JUDGE LOWELL RAPS U. S. SUPREME COURT

DECLARES FIVE MEMBERS RULE ENTIRE COUNTRY Asserts Manifest Dissatisfaction of Country Is As Yet Subordinate to Reverence for Bench—Predicts a Change.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 24.—Judge Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton, in an address delivered at the annual banquet of the Sons of the American Revolution at the Hotel Multnomah, criticized the judicial arm of the government as being the "national fetish." He declared that the legislative and executive departments of the government have become subordinate to the judicial department, and maintained that the nation is now in fact governed by five men—a majority of the members of the United States court. The speaker said also that the same circumstance holds good as regards the power of the supreme court of the several states.

"We are dissatisfied with the judicial system," continued Judge Lowell, "and yet our reverence for it makes us too timid to reform it and to restore it to its constitutional place. It must be done, however, and be done by friendly hands, or after us

JUST TRY A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCARETS

Insures You for Months Against a Stick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation or a Bad Stomach.

Put aside—just for once—the salts, cathartic pills, castor oils or purgative waters which merely force a passage through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, sour stomach or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

may come the deluge."

Outlines Reform Plans.

In outlining a possible method of reform, Judge Lowell emphasized these seven provisions: That judges throw off their aloofness and mingle as citizens with the people; that free justice be provided; that courts sit at intervals and at convenient places; that public defenders, as well as public prosecutors, be provided in criminal cases; that technicalities of procedure be wiped away; that legislation by the courts be abolished and that unanimous decision of the supreme court be necessary to declare an act of congress unconstitutional.

Howard W. Harrington spoke on "The Spirit of Washington," and laid stress on his opinion that the acts and deeds of Washington should be more generally understood as typifying his real spirit, rather than the common sentiment that he was "father of the country" and "hero" of a fanciful cherry tree incident.

Mr. Harrington reviewed briefly the early history of the United States and spoke of the struggles of the American people and their hard won victories in leading up to his closing conclusion that "the keynote of American patriotism is simply that the American people have in themselves that they are able at any and all times to successfully solve the greatest problems that may at any time require solution."

Important Problems.

"We have never yet attempted to solve any important problem in advance of the proper time for its solution," said Mr. Harrington, "but when the time has come, or when it does come, the sober, solemn, second thought of the mass of the people will determine the most satisfactory decisions."

Mr. Harrington said that certain conditions are allowed to continue for some time because they are of benefit to the country at large, but that as soon as such conditions overreach themselves and react to the detriment of the people, then these people take upon themselves the task of righting the wrongs. Mr. Harrington referred to railroad companies, the steel corporation and other big enterprises as examples of this truth.

Wallace McCamant was toastmaster at the banquet. D. Solis Cohen and General T. M. Anderson were the speakers in addition to Judge Lowell and Mr. Harrington. Sixty two were in attendance.

NEWSPAPER MAN IS ARRESTED

James A. Powers Charged With Forgery at Medford, Ore.

Medford, Ore.—James A. Powers, a newspaper writer, was arrested by Chief of Police Hittson on a charge of forgery preferred by "Slim" Adams of the Oakes bar. Powers was taken to Jacksonville and lodged in the county jail.

Powers had been employed on New York and Chicago dailies. For the last 15 years he has been on the Coast in Spokane, Seattle and Portland. He, for a time, wrote poetry for papers in Washington, D. C.

Of late he has been associated with Editor Lampan in the publication of the West Coast Miner.

A heavy cold in the lungs that was expected to cure itself has been the starting point in many cases of disease that ended fatally. The sensible course is to take frequent doses of BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP. It checks the progress of the disorder and assists nature to restore normal conditions. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by A. C. Koeppen & Bros.
