The Best Breeds of Jacks!

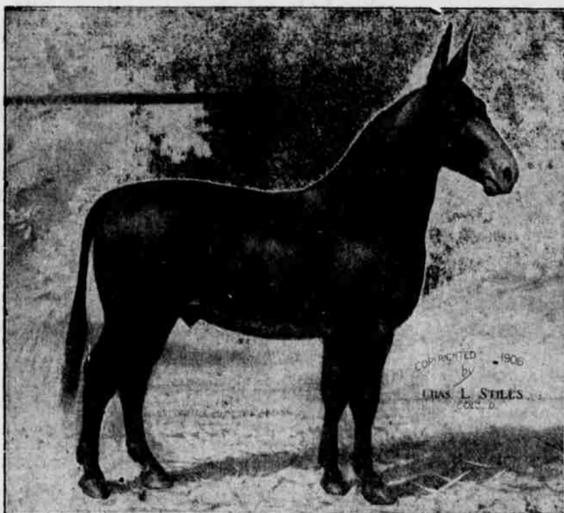

Before buying it may interest you to know that the best producers are bred and raised right here in Eastern Oregon--it will pay you to investigate.

I have at the Commercial Barn in Pendleton a fine lot of Jacks, acclimated, bred and raised in Eastern Oregon, on the "Eastern Oregon Jack Farm" in Morrow county. These Jacks are of the best breeds and best producers in the United States. Jacks that stand undefeated in the show ring in both Oregon and Washington. They have produced mules that have taken all first and second premiums, with one exception, for the past 13 years. I have been breeding and selling for many years, and can say what no other seller or breeder can truthfully say, that I have never yet sold a Jack that has failed to give satisfaction.

I have with these Jacks the largest yearling mule in the United States. I will pay $500.00 for his equal regardless of color, that will make a mate. This mule was sired by Black Night, Jr., that heads my herd of Jennets, and is also the sire of all my young Jacks under 5 years of age. All prices are right, and all Jacks guaranteed and registered in the Standard Jack Register of America.

LOVE IN EPIGRAMS BY FATHER VAUGHAN

Famous London Priest Urges Society People of New York to Be More Faithful in Obedience to Conscience

New York.—Father Vaughan of London spoke in the Church of St. Francis today to an audience so great that people stood in the aisles of the big building. The automobiles of many society people were parked outside. His subject was "Love." He urged a more faithful obedience to conscience, which so often urges that we put away the book which is not good for our spiritual welfare; that whispers to women, "Do not dress so décolleté—it is not good for the men who are around you, and remonstrates with us against the careless use of cameras with which so many people take "moving pictures of their own creation" that are not uplifting. His sermon was full of epigrams, some of which follow:

Strangest Thing in Life.
"Love is the greatest, the grandest the sweetest and strongest thing in life."

"Man without love is not a man. Woman without love is already dead."

"Love is so important that if you die without it you go to hell. With it you go to heaven."

"A man may bring his bride to the altar and show her his multi-millions giving her worldly power, but if she is a true wife and cannot command the recesses of his heart, it all goes for nothing."

"What a wonderful thing! Why did God send you, my Catholic brethren, to this queer place called Life, with all its terrible anxieties and troubles? To grow a little love fire at which He might warm this earth."

"All love is borrowed from God. There is no such thing as love that has not descended."

"Children know that God is Love. I asked a 5-year-old, 'How do you love God?' She opened her arms wide 'So,' she said.

"He left His throne and died upon the cross—His arms stretched out like the little child's. He says, 'Look at these arms. Does any one love you more? Greater love hath no man.'"

"If you have fallen away—like a child fallen in the dust, who runs back for mother to kiss away the tears—you will find God is just like that mother."

LOST $400,000 IN A DAY.

Heavy Gambling by Second Husband of King Leopold's Morganatic Wife.

Paris.—To such an extent has gambling spread in Paris and the French provincial resorts frequented by Americans that the Chamber of Deputies has decided to take up the matter and divert some of the millions thus squandered into the national treasury.

At a single club, scarcely a step from the Place de l'Opera, it is stated, during the year just ended no less than $100,000,000 was risked on the turn of the cards at baccarat, and there are nearly a dozen places in the city where nearly as much is staked annually.

Baccarat is responsible for the divorce which is now pending between Baroness Vaughan, the morganatic wife of the late King of the Belgians, and her second husband. It is said that when her friends told the Baroness that her husband was fond of baccarat she replied:

"Let him play a million. It won't matter."

