BEAR BREAKS FROM CAGE AND STARTS EXPLORING

Claws Clothes Off Keeper: Eats Chickens; Cuffs Farmer; Now He'll Be Stuffed.

Elgin, Ill.—"Doc Bruin" of the city zoo broke out of his cage here and went on an exploring tour. It ended in his death, but not until he had clawed half the clothes off his keeper and after he had devoured the best part of a flock of fifteen chickens belonging to a farmer and cuffed the farmer out of the chicken house when he was interfered with.

Thomas Dwyer, keeper of the zoo, chased the bear up a tree when he found him. The bear wouldn't come down, so Dwyer went up. He had a rope, but the bear did not want his company, and clawed at him several times, tearing nearly all his clothes off and finally pushing Dwyer out of the tree.

Later he climbed down and next was heard of in the hen house on John Meyer's farm. When Meyer found him, nearly all the source of the Meyer household's egg supply had perished. The farmer sought to shoo the bear out of the coop with his hat. "Doc" resented the familiarity, cuffed the tormentor on the side of his head cutting a deep scalp wound and leaving several claw marks on Meyer's cheek. Incidentally the owner deserted the coop with some precipitation.

He returned with a gun, however, and now the bear will be stuffed for the zoo. Dwyer was not seriously injured.

The industrious, honest poor are deserving of a better chance.

KING'S DOCTOR TO VISIT U. S.

New York.—Sir Bertrand Dawson of London, physician to King George will sail for America to spend several months in surgical studies on this side.

Most of his time will be spent at Rochester, Minn., and in the Johns Hopkins hospital, in Baltimore.

"America has surpassed Europe in surgical science," Sir Bertrand said, "and henceforth we must come to you to learn. It is time your methods received universal adoption."

A Case of Self-Possession.

Walton Lackaye at a recent dinner at the Lambs was rather bored by a pompous layman who ventured in that community of wits to make a speech that was dull and interminable, but perfectly self-possessed, because of the sheer egotism of the speaker.

When he got through Lackaye said he would like to tell a story of which he had been reminded by the last speaker. Said he:

"There were two editors of rival papers out in a little town of Illinois, and they spent most of their time writing mean squibs about each other. Unfortunately for one of them, he one day purchased a mule for his farm, just out of town, whereupon the rival newspaper printed the fact as a news item and commented on it as 'An Extraordinary Case of Self-Possession!'"—New York Herald.

Orpheum. Kalem feature film for Tuesday's change:

1. "The O'Neill." Kalem. A thrilling story of an Irish patriot, made in Ireland in authentic locations. This is one of the best and most exciting of the Kalem Irish productions. The leading role is played by Mr. Jack Clark. Miss Gene Gauntier is seen in a charming character and Mr. Sid O'cott portrays the part of an enfeebled old peasant in his usual convincing style.

2. "Broncho Billy's Adventure." Essanay. The ever-popular Broncho Billy, played by that king of motion picture players, G. M. Anderson, meets with an adventure that you can spell with a capital "A." This picture is a sensation. Don't miss it.

3. "A Conspiracy Against the King." Edison. This is a spirited tale of old England, in which "Galloping Dick" plays an important part. Although a highwayman, he saves a young man from the consequences of a rash action and brings him and his sweetheart together.

4. "Chumps." Vitagraph. This picture will produce the laughs in clumps, in fits and starts, and jumps. It fairly ybeams with hilarious screams, covering the earth with irresistible mirth. You will laugh yourself sick looking at Bunny and Marshall P. Wilder in their impersonations of the "Chumps," who spend their time and money on a girl whom they afterwards learn is already married.

The Pastime.

The home of good pictures. A classy program for Tuesday's change.

"A Just Verdict." Lubin. A very dramatic story in which a suicide uses a revolver which is engraved with the name of his daughter's sweetheart. A guest of the house, who is a somnambulist, walking in his sleep, falls over the suicide's body and on awakening believes that he has killed his host. Dean, the sweetheart is arrested for murder, but the mystery is cleared up in time to save his life.

"Merely a Millionaire." Selig. An absolutely original comedy drama. Depicting a laughable situation arising from an encounter between a tramp and a millionaire.

"The Cowboy's Bride." Kalem. A romantic western story, with an elopement as the principal feature. The life of the picture is the numerous difficulties which beset the girls father in his attempt to overtake them before they are married.

"To Save Her Brother." Edison. A story of continuous interest and out of the ordinary.

Musical program:

No. 1—Alexander's Ragtime Band.

Rag. Irving Berlin.

No. 2—Melody. Rag. R. Birch.

No. 3—Fair Thee, Lizzie Lee. Rag. C. N. Daniels.

No. 4—Hallowe'en, Jack O'lantern. Rag. A. Manlowe.

No. 5—Angle Worm Wiggle. Rag. H. S. Lorich.

The Cosy.

