O. A. C. GLEE CLUB WELL APPRECIATED

COLLEGE TROUPE PROVES HIGH CLASS ORGANIZATION

Large Audience Applauds Performance—Russell Is Star With Scotch Monologues—Club Members Entertained With Dance by Local Alumni.

(By E. B. Aldrich, '00.) Before a large and well pleased audience at the Oregon theater last evening the O. A. C. glee and mandolin clubs made good the fine predictions sent forth in their behalf and reflected much credit upon the name of the agricultural college.

Considering the fact that all his men are amateurs and that many of them are freshmen, Professor William Frederic Gaskins, director, has developed a wonderful organization, indeed. There are excellent and well trained voices in the glee club. There are some who have had little voice training. But the glee club shows good handling. The voices blend splendidly and the club sings with a precision—or whatever it may be—that produces fine results—to say the least.

On the glee club program the big numbers were "Comrades in Arms," "The Barcarollo," from "Tales of Hoffman," "Blue Danube" and "On the Sea." All of these numbers were excellently given and with the music lovers present were in themselves well worth going to hear. The encores by the glee club were light and humorous and brought forth particular applause.

The mandolin club is a large one and had an important part upon the program. With many the mandolin club did not make the hit that was scored by the glee club, yet it is truthful to say the mandolins were well appreciated. "The Spring Maid" was the most popular number by the mandolinists.

Raymond E. Coursen of Portland, accompanist for the glee club rendered a piano selection from Chopin that was immensely appreciated and the same was true of his encore, Mr. Coursen is of a musical family and is an extremely valuable member of the O. A. C. troupe.

The "bright particular star," however, is Mr. Henry W. Russell, "The Wee Brae Laddie," who gave Scotch monologues. Russell is amateurish, yet he has plenty of stage confidence and he enjoys to sing. He has a fine appearance and a good singing voice. The only regret last evening was that he did not sing more.

In the final number on the program the collegians assemble in their school togs and with mandolin accompaniment, render a number of songs, ending up with "The Star Spangled Banner," with the flowing stars and stripes in evidence. It was a particularly appropriate number last evening owing to the fact yesterday was Washington's birthday. It is also worthy of note that the audience stood while the national air was given—a patriotic courtesy local audiences sometimes overlook.

Following the program last night the members of the glee and mandolin clubs were the guests of honor at a dancing party given in the Eagles-Woodmen hall with the local O. A. C. alumni as the hosts. Music was furnished by the United Orchestra and students and a large number of local people present enjoyed themselves until midnight.

It's natural for all military and naval officers to want a big army and navy.

IRRIGATIONISTS NAME MANY UMATILLA MEN

MARRINER VICE PRESIDENT AND HINKLE SECRETARY

Echo Men Elected Members of Executive and Legislative Committees of State Irrigation Congress—West Extension Plan Commended.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 23.—Demanding protection of the settler, elimination of the "water hog," instruction of the new arrival in irrigation methods and greater vigilance on the part of all officials charged with duties in connection with reclamation work, the first Oregon Irrigation Congress adjourned, following election of the permanent officers.

William Hanley of Burns, is president; C. C. Chapman of Portland, first vice president; W. J. Marriner of Umatilla, second vice president; M. D. Lee of Albany, third vice-president and J. T. Hinkle of Hermiston, secretary. No date or place for the next meeting was fixed, but this duty is to be worked out by the executive committee. The two standing committees upon whom will devolve much of the intervening work are: Executive—A. B. Thompson, of Echo; W. S. Worden, of Klamath Falls; J. H. Brewer of Redmond;

Walter H. Burrell of Portland; Geo. Chandler of Baker City; H. C. Ellis of Bend and George Dukek of Condon.

Legislative committee for both federal and state work—W. Lair Thompson, of Lakeview; Leon J. Chapman, Ontario; J. C. Hoskins of Echo; William King of Prineville, and William M. Conyig of Medford.

Resolutions were adopted expressing appreciation of what was understood to be the president's purpose of granting Oregon greater recognition in her allotment of reclamation funds and commending the plan reported by Engineer E. P. Hopson for adoption of 30,000 acres of the Umatilla West Extension project. Another resolution urged the federal government to appropriate $15,000,000 a year for some time in reclamation work, to get the arid lands in shape for occupancy, and out of this giving Oregon a fair share. The board of control was commended for its good work in adjusting titles to water and distributing the flow of streams fairly among the farmers dependent upon them for sustenance. Another resolution appealed for greater control of the settlers themselves in all phases of reclamation work, giving them the maximum voice in expenditures which they ultimately are compelled to pay. An urgent appeal was issued to the state to adopt such a law as that known in Kansas as the "sky blue law" for protection against fraudulent promoters.

Strength comes from well digested and thoroughly assimilated food. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the digestive organs, and thus builds up the strength. If you are getting "run down," begin taking Hood's at once. It gives nerve, mental and digestive strength.
