PILOT ROCK HAS COMMERCIAL CLUB

E. B. CASTEEL, PRESIDENT;
REV. WARRINGTON, SEC'Y

Majority of Officers of Newly Organized Boosters' Association Are Young Men, Who Started Movement for Combination.

With enthusiasm rampant among the large attendance, the Pilot Rock Commercial club was last night ushered into being and the following officers were elected to guide the destinies of the young booster organization: E. B. Casteel, president; Rev. E. W. Warrington, secretary, and G. W. Done, Dr. Fred A. Lueallen and L. C. Scharp, members of the executive committee.

As will be seen from the personnel of the officers, the new club has been given into the custody of the younger business element of the little town, which element was in fact responsible for the meeting which led to organization of the business men and farmers into a working body. President Casteel is also mayor of the town and in his combined positions is expected to be a prominent factor in the new development of the town.

The meeting was called to order by ex-County Judge T. P. Gilliland and the only speeches which were made preliminary to the actual work of organizing were delivered by Secretary J. E. Keefe of the local Commercial association and James P. Neal, city attorney of Freewater. These two men by their past experience with booster organizations were able to make many helpful suggestions and their remarks were greatly appreciated by the home people. Besides being of assistance to the meeting in the work of organization, Messrs. Keefe and Neal also provided entertainment for the assembly with several songs.

While the Commercial club as organized last night is only temporary, it is expected that a permanent organization will be perfected some time soon with the same officers.

U. S. PREPARES TO INTERVENE

It is generally believed here that the naming of Senor Trevino, as provisional head of the government, was done solely for the purpose of compelling the United States government to recognize the serious stage of the revolt and intervene in the trouble.

Senor Gonzalez Enrile, a prominent member of the scientific party today, according to dispatches which have been received here, freely admits that he wrote the manifesto and declares that it is a truthful portrayal of the ideas of the greater mass of Mexican citizens.

It is expected that the rebels will attack Juarez early next week and it is almost a foregone conclusion that the city will fall and become revolutionary headquarters, unless the United States intervenes.

Mail advices received here today confirm previous reports of a battle between federals and rebels last Sunday at San Pedro, in which the insurgents lost 275 killed.

Much speculation and apprehension regarding the fate of a party of American refugees, among whom is Miss Nellie Wilson, daughter of Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, is manifest here today. According to reports here, the party today reached Pearson, an American settlement in the state of Chihuahua and will probably arrive in El Paso tonight.

Troops Ordered Out.

Washington, Feb. 24.—General Wood has telegraphed to the commandant of Fort Sam Houston orders to send a regiment of infantry and a battery of field artillery, immediately to El Paso to protect American interests.

JUDGE'S SONS WERE DUMMIES

misses for Ross and that Judge Gilbert stopped them and made them refund the money which Ross had advanced.

In San Francisco Judge Gilbert admitted that his children did this but said they did so unwittingly.

Admits Children's Crime.

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—Admitting that his son and daughters had acted as dummy entrymen for J. Thorburn Ross, Judge Gilbert today said his land fraud decision was only in line with a previous supreme court decision and that it did not change the law a particle and could not possibly affect the Ross case.

ITALIANS BOMBARD A TURKISH SEAPORT

London, Feb. 24.—Dispatches from Beyrout say three Italian warships started a bombardment today. Shells bursting in principal sections of the city killed many and most of the population fled. Much fear is expressed for the safety of many foreigners there who stop en route to Jerusalem. The population of the port is 20,000.

SLEEVE OVER THE FINGERS.

London.—A woman's mode, which was highly popular in medieval days, is shortly to be revived. It is that of wearing the sleeve well down over the hand, so that only the fingers are left revealed.

At the wedding of Miss Dagmar Wiehe, the pretty actress, to Major Edward Finch-Hatton, the bride wore no gloves, but the sleeves of her dress came down well over the hands—dressing in a point.

A court dressmaker declares that it is highly probable the early English long sleeve will become popular again, adding that a woman must have very fine, shapely hands for the long sleeve to be a success. The long sleeve looks best if finished with a point coming down to the middle finger.

Suitcase Stolen from Squaw.

While Mrs. Van Pelt, a well known Indian woman, was returning to her home on the reservation last evening, her suitcase was stolen from the back of her hack on the road between St. Anthony's hospital and the upper bridge. A man walking along the road snatched it from the rig and made a quick getaway. The squaw drove back to the city and notified the police, but, though they searched all of the jungles, they were unsuccessful in finding the culprit.