For Wednesday and Thursday powerful Ambrosia drama and some good comedies.

"The Burden of Shame." Ambrosia. A very strong dramatic story of the results of an attempted elopement. The automobile went over a cliff with realistic effects. Beautifully colored dand act edna superb

"The Chinese Snugglers." Bison. A graphic story of the illegal smuggling of Chinese in the United States. Scenes laid on the Pacific coast.

"Four Yale Men." Powers. A college friendship picture of the old class reunion.

"Back to His Old Home Town." Imp. The funny things that happened to a man who was mistaken for a moving picture actor. Shows how a moving picture is made.

"Tweedledums Financial Distress." Ambrosia. The comical way in which this comedian relieved his "broke" condition.

"Playing the game." Imp. Amusing story of a lazy man and a game of golf.

At the Grand Tonight.

Ed Keith in the latest song hits, bright monologues and original parodies.

Louis Jones, buck wing dancer. Blanche Clifton in song and dance. Ed Shaw, the clown comedian. Don't fail to hear Ed Keith the wonderful baritone, at the Grand tonight.

Taft breaking ground for the great Panama-Pacific International exposition at the Grand tonight.

Cain and Able Biblical story at the Grand.

U. OF O. CO-EDS TO DEBATE WOMAN SUFFRAGE

University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.—Women suffrage is the subject for the dual co-ed debate between the University of Oregon and the University of Washington, scheduled to take place at Eugene on the first Friday in May. Great interest is taken in the annual forensic battle with Washington by the women at Oregon and already candidates for the team are studying on the question. The subject of suffrage is an especially interesting one to the Oregon students as a thriving woman's suffrage club has been formed by some of the leading students and it is expected that there will be an unparalleled crowd in attendance at the debate when it takes place.

The dual debate league between Washington and Oregon is one of the three such organizations in the United States. The Oregon lassies won the debate held at Eugene last year, while the girls from Washington University won the year before.

The Kidneys and the Skin. If the kidneys are weak or torpid, the skin will be pimply or blotchy. Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens the kidneys, and clears the complexion. By thoroughly purifying the blood it makes good health.

AT THE OREGON THEATRE

THE GIRL FROM RECTOR'S

Coming to the Oregon theater, Saturday night, March 2, is a comedy that has had reputation as being the funniest ever produced in New York. Its long run demonstrated this as a fact. It has been equally successful on the road and the management takes a pride in keeping the company up to its first standard. One of the best methods known to interest the public in any thing one wished to bring before them is "What Other People Say About It." So we reproduce copies of some notices as follows:

The Princess.

A comedy, "The Girl from Rector's" full of gay grotesqueries, drew a large audience to the Princess Theater last evening. And it contained laughter, through act after act, and if the vociferous curtain calls at the end of each act are genuine criterions of the merits of a farce comedy, then the Girl from Rector's quite justified itself.

It is full of action and complicated episodes, and these are enough to give a comedy adequate life.

In short, "The Girl from Rector's" is a bright farce, and for those who like that sort of thing, will give genuine entertainment without in any way shocking the moral sensibilities. To enjoy it one must simply take the attitude of a tired man, loll back in the opera chair and let the merry whirl go on.

Miss Katherine Reynolds as Louie Sedaine, is certainly a well begotten creature and was charmingly naughty in her role. Richard O'Shaughnessy ("Dicky Bird"), made the most of her part as the too-involved lover. But for capable acting in a part which could easily have become idiotic rather than funny and grotesque, Professor Maboon surpassed his colleagues. The other members of the company were satisfactory in their roles.

SLY NEEDLE IN HER ARM.

It Got in Without Woman Knowing It Till Afterward.

Altoona, Pa.—After being treated for various ailments for eight months during which time she suffered intense pain, an X-ray photograph of Mrs. Margaret Myers' right forearm was taken, disclosing a sewing needle. Its presence in her arm she cannot account for, as she has no recollection of ever experiencing any pain until last June, when the arm began to swell, apparent without cause. The needle was cut out.

BAKER TEACHER GIVEN BEATING BY PUPILS

Baker, Or.—A severe beating, followed by the painting of a portion of his body, was administered to Professor G. R. Mullen, instructor in mathematics in the Baker high school, by five young men. Forced attention to young girls in school and other acts on his part, are given as the reason for the severe treatment. The boys taking part in the job are members of well known families and are Leslie Finch, Loring Hyde, Bert Littig, George McCord and Robert Finkenbergh.

ALIMONY FOR HUSBAND.

Woman Granted Divorce and Must Pay $40 a Month to Man.

Seattle, Wash.—Mrs. Edna Hackett, aged 49, obtained a divorce from John Hackett, aged 63, on proving that he was a habitual drunkard, and a court decreed that she should pay her husband $40 a month for his support as long as he lived. The property of the couple, valued at $26,000, was awarded to Mrs. Hackett.

They're all progressives and State-ment No. 1 men now.
