CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

AUTOS COLLIDE; TWO ARE HURT

Mrs. Antone Vey and Charles McMillan Victims of Alta Street Crash.

GIRL DRIVER CONFUSED

Force of Impact Sends Two Men Hurting to Street, Rupturing Lung of One and Sends Lady's Teeth Through Her Lip.

In the first serious auto collision in Pendleton since the adoption of gasoline locomotion, the auto truck belonging to the Pendleton Auto company was partially demolished, the big six-cylinder touring car of Antone Vey was badly damaged, Charles McMillan, occupant of the truck was injured internally, Mrs. Vey sustained a severe cut on one of her lips, while Miss Mamie Vey, driver of the car, and Harvey Withers, driver of the truck, escaped, oddly enough, with only a severe jolting and a few minor bruises.

The accident occurred about 4:30 yesterday afternoon on West Alta street when the two machines, one traveling east on Alta and the other north on Ann, met at the intersection. Neither driver saw the other car until too late to avert the collision.

The two men in the truck were returning from a trip to the depot and upon nearing the corner of Alta and Ann, which is made blind by the Crab Creek Lumber company's office, they sounded their horn, according to witnesses of the accident. Miss Vey evidently heard the warning, they say, but lost her presence of mind and was unable to stop her car which was traveling at a fairly high rate of speed. The two machines collided in the middle of the intersecting square, the touring car striking the truck broadside. The impact was so great that the two men in the truck were hurled from their seats to the ground, McMillan striking with such force that the lining to one of his lungs was ruptured.

The two wheels on the off side of the truck crumpled in under the car while the bed was badly splintered. The machinery of the engine was also wrecked and altogether the vehicle suffered badly.

The collision threw Mrs. Vey forward in the car with such force that her teeth were forced through one of her lips, making a wound which required several stitches for closing. The big touring car, though put out of commission temporarily, did not suffer to the extent of the other machine. The two lamps, the glass front, the hood and the guards were all damaged more or less but the cost of repairs, compared with that necessary for restoring the truck to its former state, will be nominal.

Immediately after the collision, a call was sent in to Dr. C. J. Smith, who rushed to the scene in his auto and administered to the injured. Young McMillan is much improved today although he is still suffering from his injury.

A large crowd gathered at the scene of the accident within a few minutes after it had occurred and there was considerable excitement prevailing for the time being. This is the second automobile accident within the last ten days, and criticism of the speed with which most cars are driven through the streets, is becoming general. An accident very similar to the one which occurred yesterday afternoon was only averted hardly an hour afterwards by the skill with which the divers handled their cars.

CLUB 5 WILL MEET HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

Tonight lovers of basketball will have an opportunity to see one of the final if not the last game of the season when the Commercial club team and the high school quintet mix in their contest for supremacy. Should the academy tossers emerge with the long end of the score, the hopes of the business men to land the city championship will be forever lost, while should the latter win, another and deciding game will probably be arranged.

It will be remembered that these two aggregations met in battle royal a couple of weeks ago, the scholastics winning by a score of 51 to 32 but since then the Commercial men have been strengthening their weak points and developing speed and endurance, so that the fray tonight promises to be more closely fought. The two teams will line up as before, but the Commercial men will probably put fresh men in from time to time.

The first whistle is scheduled to be blown at 8 o'clock and the place of battle will be the Commercial gym.

FEDERALS MENACE JUAREZ

Citizens Alarmed and Rebel Army Recalled to Repell Attack.

El Paso, Texas, March 12.—Juarez was today thrown into wild alarm by reports which reached the city from the west stating that the city will be attacked within a few hours by a force of federal troops who are en route from Hermosillo.

The rebel forces commanded by Generals Campa and Salazar, which were en route on their march on Torreon, were immediately halted on receipt of the news and are being divided, in order that a part of the rebels may return to Juarez and repulse the federal attack, while the remainder of the revolutionary army will continue on to Torreon, where a battle will be staged this week.

SMALL LAD TELLS A PITIFUL STORY

Parents Die, Twin Sister Finds Home While He Wanders

It's a cold, hard world for little Clayton Fitz Gerald, a fatherless, motherless boy who was picked up this morning on the streets by Chief of Police John Kearney soon after he had slid out of a box car in which he had traveled from Baker to this city. Too small to do a man's work, devoid of relatives who care for him, penniless and friendless, he was cast adrift, as he claims, upon a stormy sea two weeks ago when his mother died and since that time has been buffeted cruelly about until by good fortune he encountered the local officers who have arranged to provide for him a home with the Boys and Girls' Aid Society of Portland.

