Too Giddy at 70.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Robert Aspinwall, 70 years old, took out a license to marry Mrs. Mary Pope, 60, but before the prospective bride would sign her name to the application she turned to her aged wooer and asked: "Robert, are you willing to keep your promise that you will not run around nights after we are married?"

When he had promised Mrs. Pope explained to the marriage license clerk:

"I have been married twice before, and my other husbands used to wander from their own firesides. I am getting a little old now and I don't propose to be alone at night."

Mr. Aspinwall said that he also had been married twice before and said he didn't care to run around much any more.

Fed Peanuts to Leopard.

Macon, Ga.—Edward Schweitzer, a demonstrator for a fire apparatus company went to Central City park on business and while there he sought to feed peanuts to a leopard that is a part of a circus wintering here. Before he could withdraw his hand from between the bars, the leopard had seized upon it, like a piece of meat, and bit it off at the wrist. The injury was a particularly severe one and caused Schweitzer much suffering and loss of blood.

HOLDS POSITION FIFTY YEARS.

Indiana Man Remains With the Monon Road Since '61.

Bloomington, Ill.—Theodore Thrasher, 76 years old, of Monroe county, assisted in building the Monon railroad through the county in the 50's and has been continuously in the employ of the road since that time.

He is now station agent at Smithville, and in the more than sixty years he has been with the road he has missed but two weeks of duty, and that was in 1899, when he was suffering from erysipelas.

Thrasher laid cross-ties and drove spikes on the road, which was the first built through the county. When the road was finally completed he was appointed station agent at Smithville, and he has held that position believed it reflects his present views.

At the age of 76 he fills the office with ease, and is yet hale and hearty.

URGES CHLOROFORM INSTEAD OF HANGING

Warden of Baltimore Prison Says It Could Be Used in Cell Without Show.

Baltimore.—That death by the administration of chloroform would be an excellent substitute for hanging in the punishment of persons convicted of murder was the suggestion made by Warden Weyler of Baltimore to the committee of Maryland legislators who inspected the penitentiary. Warden Weyler opposed the infliction of the death penalty in any form and advanced the chloroform idea as probably the most painless method of capital punishment. He suggested that the punishment could be inflicted in the cell of the condemned man without any of the spectacular features usually surrounding executions.

The idea seemed to impress individual members of the committee forcibly. There is now before the legislature a bill to do away with hanging and to substitute electrocution. The bill provides, however, that the place of execution shall be in the penitentiary instead of at the city jail and against this Warden Weyler advanced urgent reasons.

MOTHER STARTS ON JOURNEY; BABIES SLEEP AT DOOR

Sends Two Children Out for Candy, Telling Them She is "Going to Heaven"—Found by Police.
New York.—Mrs. Mary Golden dressed her two small children in their best clothes and sent them out with 5 cents each to buy candy, telling them not to hurry back, as she was "going to heaven."
The two little tots were found locked in each other's arms, fast asleep, in front of the door of the Golden apartment, nobody having responded to their continued calls to be let in. The reason for the silence was revealed when the door was forced open and the mother was found dying on the kitchen floor, in her mouth a tube connecting with the gas range. She had been depressed for two months because of poor health.

a bird—bird's eggs being admitted free of duty and hen's eggs having to pay five cents a dozen—it is now up to the postoffice department to settle a momentous question arising from the ownership of eggs laid in the mails.

The National Association of Poultry breeders, anticipating the passage of the parcels post bill, recently inquired of Postmaster General Hitchcock if poultry might be sent through the mail. In an unofficial statement the department answered that should the parcels post measure be enacted, there would probably be no objection to shipping the fowls, stamped. The postmaster general, however, was of the opinion that some one would have to be delegated to look out for the well being of the "perishable mail" and then some one raised the question of the ownership of the eggs laid by the hens while in Uncle Sam's care.

Would they belong to the sender of the hens; to the receiver of the hens, or to the government?

There not being any legislation already enacted upon the subject, the postmaster general delegated Jesse Suter, chief of the bureau of information of the postoffice department to look into the matter. Jesse, after several days spent in a vain search through dusty tomes on postal laws and regulations, has about decided to give up the job, for he says there are no precedents. Therefore, it will be up to the courts to decide the ownership of any offspring of the fowls.

Like the freight agent in Ellis Parker Butler's "Pigs Is Pigs," Suter thinks the eggs ought to be given to the mail clerks or be confiscated by the government as an aid in further decreasing the deficit which is the bugbear of the department.
