BOYS CHIEF ASSET SAYS, SUPT. LANDERS

"THE BOY PROBLEM" OFFERS BEST RETURNS FOR EFFORTS

Believes Men's Religious Forward Movement Will Meet Problems Which Religious Institutions Have Not Solved.

"The chief asset of Pendleton, like that of the nation at large is her boys," said Supt. J. S. Landers this morning in speaking of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, workers for which are to hold a convention here during the latter part of the week. "There are five departments of work in 'The Men and Religion Forward Movement.' Doubtless the most promising, and that which brings the greatest returns for the effort expended is 'The Boy Problem.'"

"Heretofore communities have through their school systems endeavored to train the boys mentally and have offered some religious instruction through the church service and the Sunday school. That the efforts through these institutions have been only partially successful is attested by the necessity of periodical visits of state juvenile officers to the different cities and rural communities of the state, and to the constant activity of those in charge of the work with juvenile delinquents and other youthful offenders of law and order. An education that reaches only a part of the life of a boy could hardly be expected to secure other results. The Boys' Work of 'The Men and Religion Forward Movement' endeavors to train the boy along four distinct lines: physically, mentally, socially and spiritually, to develop a well-balanced, efficient and strong personality. The program at the boys' banquet Friday evening and the boys' convention on Saturday will be the initial steps in this broader view of training now being inaugurated in many places throughout the country."

Peter Crockett, Chester Fee, Jewell Rook, Claude Hampton, Arthur Ferguson and other boys of Pendleton as well as several representatives from outside towns will take part in the programs. Lowden Jones of Walla Walla will explain the work as it is carried on there. He is the boy chairman of the committee in Walla Walla. Besides the boys, three of the specialists from Walla Walla will speak at the different sessions of the convention, presenting various phases of the movement.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need fear, but the serious diseases that it often leads to. Most of them are known as germ diseases. Pneumonia and consumption are among them. Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold while you can. For sale by all dealers.

Attorney Sues for Fees.

Judge Stephen A. Lowell today commenced suit against Charles E. Hoover for the collection of $500 fees alleged to have been earned by the firm of Lowell & Halley prior to 1905, for the prosecution of a land suit for the defendant. The land in question lies on the Umatilla reservation and is valued at $2000. John P. Winter is acting as the plaintiff's attorney.

Dickson in Golf Tournament.

Brooke Dickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dickson of this city, who is in his freshman year at the University of Oregon, is developing quite a proficiency as a golfer, according to reports from Eugene. He has just succeeded in qualifying for the finals in a tournament being held by devotees of President Taft's pastime in the University City.

Trait "Soaked" His Sister.

Clarence Tritt, the young man who was brought to the county jail from Freewater last week on a charge of assault, got in his present predicament through an altercation with his sister, Ethel Tritt, according to reports from his home town. The young man states that his sister dared him to hit her, so he "soaked" her one.

Still Want Baseball League.

Baker has not given up his hopes of securing a four team baseball league with clubs in Pendleton, Baker, La Grande and Walla Walla, evinced by a letter received today by Secretary Keefe of the Commercial association from the Baker commercial club. The writer is of the opinion that such a league backed by the moral support of the commercial organizations would be a great success.

Sending Exhibit to Portland.

The Commercial club is today having a Umatilla county exhibit prepared for shipment to Portland where under the direction of Lee Teutsch, it will be set up in the new Multnomah hotel. The exhibit consists of the grains and grasses prepared for the Umatilla-Morrow county fair last year and products of the Pendleton Woolen Mills.

Honoloni Instructor Visits Schools.

Miss Gladys Scroggs, supervisor of music and drawing in the Honoloni public schools, was in Pendleton last week and visited the local schools. While here she was the guest of Miss Laura Schroeder. Miss Scroggs is an accomplished young lady and her first appearance before a local audience when she sang a solo Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church won for her much praise and appreciation.

Grand Officers Here.

Mrs. Pauline Moore Riley, grand worthy matron and Clyde Evans, grand worthy patron for Oregon in the Order of the Eastern Star are visitors in Pendleton today and will pay official visits to Bushee chapter this evening. Mrs. Riley is from Baker, while the grand patron is a resident of Portland. The members of the Eastern Star are planning an enjoyable meeting in their honor this evening.

Old Resident Is Buried.

