May Oust Jersey Senator.
Trenton, N. J., March 21.—State democratic senators demand the resignation of Senator Fitzherbert, the upper house having found him guilty of inconsistent conduct in connection with the withdrawal of two bills.

Urge Taft to Reply to T. R.
Washington, March 21.—Taft's friends are urging him to reply to Colonel Roosevelt's attack on him last night but Taft is reluctant.

Fire Destroys Sawmill.
Nelson, B. C., March 21.—Fire believed to be incendiary, last night destroyed the Yuel Columbia sawmill with a loss of $75,000.

COUNCIL MUST DECIDE.

He called the council's attention to the existence of a barn on the city property in the east end of the city within forty feet of one of the supply pipes of the water system and advised that it be ordered moved or torn away as it constitutes a menace to the health of the city. Mayor Matlock referred the matter to the water committee, stating that the city had purchased the property to prevent just such sources of contamination and must take measures accordingly.

The health officer also declared that he and the chief of police had visited all of the business houses and impressed upon them the necessity of fly proof receptacles for their garbage and that all had agreed to take such sanitary precautions.

Want Public Garbage Man.
In connection with the subject of sanitation, a communication from the ladies of the Civic club was read last night in which the council was urged to employ a public collector of garbage as a means of keeping the city clean and sanitary. The communication was referred to the finance committee.

as favoring anyone, even a presidential candidate.

Dr. C. J. Smith was the only local speaker called upon and he spoke for but a moment just prior to the adjournment which came at 9:15. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Christian church and music for the occasion was furnished by the local orchestra.

Pierce Sounds Keynote.
The address by Walter M. Pierce was the most extended talk of the evening and was listened to with close attention. In calling upon the former Umatilla county man the toastmaster paid a high compliment to the candidate and Mr. Pierce opened his remarks with references to his early political life in this county, which were warmly greeted. The following is Mr. Pierce's address in full:

No people in all the history of human kind has been so favored as the American people, falling heir by birth, purchase, discovery and conquest to the fairest and most perfectly situated land on the globe. Our

Orpheum.
An exceptional good program for Friday's change. Four reels of the best American pictures.

1. "Lady Godiva." Vitagraph. A Saxon legend of the eleventh century. Lady Godiva self-sacrificing devotion to her people and the punishment of "Peeping Tom," who disregarded it.

2. "A Princess of the Hills." Kalem. The old major domo receives word of the near arrival of the young lord of the estates. The sister of the major domo is in love with Don Miguel, but her advances are repulsed. Don Miguel loves a shepherdess and plans to woo her in the barg of a shepherd.

3. "Uncle's Strategy." Pathe. Two men with grown children meet after a long separation and decide that their children must marry. The young couple do not see it that way. Finally the girl's uncle comes, and being a regular "Mr. Fix It," fixes everything up to satisfaction of every one.

4. "Tracked Down." Essanay. A notorious swindler is arrested by a detective but escapes while being taken to the penitentiary. A few years later the detective meets a man, typically English, who seems strangely familiar to him. The man is the swindler who escaped. He gains an entrance to a home and gets away with the family jewels. After a sensational pursuit he is tracked down and is safe in the clutches of the law.

The Pastime.
The home of good pictures. Friday's change of program.

No. 1. "A Cure for Jealousy." Lubin. Bob was insanely jealous of his beautiful wife; he thought everybody wanted to steal her. Jack Nevins and his young wife visit the Pettibones and Bob's wife sets up a desperate flirtation with the guest. There is war for a few minutes and then everybody has the laugh on Pettibone, who is fairly cured of his foolishness.

2. "The Test." Selig. A strong drama, dealing with a scientific and convincing study in criminology, full of interest from start to finish.

No. 3. "The Strike at the Little Johnny Mine." Essanay. A great sensational strike picture, with all the features that combine to thrill one and win applause—hero, heroine and innocent persecuted, wrongs righted, properly spiced with thrilling scenes and situations.

No. 4. "Roentgen's X-Rays." C. G. P. C. This film is exceedingly interesting in familiarizing the spectator with the mysteries of those invisible rays which penetrate opaque bodies.

No. 5. "Excursion in the Swiss Alps." It is seldom you see a better travelogue than this.

Musical program:
No. 1—When I Gathered Myrtle With Mary. Waltz. S. Furth.
No. 2—Put Your Arms Around Me. Honey. Schottische. A. Von Tizer.
No. 3—That Dreamy Italian Waltz. Waltz.

No. 4—There's a Dixie Girl Who's Longing for a Yankee Doodle Boy. March.
No. 5—Don't Wake Me Up, I'm Dreaming. Waltz.

Cosy.
Wednesday and Thursday, a sensational feature. Republic.

"The Gold Lust." American. Western story with thrills, hard riding, charming love scenes and fine background, in which the love of gold led to some desperate deeds and exciting events.

"Building the Greatest Dam in the World." Imp. Showing construction on the big dam across the Mississippi river at Keokuk, Iowa, giving views of the great plant for making concrete, the big cranes and a score of interesting operations.

"Retribution." Republic. A sensational story, extremely dramatic and very convincing in which a child is forced to give testimony which sent her father to prison for ten years. After many years and after many strange events his innocence is proved.

"A Matinee Mixup." Nestor. Comedy in which jealousy gets four people in some laughable situations. Before things are cleared up there is trouble in bunches.

At the Grand.
Opening tonight:
1. The famous Dancing Richards, in their Texas Tommy dances.
2. The Pendleton Bootblack Quartette.

Photo plays:
Three reels of the best subjects obtainable.

The famous Texas Tommy Dancers are opening tonight at the Grand for a four days' stay. This is one of the best dancing acts on the circuit and sure to please. They just filled a 3 weeks' engagement in Portland.

The Bootblack Quartette is also engaged for a short time. They have proven their ability before to the Pendleton public.

In short this is a very good bill and nobody should miss seeing them.

SNOW AND SLEET CAUSES SUFFERING IN MIDDLE WEST

Chicago, March 21.—Three inches of snow last night, followed by a blinding sleet today is causing much suffering. Transcontinental trains are running behind their schedules or have been cancelled. Telephone and telegraph service is crippled and suburban traffic is at a standstill.

The entire middle west is covered with a blanket of snow. Serious floods in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys are expected to follow with warm weather because of the heavy snow fall.

T. R. to Stump Middle West.
New York, March 21.—Colonel Roosevelt will stump the middle west and in this campaign will reiterate his Columbus speech in substance and discuss the recall of the judiciary. He will leave for Chicago Tuesday. From there he goes to Kansas City, St. Paul, Minneapolis and probably Detroit.

AT THE OREGON THEATRE

"STAGE LASSIE" PUTS ROLE TO GOOD USE

Olive Vail of "Miss Nobody from Starland," doesn't believe in playacting. Miss Vail likes everything real, so when Mort H. Singer assigned to her, role of a Salvation Army lassie in the Princess theater musical production she straightway put her tambourine to good use. The rehearsal scene shows the stage on an opening night of a musical comedy production. One of the first arrivals is a Salvation Army girl who takes her place inside the stage entrance ready to "catch" the players as they come in. "Everybody will have a lot of stage money to fill the tambourine," said Mr. Singer when he told Miss Vail of the role. "Oh, no, you don't," said lehielt ttvHOM.emfwymfwypat said the little actress, "actors and