The little fellow, who says he is 14 years of age but who looks hardly more than 9, tells a pathetic story. His father died nine years ago, he says, and two weeks ago his mother gave up the stern battle which she had been fighting since deprived of her husband. His twin sister was taken to La Grande where she is working for her board in a family residence, and with nobody to give him a home, he has been forced to rely upon his own feeble efforts and the charity of an indifferent public in order to live. Finally he decided to leave Baker, the scene of his miseries, and last night hid in a box car of a westbound freight train, thus finding his way to this city.

After being discovered by Chief Kearney, he was turned over to John Halley, Jr., juvenile officer, and tomorrow will be placed under the care of the Boys and Girls' Aid society, who happens to be working in Umatilla county at the present time.

GARBAGE DUMPERS MUST OBEY THE LAW

Complaints are being made by residents of the eastern part of the city regarding the dumping of garbage along the road leading out of the Franklin street gulch. It is said that within the past week garbage has been dumped along that thoroughfare and that the act is in clear violation of the city ordinance providing a severe penalty for dumping garbage anywhere within the city limits aside from the city dumping grounds below the city.

It seems evident that in the Franklin street case the parties at fault acted under the impression they were outside the city limits and so had the privilege of dumping garbage there if they so desired. They were within the city limits however and even had they been beyond the limits they would still be subject to punishment under the state law.

County Judge J. W. Maloney declares that under the state law it is an offense to dump garbage anywhere near a county road and that wherever cases of this sort are called to the attention of the county court action will be taken. A complaint of this sort came in from the Adams country but a few days since and when the offending party was called to account removed the garbage.

ASKS PRISON FOR SUGAR TRUST OFFICIALS

New York, March 12.—A direct demand for the imprisonment of the sugar trust officials, charged with crushing the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company out of existence, was made on behalf of the government today by United States Attorney Wise. The case started yesterday.

DR. WILEY WILL RESIGN AND BECOME AN EDITOR

Washington, March 12.—According to information just given out, Dr. Harvey, chief of the bureau of chemistry, is to resign to become editor of Good Housekeeping, a magazine.

TWO STEAMERS GO ON ROCKS

One Founders While Trying to Aid Sister Vessel in Distress.

8 MEN PROBABLY DROWN

United States Torpedo Boat Flotilla and Special Train Rush to Rescue of the "Rosecrans" and "Falls of Clyde" Off California Coast.

Gaviota, Cal., March 12.—Jammed against the rocks with- in shouting distance of the short, the steamer Rosecrans is pounding to pieces and the crew is endangered. They say that two of their number have already been swept overboard. The Falls of Clyde has escaped the rocks. Probably the Rosecrans' crew will be saved. They are trying to keep the ship afloat by pumping.

Six Reported Drowned. Mare Island, March 12.—A wireless from Point Arguello, says six men, while attempting to land in a small boat from the Rosecrans, today drowned.

Santa Barbara, Calif., March 12.—With two ships being helplessly beaten on the rocks and at least one member of the crew of one of the vessels, known to have lost his life, a flotilla of United States torpedo boats and a special Southern Pacific train carrying rescuers, were this morning rushed to a point thirty miles from Gaviota, Calif., where the "Rosecrans" and the "Falls of Clyde" are in distress.

The Rosecrans was the first of the vessels to strike the rocks and it was a member of this steamer that lost his life. Others may have also perished.

The Falls of Clyde went to the aid of her stranded sister-ship, and while trying to get close enough to get a line to the Rosecrans, the Falls of Clyde was also swept onto the rocks.

The vessels are the property of the Associated Oil company of San Francisco.

Twenty-eight officers and a life saving crew were on a special train that left San Louis Obispo, to aid the stranded vessels.

Rescuers on Special. San Louis Obispo, March 12.—A special Southern Pacific train was hurriedly made up here this morning and started with twenty-eight officers and a life saving crew, equipped with apparatus for aiding the stranded steamers off Gaviota. More than fifty men were in the party.

Was Enroute to Honolulu.

San Francisco, Calif., March 12.—The steamer Rosecrans, which is reported to have gone on the rocks near Gaviota with a cargo of oil and was to have sailed from there to Honolulu.

Taft Reprimands Manager.

Washington, March 12.—President Taft today bluntly told his campaign manager, Congressman McKinley, to desist from all controversies or personalities with Roosevelt supporters. The president is thoroughly aroused because McKinley and Senator Dixon, of Montana, had a personal controversy.

More Wardogs for England.