The body of John Christie, the well known former business man of this city who died yesterday morning at the county hospital, was interred this morning in Olney cemetery, the funeral being held at Polson's undertaking parlors. Deceased had been a resident of this city for many years, having at one time conducted a tailor shop, but reverses and misfortunes forced him to seek refuge in the county poor farm during the last few years of his life.

Install New Pressing Machine.

Bowman Bros., well known Court street cleaners and pressing men, have just installed additional equipment to their shop which places them in the ranks of progressive and up-to-date business men. This equipment consists of a Griever patent steam garment pressing machine and does away with the old hand pressing apparatus. From water superheated in a double boiler, a dry steam is secured which finds escape through a perforated head which presses it down against the backs. The machine is cable of 500 pounds pressure and it is a great improvement over the old method of pressing.

ACADEMY BUILDINGS OFFERED FOR SALE

Acting under instructions from the church board having title to the property of Pendleton academy, E. T. Wade is having the broken windows repaired in Brown Hall preparatory to placing both the academy buildings on the market. According to Mr. Wade it will cost $50 to repair the broken windows in the old dormitory and he is hopeful that hereafter the small boys who have found fun in breaking the windows will amuse themselves in some other manner.

It is the intention of the church board to dispose of the old academy property as quickly as possible and it has been suggested that the buildings may be converted into flats or apartment houses.

Seek to Collect Accounts.

Through a suit instituted today and entitled R. L. Sabin vs. W. S. Phillips, a number of big Portland firms are seeking to collect accounts alleged to be due them by the defendant. The several amounts alleged to be owed are $161.13 to M. Seller & Co., $227.82 to Hexter-Freedman Hardware Co., $1211.25 to Marshall Wells Hardware company, $159.55 to Times, Cress Co., $124.02 to Central Door & Lumber Co., and $551.14 to Honeyman Hardware Co. W. W. Hallam and Philip Herz are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Harrisburg. — Induced to come to this country through a photograph of an alleged admirer, Mary Konover, a 17-year-old Macedonian lass, discovered upon her arrival in Steelton, three days ago, that she had been shown the picture of another, and today refused to marry the man who really asked for her hand.

When she appeared at the local marriage license bureau with the man she was to wed she informed one of the deputy recorders that she did not love the man and that he was not the person represented to her.

As she explained it to an interpreter, it was a positive contrast to a case of love at first sight. She said she expected to see the "good-looking chap" indicated by the photograph, but instead found that she had never seen nor heard of this man before. When she made this declaration, he, too, protested, and the peculiar circumstances could not be untangled until after the recorder had summoned an official interpreter.

The would-be lover is Milan Spear-koff. With a number of friends he argued with the little lass for fully a half hour; but it was of no use. She still persisted that she had been wronged and refused to say the word. As a climax to the situation a guardian has been appointed for the girl and he was perfectly satisfied that the wedding should take place.

The license was held up pending further inquiry as to the maiden's wishes.

Packers Near Prison.

Chicago, March 12.—J. Ogden Armour and the nine other millionaire packers, came another step nearer prison cells today when Judge Carpenter, who is trying the beef barons, positively refused to dismiss the case at the conclusion of the legal arguments.

Oregonians Off for Frisco.

Portland, Ore., March 12.—While bands played at the Union depot, one hundred and seventy-five Oregon citizens, headed by Governor West started for San Francisco to select the site for the Oregon building at the fair.

ALLEGED FORGER PASSES 2 CHECKS

A man who registered at the Hotel St. George last night under the name of Harry Valentine of The Dalles is the object of a quest now being conducted by the officers for this individual last night succeeded in passing at least two bad checks upon local merchants. The Hanscom Jewelry Co., on Main street and the Scott grocery on West Webb street were the victims who receive the bogus paper. The man appeared at each place just before closing time last evening, taking advantage of the fact that the banks were closed. He bought goods at each store, tendered checks for more than the amount of his purchases and secured cash in change.

At the jewelry store he bought several articles, aggregating in price $13 and received three dollars back from a $16 check. He was a young man and represented himself as being a concrete contractor.

The checks were drawn upon the First National bank of this city and their fraudulent nature were discovered this morning when presented to that institution. That the man was apparently in no hurry to get out of town was attested by his attendance at the theater last night, Mr. Hanscom himself noticing him in the audience.
