NEARLY EVERY STATE OFFICE IS SOUGHT

FIVE ELECTORAL TRIPS ARE YET TO BE ASKED

Candidates in Plenty File Petitions With Secretary of State to Be Entered in Primary contests for Various Places. Salem, Or., Feb. 19.—Nineteen days from today is the last day on which candidates for state and district offices may file with the secretary of state and be entitled to have campaign material in the voters' pamphlet.

There are 25 state and district offices for which nominations will be made at the primaries April 13 and of these only five offices have democratic aspirants.

To date democratic filings are confined to the district attorneyships of Fourth judicial district, which is Multnomah county, department 4, district attorney Eighth judicial district, which is Baker county; district attorney, Ninth judicial district, comprising Grant, Harney and Malheur counties; circuit judge Eighth judicial district.

In only one instance have the democratic candidates, thus far, any opposition within their own party. This is for the circuit judgeship of the Eighth district, Baker county, for which office there are three democratic aspirants and only one republican.

Multnomah Men Not Shy.

The most sought offices by the republicans are the United States senatorship, district attorneyship for Multnomah county, and circuit judgeship, department 4, Multnomah county. Three republicans have filed for the senatorship, five for the district attorneyship and six for department 4 judgeship.
