MEMBERSHIP IN A CHURCH NOT ENOUGH

REV. HOLMES POINTS OUT NECESSITY OF DOING MORE

After absence of One Month New Minister of Christian Church Is Cordially Welcomed by His Admiring Congregation.

After an absence of about a month during which Pastor Holmes conducted a successful revival at Colfax, Wash., he was again greeted in his pulpit yesterday at the Christian church by his usual good audiences. All seemed very happy to have their leader again with them. Although he has been in Pendleton but a short while, yet he already holds a warm place in the hearts of all that have come to know him. At the morning service Mr. Holmes spoke on the theme, "Is the Church a Means or an End?" pointing out in a very forceful manner that it is a great mistake for one to think the final goal reached as soon as he becomes a church member, or for the organization to consider the work done as soon as the "machinery is all in position," putting the machine at its work is the important thing, and the business of the church is the evangelization of the world. Mr. Holmes pointed out that this was the only business assigned to the apostolic church and is the only thing the church has to do now. He complimented the local congregation on the splendid start it has already made in missionary activities for the current year.

At the evening service the subject was "Thronging Jesus." After pointing to the almost constant throng of people that crowded about Jesus, Mr. Holmes declared that when He is presented to the world today in same light, the same results will happen. His face was noised abroad and as people came to hear His wondrous message and to behold His marvelous power, they hurried away to bring their friends into His presence. The church of today will be crowded and the people will again "throng Jesus" when His message is delivered from the pulpit and when His people become "messengers" sufficiently aroused to bring their friends to Him.

In the closing part of the address last night, the minister outlined some plans designed to build up the local work, and it is safe to predict that if Mr. Holmes can get the hearty cooperation of his people, the Christian church will soon become a "mighty busy place." When he made the first announcement, the audience was simply startled, for it was no less a proposition than to do away with both the morning "Sunday Service" and the "Sunday School." It looks revolutionary to the average church worker, but Mr. Holmes has some ideas of his own and after declaring that he had already tested the method in a very severe method and found it most wholesome, he then gave an outline of a service proposed instead.

Morning worship will begin probably a little earlier than usual, with a splendid opening service, at present impossible in the Sunday school for lack of time. Classes will be maintained in which all will study the regular Sunday school lesson just as formerly. From these classes all will assemble to the main auditorium of the church and in the place of the usual Sunday morning sermon, the pastor will then give an exposition of the lesson, using the splendid stereopticon now being installed in the church, as an aid. Mr. Holmes says this will take very much less time and will result in "all the church studying the same lesson, and in all the bible school taking part in "morning worship." He predicts that the adoption of this modern way of teaching will soon give the Christian church the largest morning attendance in the city. The windows are to be darkened so that as good pictures may be made in the day time as at night, but Mr. Holmes announced that he had been very fortunate in securing a lens that would make a splendid picture without darkening the windows. He also announced a series of five illustrated lectures to be given in the church beginning with "Ben Hur" next Monday night. The former pastor, Mr. Meldrum of Athena is to give two of the lectures. Pendleton people are always glad to hear him. Tickets for the entire course are now on sale at a reduced price.

In less than two years was the record in the family of Mrs. Dora Russell of Vera, the fifth death being reported when she received a telegram from Vera, Mexico, that her brother, Herbert Ritter, was drowned. The tragedies in this family began in Joplin, Mo., when three brothers of Mrs. Russell were killed in a mine accident. Less than six months later Mrs. Russell's husband was killed by falling into a well which he had just finished at Vera. Then came the message yesterday that her brother who had been aiding in support of herself and family had met death by drowning in a Mexican river.

Following the death of her husband Mrs. Russell was completely prostrated. She was in a Spokane hospital for some time and since her return to the little home at Vera she has been virtually an invalid. The brother who was drowned went to Mexico 18 years ago from Joplin, Mo., and he was manager of the Llovica De Ora Mining company, one of the largest gold mining companies in Mexico. His salary was $400 the month.

Mrs. Russell is the mother of four children, Mrs. Hugh Shelly of Newport, Wash.; Mrs. Dasevbach, who is with her mother; a daughter 17 years of age and a son 4 years of age. She is about 40 years of age.

The family came to Vera about three years ago.