London, March 12.—The British naval estimates, made public today in the house of commons, provide for four dreadnoughts, eight cruisers, twenty destroyers and a number of submarines.

MARCH 26 SET FOR DATE FOR LAYING CORNER STONE OF EASTERN OREGON HOSPITAL

Tuesday, March 26, has been set as the date for the laying of the corner stone of the Eastern Oregon State Hospital and preparations for that event are now being worked out in detail by the local Commercial club committee in charge. For the purpose of taking further steps in preparation for the event a meeting of the general committee will be held at 7:30 this evening in the office of Dr. C. J. Smith. Information to the effect that March 26 will be an acceptable day for the members of the state board to come here was received this morning by Captain C. A. Murphy, super-

YUAN PRISONER IN OWN PALACE

Three Manchu Regiments Guard Chinese President Against Assassination.

MUTINY AGAIN EXPECTED

Americans and Other Foreigners in Peking Mount Rapid Fire Guns for Protection While Rotted Headless Bodies Threaten Pestilence.

Peking, China, March 12.—Haunted continuously by the belief that he is marked for assassination by enemies, President Yuan of the new Chinese republic, is now an unhappy prisoner in his own palace and is closely guarded by three regiments of Manchu troops. He does not dare entrust himself with a guard of republican troops, as the suspicion that he anticipates establishing himself as emperor of China, has created a bitter feeling among the victors of the recent revolution.

Foreigners residing in Peking anticipate a resumption of the slaughter and looting of a short time ago and in order to protect themselves against the mobs, Americans and other foreign citizens have mounted rapid fire guns in the foreign quarter and will give battle if they are made the object of attack in the expected disorders.

Hundreds of headless corpses, victims of President Yuan's recent orders for the decapitation of suspected mutineers, are strewn about the city and the stench from these is becoming unbearable. An epidemic caused by the rotted human flesh is looked upon as certain to come.

BUTTER CREEK IS FREE FROM TANGLE

L. D. Howland, special water master appointed by the state for Umatilla county, is at present engaged in the long and exhaustive task of dividing the waters of Butter creek according to the terms of a decree issued by the state board of control on January 22. He has been thus employed for several weeks and estimates that it will require until the first of May to complete the task.

Through the efforts of a few of the influential settlers along Butter creek, this stream was released from the entanglement into which it along with all other tributaries of the Umatilla became involved when the government filed its adjudication suits. Inasmuch as all of the water of this creek is used before it has a chance to enter into the river, the government was induced to dismiss the suits, thus hastening the final division of the waters by a year or so.

According to Mr. Howland, the land along Butter creek is of such a nature that with one irrigation it will produce three big crops of hay while with no irrigation it fails to produce one crop.

CLUB MEMBERSHIP STILL GROWING.

Twenty-six more names were secured by the Commercial club membership committee this morning bringing the total number of recruits to 172 and practically doubling the roll of the association within three days. This is a record which the officers challenge any like organization in the northwest to duplicate. The end of the campaign is not yet, for the committee is determined to make a thorough canvass of the business district that no possible material shall be overlooked.

PORTLAND CHIEF MARKED

Warring Chinese Resents His Peace Efforts With Death Sentences.

Portland, Ore., March 12.—Resenting his efforts to have the warring Chinese Tongs in this city to sign a peace agreement, members of one or more of the local yellow factions have marked Chief of Police Slover for assassination, according to information secured by that official today.

The threat apparently has not greatly alarmed the chief, and in speaking of the matter, he said: "I will not tell where or how I secured the information, but as a result will have the police force to redouble its efforts toward ending the tong war."

"No Chinese can run this police department, nor will their threats stop us."

GERMAN STRIKERS SABERED BY POLICE

Statesman Sees Revolution and Demands Drastic Measures

Berlin, March 12.—Fierce clashes between striking miners and the police today marked the coal strike. The most serious trouble occurred at Hamborn, Dusseldorf, where the police charged the strikers and sabered scores of them.

Speaking in the Prussian senate, Herr Von Puttkamen, former provincial governor, attacked the strikers and said the government should end the strike, no matter what drastic measures were necessary to crush the miners.

Von Puttkamen declared that there was enough strikebreakers to work the mines if the government would protect them. He said that Germany under pressure of the socialists, is rushing toward a revolution.

"Socialists openly announced their desire for a republic," said he. "Their demands are bringing the country near a state of terrorism."

The time has come when the government must adopt the sternest measures to save the nation."

Replying, socialist members, defended the right of the miners to strike.

English Confering.

London, March 12.—There is hope that the great coal strike will soon end. A statement from the miners' headquarters say they are willing to make some concessions. Another conference began this afternoon.

