Society

The past week has been an unusually quiet one from a society standpoint, due to a great extent to the observance of the Lenten season by many of the prominent society leaders. With the exception of a few informal card parties and club meetings, the week has been unmarked by any social festivities, although the lecture last evening by Preston W. Search, famous traveller, called out a great many of society people.

At the home of Mrs. William Slusher on February 29, Mrs. James Kennedy entertained the Thursday Afternoon club. The program was in two divisions, the first part as follows: Piano Solo—Sextette from Lucia... Mrs. G. W. Phelps.

Songs—The Northern Days—Chadwick Dost Thou Know That Sweet Land... Thomas Mrs. J. R. Dickson.

Violin Solos—Gavotte Moderne... Severn Cradle Song... Hauser Miss Margaret Lowell.

Reading from Rdyard Kipling... Mrs. F. E. Livengood. The second part of the program took the form of a spirited debate on one of the leading questions of the day. Those taking part in the debate were: Mrs. E. T. Wade, Mrs. J. A. Owens, Mrs. G. I. La Dow, Mrs. S. A. Lowell, Mrs. Mary J. Lane, Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. T. C. Taylor, Mrs. G. W. Phelps, Mrs. A. L. Schaefer.

At the conclusion of the debate dainty refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. Pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. F. E. Judd and Mrs. John F. Robinson. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Slusher and Miss Ruby Hazlett. The next meeting of the club will be March 14, at the home of Mrs. C. P. Bishop.

A most enjoyable function of the week was one of Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. F. M. Ebel and Mrs. T. R. Hampton were hostesses to the members of the Busy Bee Club and other ladies. About thirty in all were present and the afternoon was very pleasantly spent with games and social conversation. Concluding the affair, refreshments were served by the hostesses. Aside from the members of the club, the guest list included the Mesdames Finney, Stanger, Peterson, Ragsdale (Joseph), S. A. Hampton, Farley, Brown, Chaney, Cerey, Norton, Cook (Helix) and Anderson.

A number of ladies were informally entertained by Mrs. R. B. Stanfield in her usual pleasing manner on Thursday afternoon. Fancy work and the discussion of the leading topics caused the afternoon to pass quickly. The hostess served dainty refreshments which was a fitting ending to the pleasant day.

On Thursday the members of the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church spent the afternoon at St. Anthony's hospital and assisted the sisters in the great amount of sewing which is done at that institution. Their visit was very much appreciated.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church announce a silver tea for next Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Sam R. Thompson on College street. An excellent program is being prepared.

pared and a large attendance is expected.

Mrs. E. P. Dodd returned to her home at Hermiston on Wednesday after visiting with relatives here for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rosenberg are moving into the Mrs. M. A. Thompson residence on Madison street formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kirkley.

ECHO SOCIETY. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Thompson were given a very pleasant surprise on Wednesday evening by a large number of their friends. The occasion was in honor of their crystal wedding. The evening was pleasantly passed in social conversation and excellent refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. T. George, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Giber, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stanfield, Mr and Mrs. Joe Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. A. Longwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Everitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Spinning.

Earrings. Don't be afraid to wear earrings, says Royal M. Sawtelle, the jeweler. It doesn't require boldness to wear the long pendant earrings this season for they are being worn more now than ever.

Long swinging pendants of coral, turquoise, jet or plain gold are used most, although a large, slender ring of plain gold is used. The custom of wearing earrings is not a passing fad because the best gold is mostly used in their making and very often set with precious stones which gives a permanence to their use.

YOUTH OF 16 SAYS MAIDEN OF 28 DUPED HIM

Tells, New York Judge He Was "Entrapped and Forced" Into Ceremony by Intoxicants or Drugs Woman Induced Him to Take. New York.—A case replete with unusual and amazing situations which is now engaging the attention of Supreme Court Justice Newberger is the suit of James Vick for an annulment of his marriage to Miss Nellie Mullins. Vick and Miss Mullins were married when Vick was only 16. She was 28.