At the end of a very brief period, however, she was forced to put a stop to it, as her husband's losses at the card table are said to have reached $400,000 in a single day, and to have threatened to swallow up the fortune left her by King Leopold, the actual amount of which has never been revealed.

KANSAS MYSTERY IN DOUBLE KILLING IS PARTLY SOLVED

Examination of Body of Clara Belle Stickney Shows That Step-Father Attacked Her.

Topeka, Kan.—That John J. Rickels shot Clara Belle Stickney, aged 14, his stepdaughter, to death and then turned the weapon on himself is the theory of officers working on the dual tragedy on Rickels' farm, but they admit this theory does not satisfy all the elements in the mystery.

An examination of the man's battered head revealed the presence of shot and powder burns. His cap was found thirty feet away from where he fell and between it and his body were bits of hair and blood spots, as if carried there by the explosion of the gun. Only one recently fired shell could be found, however. The officers have not given up their search for a third person. An examination indicated that the girl was attacked by her stepfather and one theory is that a third person shot the stepfather and accidentally killed the girl at the same time.

SPONGE SEWED IN WOUND.

Woman Patient's Resistant Suit May Reach Illinois Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill.—The alleged action of a surgeon in sewing up a sponge in a woman upon whom he had performed a surgical operation is the basis of a suit which may reach the Illinois supreme court.

A petition for a writ of certiorari to bring the case from the appellate court of this district was filed in the supreme court in the case of Carrie A. Smith vs. Dr. Ernest Mammen of McLean county.

Mrs. Smith alleged that through malpractice on the part of Dr. Mammen, a physician's sponge was sewed up in her while she lay unconscious on the operating table.

UNCLE SAM AS STUMP PULLER.

Idaho Hardware Man Says Government Should Hep to Clear Lands.

Spokane, Wash.—H. L. Thomson of Sandpoint, Idaho, a delegate at the yearly meeting of the Pacific Northwest Hardware and Implement Dealers' association, interested many visitors from various parts of the Pacific slope and Intermountain country in a plan to have the federal government assist in clearing logged-off lands in the west. He said: "The cost of clearing cut-over timber land is high, and on that account it is difficult to induce settlers and prospective home builders to go into the districts. The government makes a large appropriation for the opening of rivers and the reclamation of lands, as it should, and we who live in the timber districts think it also should give similar aid in the clearing of valuable lands now studded with stumps, but adapted to the highest form of agriculture. It would benefit the entire country and provide low priced lands for thousands now crowded in cities."

LOVETT FOR BIG CANAL; SAYS ROADS WILL GAIN

Head of Harriman System Foresees Great Boom in Traffic on Panama's Completion.

Galveston, Tex.—Robert S. Lovett, head of the Harriman system, who is touring the lines in Texas, severely criticises the enormous appropriations made by the government for inland waterways as a waste of funds. He says it is absurd to talk about the government appropriating $5,000,000 for these projects, which he asserts are dead for all time. "Railroads are far better than these inland waterways and canals," Lovett said, "and in the long run are far the cheapest method of transportation."

Speaking of the Panama canal, President Lovett denied most emphatically that any of the railroad systems with which he was connected had spent one dollar in opposing the canal. He said this would apply also to the big interests backing the railroads he represents.

"Though appreciating the canal will create competition for the railroads," he said, "it will benefit the railroads and I'll tell you why.

"To a certainty the canal will benefit California, where we have more track than in any other state. The canal will unquestionably benefit Texas and the whole Southwest.

"If it benefits all this section it is bound to benefit the railroads and we have not and will not do anything to hinder its early completion and operation."

ETHEL BARRYMORE IS EXPECTING NEW HEIR

Actress, Who Is Mrs. Russell Griswold Colt in Private Life, Is Said to Be Preparing for Interesting Event.

New York.—Her intimate friends whisper that Mrs. Russell Griswold Colt (Miss Ethel Barrymore) will make her husband very proud and happy again.

The Colts' first born, a boy, came to bless them in December, 1909, and mother and father have been absolutely devoted to him. Mrs. Colt has been with the little chap as constantly as her duties to the stage have permitted.

Miss Barrymore and Mr. Colt were married early in March, 1909, at Hyde Park, near Boston. He is the son of Colonel Samuel Pomeroy Colt, president of the United States Rubber company, who was delighted with the match.

When Mrs. Colt was playing in Los Angeles last July there were rumors that she would seek a divorce. She returned here and early in August Mr. Colt and she went to live at their home at Mamaroneck, N. Y. Both denied most positively, and as it proved, most truly, that any misunderstanding existed between them.

Miss Barrymore is now playing in "A Slice of Life" and "Cousin Kate" at the Empire theater here.