Golden Rule Merchant Back.

A. D. Frost, manager of the local Golden Rule Store, returned yesterday from a six weeks eastern trip made for the purpose of purchasing a new stock of clothing. It is the custom of the big syndicate to send the managers of its different stores to New York twice a year in order to make their own selection of supplies and it was in accordance with this custom that Mr. Frost went east. He was accompanied on the trip by his wife.

'The Brownies' Band.

They are now hard at work on rehearsals and by Thursday evening will be ready to give all those who attend a peep into a real and beautiful fairyland where fairies play and brownies dance and a tiny fairy queen rules over all.

Others are expected from Warm Spring reservation on No. 18 this afternoon.

Former Teacher Coming Back.

James H. E. Scott, formerly a teacher in Umatilla county schools and later in the government employ in the Philippine Islands, is coming back to this county a lawyer. According to a letter received from him by County School Superintendent Welles today, he will finish his law course in Chicago university this spring and will arrive in Pendleton some time in July.

Would Go To Convention.

Major Lee Moorhouse is today circulating the petition of O. C. Applegate of Klathath who aspires to be a delegate to the national republican convention. Applegate will be remembered here as the supervisor of census who came to Pendleton to secure the enumerating of the Indians on the reservation when Chief No Shirt and some of his followers stirred up a rebellion against furnishing the desired information.

New Teacher and New Director.

County School Superintendent Welles has been notified of the selection of a new teacher and a new director in the Athena school district. Charles A. Guerne has been appointed to the high school faculty to take the place of Frank W. Turner who has been called east by business matters and E. E. Koontz has been chosen to the board of directors vice S. F. Wilson who recently changed his residence to Portland.

DESPERADO MAKES WIFE AND BABY PRISONERS

Los Angeles, Feb. 24.—After eluding the officers for six weeks, in the Santa Monica hills where he fled after an alleged attempt to kill his wife, Trabisco Gonzales, a ranch hand, returned to his home near Lankershim today, bound and gagged his wife, threw her into a light wagon, beside her sick infant whom he had torn from her breast and again headed for the hills. Three posses of police in autos are following from Hollywood. Officers say he has a secret hiding place which they can't find. The woman's fate is troubling them.

BOTH LOCAL TEAMS WIN AT BASKETBALL

Pendleton high school basketball teams won two victories last night, one in Pendleton and one in La Grande. The girls' team defeated the Wabburg high school co-eds by an 8 to 6 score while the boys outclassed the quintet of La Grande high school in a 27-19 game.

The local game, while not quite so exciting as the recent fray with the Walla Walla girls, was a fast one and kept the spectators interested throughout. The outcome was in the balance throughout for the teams were evenly matched. In the first half the visitors had the better of the argument, having made a total of six points to the home girls four. But in the second half the locals outplayed their opponents in every department of the game. In fact the ball was not in Wabburg territory but three or four times during this canto, and as a result, four points were added to the Pendleton score, while the Wabburgers drew a blank.

Ella LaZinka, one of the Pendleton centers, was the bright star of the game, while Muriel Saling, the clever little forward, though playing a good game, had hard luck at free throwing.

The Pendleton score was made by three field baskets and two converted fouls, while the visitors made their total up with one field goal and four fouls.

No details of the La Grande game were to be had on account of wire troubles occasioned by the storms in the mountains although the dispatch which gave the final result characterized the contest as a fast one. Tonight the boys will play the Union high school team and will return home tomorrow.

YOUTH AT WAR WITH BILLIONAIRE FATHER

Berlin.—The question, "Is $30,000 a year enough for a young man to live on?" sums up the controversy which is going on between August Thyssen, $1,000,000,000 steel magnate and his eldest son. The father, who is known as King Thyssen, thinks it is, but his son doesn't.

The son, who is serving a sentence for dueling in the Fortress of Madeburg, was adjudged a bankrupt some time ago, his liabilities amounting to $3,750,000, consisting principally of loans incurred in the course of luxurious life in Berlin. Herr Thyssen notified the creditors that he would pay all legitimate claims if his son would renounce any further right to his inheritance and declare himself satisfied with $30,000 a year. In a letter published to day the son says: "What would I do with $30,000? I don't need more than $3000, but that I should give up my right as heir to yourself and my mother is
