack Vincent and depicts in a humorous way the different members of the cast in their gorgeous array of charcoal and loud clothes. Great interest is being aroused over the approaching event and there promises to be a big patronage of both performances. The last rehearsal with full orchestra will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Elks' club rooms and the entire cast is requested to be present.

Grand Theater Reopens.

Tonight the Grand Theater, Pendleton's popular vaudeville house, will reopen its doors after being dark for a week. Miss Kate Nugebauer, formerly manager of the playhouse, has again taken up the reins of management which fact alone assures entertainments worthy of patronage. Tonight she presents a military sketch in which a leading part is taken by a trumpeter who played a prominent role in a real war drama. He was stationed with the 14th infantry in China during the Boxer uprising and got his name in the dispatches by the bravery he displayed at that time. A bit of romance was injected into this real drama too, for he met his present wife at that time, she having been visiting her aunt who was a missionary among the heathen Chinese.

Sues to Collect Account.

CONVERTS TO BE BAPTIZED TONIGHT

The interest in the revival at the Baptist church was unabated last night. The crowds have been increasingly large at every service. Again last night there were those who sat on the edge of the platform. Mr. Evans, the evangelist, took for a subject the preparation to meet God. There were as many men if not more men in the audience than women. There were several professions at the close. There will be baptism at tonight's service.

KATE AND KITE.

The Rev. R. J. Campbell was discussing the English accent at a dinner in Philadelphia. "Our worst accent," he said, pushing back his snow white hair, "is the Cockney one—the one that turns you know, 'make haste' into 'make 'isic,' and so on." "I once engaged two maid servants. One was a Devonian, the other a Cockney. They were both named Catherine, but that fact caused no confusion in my household. I simply called the Devon girl Kate and the Cockney Kite and they always knew whom I was addressing."—Philadelphia Record.

CITIZENS OF ADAMS ARE REAL LIVE ONES

LEAD IN CO-OPERATION WITH COUNTY OFFICIALS OF SCHOOLS

Inaugurate Plan to Introduce Practical Industrial Courses in Public School and Work is Now Well Under Way.

The little town of Adams is taking the lead over all communities of the county in cooperating with state and county school officials and the directors of the local fair in promoting industrial work among the school children. Due to the active interest taken in the innovation by G. O. Richardson and other live wires of the little town, industrial work has been taken up under six different heads, the children listed in three divisions and entertainments are being arranged to provide funds for premiums. At a recent meeting of the school board, superintendents of the new line of work appointed as follows: Major J. F. Wallan, carpentering; Principal Yule McDaniels, gardening; Miss Matie Murphy, needlework; Miss Barnes, cooking; Mrs. M. E. Stockton, housework, and Postmaster G. O. Richardson, poultry raising. The boys under Mr. Richardson have already organized the Poultry Association of the Adams Schools, of which Hobart Peringer is president, Edwin Stockton, secretary and Dan McIntyre treasurer.

Mr. Richardson is in the city today and declares the children are manifesting a keen interest in the new department of work and that there is not one who is not enlisted in some one of the industrial courses. The parents, too, are beginning to be interested and Mr. Richardson asserts that the Adams school pupils will be in the running for their share of the $500 in premiums to be given by the fair board. On Wednesday evening a basket social will be held as the first entertainment for the raising of funds to encourage the new work.

STEAMER HITS ROCK AND FRIGHTENS PASSENGERS

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—With twenty-five passengers aboard the steamer Port Bragg this morning struck the rocks at Point Arena, as it hugged the coast in a heavy fog and stove a big hole in its side. The passengers, thinking the ship was sinking, fled to the decks wildly. A wireless was sent to San Francisco and the tug Sea Rover rushed to its aid and towed it into port.
