COMPETENT TO CRITICISE.

An art student was copying one of bott S. Thayer's paintings at the Metropolitan Museum of Art one day, a plainly dressed man, who ooked as if he might be a mechanic, approached and, posting himself at the young man's elbow, watched him as he labored over his subject.

You've got the angle of the mouth wrong, and the left eye too blique," marked the man decidedly.

The student blinked angrily and the and that wielded the brush trembled slightly, but he took no notice of the unsolicited criticism.

"There is too much yellow in your flesh tint," continued the man, Still no reply from the student, who stentatiously slapped on more yellow n the high line on the nose

"Did you hear what I said?" questioned the man. "Yes, I heard," responded the student, wrathfully turning and glaring at his modest looking critic. "What do you know about it, anyway?" "I ought to know something about it," was the smiling response. "It was I who painted the picture."-New York Press.

DRIVEN TO DRINK ALONE.

"The opponents of temperance." said Edward F Marvin, conductor of the Sons of Temperance, "advance about as good reason for their opposition as did a drunkard one morning in a police court.

You are accused, sir,' said the magistrate, 'of being drunk and disorderly. Any defense?"