Welsh and Scotch coal operators today agreed to join the English operators in another conference with premier Asquith in an effort to settle the strike. This meeting started at 3 o'clock this afternoon and it is hoped that this will be the beginning of peace.

TAYLOR ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

With the announcement today that T. D. Taylor will be a candidate for re-election to the office of sheriff, all of the present office holders in Umatilla county have taken the field to succeed themselves. Taylor's formal declaration was filed this morning with County Clerk Sailing and his petitions will be circulated at once.

Sheriff Taylor, though a democrat in a republican county, has held his office against all attempts to defeat him for ten years or more and in this time has built up a reputation as an officer of the law that is known all over the northwest. His friends are predicting that he will be unopposed in either the primary or fall election.

FINAL ARGUMENTS IN PACKERS' TRIAL TODAY

Chicago, March 12.—Final arguments in favor of the motion to dismiss the cases against J. Ogden Armour and nine other millionaire beef packers, charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, are being made before United States Judge Carpenter today by Attorney John Miller for the defendants. He insisted that the government had not proved anything criminal. The arguments in the case will probably close before night.

LA FOLLETTE COMING TO OREGON TO SPEAK.

Portland, March 12.—In an interview granted here last night made public today, Walter Houser, La Follette's campaign manager, said Senator La Follette would personally stump the state, beginning early in April.

46 LABORITES GO TO TRIAL

Alleged Dynamiters File Demurrers Which Are Overruled By Court.

CHARGES NOT YET DENIED

Attorneys in Motion Declare Law Under Which Iron Workers Were Indicted Is Repealed and Asserted No Crime Was Committed.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 12.—Government prosecution of the alleged leaders in the nation-wide dynamite conspiracy, began here in the United States court today, when forty-six officers and members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, were arraigned on charges of engaging in the illegal interstate transportation of dynamite and other explosives.

All of the 54 indicted men are present here today, with the exception of those indicted on the Pacific coast, and all were arraigned today with the exception of those indicted on the Pacific coast, and all were arraigned today with the exception of the following:

John and James McNamara, now serving fifteen years and life sentences, respectively in San Quentin prison for the Los Angeles Times explosion; Eugene Glancy, former member of the executive board, now under indictment in Los Angeles; Olay Tviestmo, secretary of the San Francisco Building Trades council; John R. Carroll and Edward E. Phillips, members of the Syracuse, N. Y. local union; John J. McGray, former member of the executive board of Wheeling, W. Va., and Andrew J. Kavanagh, member of the Springfield, Ill. local.

Attorneys for the accused men immediately filed demurrers today to the thirty-two indictments under which the alleged conspirators were arrested.

Judge Anderson overruled the motions to quash the proceedings against James Cooney, Richard Houlihan, William Shupe, James Coughlin, J. W. Irwin and Patrick Ryan. Arguments on the demurrers then followed.

The demurrers for the defendants read: "The act of 1866, whereunder indictments were returned, was repealed in 1908. These indictments don't allege the acts continued during the time specified. They don't allege the transportation of explosives was unlawful or that explosives were unlawfully used. The indictments are not specific and do not enable the defendants to make a defense. The indictments don't show that the defendants attempted to deceive the railroads and furthermore it is not unlawful to carry explosives on passenger trains."

BRYAN ADDRESSES CONSTITUTIONALISTS

Columbus, Ohio, March 12.—In an address delivered before the constitutional convention here today, William Jennings Bryan gave his unqualified endorsement to the initiative, referendum and recall of officials—including the judiciary—the direct election of United States senators, better protection for laboring people, an employer's liability law, state income tax and taxation of franchises.

Mr. Bryan laid particular emphasis on the needs of the recall of the judiciary, declaring:

"A judge who would be swayed by fear of the recall would not be fit for his place, anyway."

"The initiative," said Mr. Bryan, "is the most effective means that has yet been proposed for giving the people absolute control of the government. Do not overhrow representative government."

"The purpose of representative government is to represent and it fails when it misrepresents. "It takes centuries of struggle to secure popular government and all this struggle and sacrifice is in vain if the people's representatives can betray with impunity and mock their constitutions, while drawing their salaries from the public treasury."

BURGARS CAPTURE FAMILY AND LOOT JEWELRY STORE

San Francisco, March 12.—Entering the apartments of M. Zaimon, a jeweler, three masked men forced him, his wife and two children to accompany them to their store, adjoining on Geary street and open the safe. The burglars bound and gagged the family, looted the safe and got away with between four thousand and five thousand dollars worth of valuables.