Model M Franklin, Six Cylinder, 5 Passenger Touring Car, Delivered at Pendleton $2950.00

Light Weight A bold statement but true; it's weight is more than Half a Ton Less than some of the much advertised 4 cylinder cars. It has large tires, full elliptic springs, laminated wood sills, luxurious deep spring upholstery, sheet aluminum bodies. The easiest riding of all automobiles.

Economy Its light weight, resilient construction, its full elliptic springs make it the easiest car on tires. That "one per cent. added to the weight of your car, adds fifteen per cent. to your tire expense," is a statement made by tire manufacturers.

Simplicity The Franklin has no water, no radiator no pump, no hose or pipe connections (plumbing) not even a fan, and its operation does not depend on the eccentricities of a complicated electric lighting plant. We have a car load including some of the little sixes and other new model Franklins shipped. When they arrive we will show you the finest line of automobiles ever seen in Pendleton.

Vick declares that "by means of wrongful contrivances, deception and duress," the defendant "entrapped compulsory submission to a marriage and forced" him into a pretended and ceremony with her. He said she had previously induced him to drink excessively of intoxicating liquors or drugs, and that, while he was in a dazed and stupid condition, the marriage was performed. "I have absolutely no recollection of the affair," added Vick, "as I was so dazed at the time I knew nothing that was going on."

CONVICTS CUT PRISON DOORS

Bars in Cell Doors at Salem Penitentiary Severed When Discovered. Salem, Ore.—With two bars to their cells sawed off, Harvey Marlowe, sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary from Multnomah county for burglary and Paul T. Durney, sentenced for 12 years from Klamath for robbery, were just preparing to make their escape into a cell corridor and then effected an escape into the yard when discovered by Guards Rhinehart and Keaton at the state penitentiary. Had they made successful escape into the cell corridor, it would have been easy to saw their way into the yards through the corridor windows, and by waiting until the outside guards went off duty after 10 o'clock at night scaled the walls.

The bars to the cells were severed by saws and files smuggled into the cells from the shops by concealing them in the seams of clothes. The attention of Guards Rhinehart and Keaton was first attracted by the men moving about in the cells late, and happening to investigate the bars, they found them ready to drop. In searching the clothes of the men, several saws were found, and a search of the cell disclosed several files and a saw made out of a case knife. Marlowe was received at the penitentiary February 1, 1911, and is considered a bad man, as is Durney, received on December 8, 1910.

TAFT CATCHES AIDS ASLEEP, NOT ON JOB

Washington.—Employees in the White House will begin to report at their desks sharply at 9 o'clock. Some may get there nearer 8 o'clock. This will be due to the fact that President Taft unexpectedly walked into his office at 8 o'clock, about two hours earlier than usual. Seating himself at his desk to begin work the president rank for his messenger. There was no response. He pushed the button for his stenographer, but no one came. The buzzer on Mr. Hill's desk sounded; then that of Mr. Forester, then that of Mr. Allen. Still no response was received by Mr. Taft.

TAFT HUNTS FOR A TOILER.

The president then instituted a search. The offices of his secretary and assistants were unoccupied. He glanced into the general office-room of the clerks. Silence and emptiness greeted the chief executive.

Finds One Lone Stenographer.

Through the swinging doors the president pushed his way, then looked up and down the walks for an approaching clerk, stenographer or secretary, only a policeman greeted his gaze.

CENTRALIA DENTIST ACCUSED OF MURDER

Chehalis, Wash.—A sensation was created here when Dr. F. D. Johnson, a Centralia dentist, was arrested as an accomplice of Adelbert B. Clark in the holdup of the Farmers & Merchants bank of Centralia, which resulted in the killing of Lawrence Bar, president of the institution, December 30, 1911. Clark confessed to Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Bishop and to E. E. Boner, of Aberdeen, his counsel, that Dr. Johnson had planned the holdup; that he had been with the dentist on the day the attempted robbery and murder took place in order to divert suspicion. There was a dance in Pe Ell that night, which the two expected to attend when the booty was to be divided. Clark held up the bank a few minutes before train time and then, as he boarded the train, dropped the money into Dr. Johnson's handbag. He had planned to change clothes on the way to the station.
