LOCAL ELKS SECURE SPECIAL TRAINS

WILL GO TO PORTLAND CONVENTION IN STYLE

Committee Makes Contract With O. W. R. & N. Road to Transport Large Party With Horses to Metropolitan—Families to Attend.

With the Round-Up Cowboy Band discoursing melodies from an eighteen foot platform on the rear of an observation car and with colors by day and electric lights by night proclaiming the occupants of the cars, Pendleton Elks, their wives and families to the number of several hundred will travel to the grand lodge convention next July in a special first class train while behind them will come another special train bearing the horses which will be used in the parade.

All doubt as to the materialization of plans and hopes faded away last night when a committee of Elks entered into a contract with the O. W. R. & N. company for the two trains following negotiations with both that company and the Northern Pacific. By the contract the passenger train is to be composed of ten Standard sleepers, an observation car, a baggage car and a chair car, while two diners are to be added between here and Portland in which all of the party can secure meals at a flat rate. The stock train is to consist of ten palace horse cars and both trains are to be run on their own time, the former not to exceed forty miles an hour and the latter not to exceed thirty miles. Both may be held in Portland during the convention at the option of the Elks.

For those taking horses down a special round-trip rate of twenty dollars for man and beast has been secured, while for others a rate of a fare and a third has been granted. The tickets will permit of an eight-day stay in Portland and members of the party will be privileged to return on any train during that time.

In order to advertise their train, the Round-Up Cowboy Band will be seated on the specially constructed platform on the rear of the observation car and will play as the train winds its way through each city on the route. A big electric sign on the rear will tell all the world that sees it that the train is the Pendleton Elks' special en route to the grand convention.

Negotiations for the railroad company were made by Jack O'Neil and Robert Burns, traveling passenger and freight agents.

Weaver Boosted Clark.

Des Moines, March 25.—The last letter written by General James B. Weaver, father of the "People's Power" movement, populist candidate for president and noted reformer, was published here today. It was written just before he died. It is a strong boost for Champ Clark with the democratic presidential nomination. It says every Iowa delegate to the Baltimore convention ought to support Clark vigorously.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Grand Jury in Session.

The old grand jury was convened this morning at the court house and has been deliberating all day over the tract Attorney Newberry. Many witnesses from over the county have been called to appear before the body.

James Roach was given three days in jail this morning when he pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk, while James Griffin got five days on a vagrancy offense. James Willock forfeited his bail of five dollars which he put up when arrested for being intoxicated.

Funeral of Miss Olcott Held.

Attended by many of the friends who knew the deceased young lady during her life, the funeral of Miss Hazel Olcott, who died in Portland Sunday, was held this morning at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olcott, 515 Ann street. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Holmes, pastor of the Christian church. Interment in Olney cemetery followed the funeral.

Sam Walker is Buried.

After having been held for ten days in the hopes that relatives would be found, the body of Sam Walker, which was found near the railroad track at Thorn Hollow, was last night buried. Coroner Folsom received some letters from Riverside, Calif., which was the deceased's former home and he thinks he may yet discover members of his family from there.

La Grande Sends Delegation.

Although La Grande was a competitor of Pendleton in the attempt to secure the branch asylum, the Commercial club of that city is today manifesting its good will by sending a delegation to the cornerstone ceremony. Among the business men of that city here are George T. Cochran, P. Foley, G. L. Biggers and E. C. Day.

Nelson Child Dies.

Attacked by acute stomach complications at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Sunday, the two and one-half year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nelson of Butler creek, died at 7 o'clock that evening. The child had been suffering at different times since its birth and at once time was in the local hospital and at its grandparents' Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson of this city, but it had appeared to be in good health prior to its sudden sickness Sunday.

Injured Teacher Returns to Work.

Miss Gladys Rahe, well known young lady of this city who had the ligaments of one of her ankles torn more than a week ago when she was thrown from a running horse, left this morning to finish the term of school which she is teaching on Butler creek. Her injury is not yet sufficiently healed to permit her to walk without crutches but the directors of the school have promised to convey her to and from her school.

Malabon Camp Celebrates.

Malabon Camp, Spanish War Veterans, celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of the battle of Malabon last night with a smoker at which not only were their own members present but many veterans from other camps. George A. Hartman acted as master of ceremonies during the evening which was most enjoyably spent in reminiscences of the days spent in the Philippines.

CATTLE RUSTLING IS THING OF THE PAST

Houston, Texas.—Statistics compiled by the Texas Cattle Raisers' association show that there were practically no cattle thefts during the last few years and the gangs that used to terrorize the ranchmen have become extinct. These conditions have been brought about by the effective work of range inspectors, who were stationed in every section of the cattle raising district and with the cooperation of the Texas-Cattle Raisers' association.

These range inspectors were experts trained on the ranches and they knew at sight the 6900 brands recorded at the association's headquarters as well as the brands of a majority of the ranchmen who were not members of the organization.

In the early days cattle stealing was a favorite pastime of a class of people in the Lone Star state and carelessness with the lasso and branding iron was much in vogue, but after a few years of organized effort on the part of the cattlemen (and several public hangings) cattle rustling became a thing of the past and today the man who used to ride the ranges and make war against the cattle rustlers is engaged in more peaceful and less exciting endeavors.

IRISH CONVICT WINS FREEDOM ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Houston, Texas.—The native Irish with of Chick Daily, a Celt and proud of it, although a convict in the Texas prison system, won for him a pardon on St. Patrick's day.

Daily's plea to Governor Colquitt was in the nature of an appeal to him to officially add March 17th to his calendar of pardoning days. He cited to the governor the fact that that official observes the negro emancipation day by pardoning many negroes; the Fourth of July, by freeing many Americans, and September 16—the Mexican national holiday—for freeing of worthy Mexicans. He pleaded with the governor that a least one Irishman be made happy by being allowed to go home on his national holiday. The plea moved Governor Colquitt and a pardon signed and sealed was handed Chick Daily, Celt, of the County of Cork, Ireland, the morning of the 17th of March.

KANSAS WEATHER DIFFERS FROM OREGON

That all portions of the country have not been so blessed as Umatilla county with good weather and good crops is shown by a letter which A. Ruppe, well known farmer, has just received from a relative in Kansas. Describing conditions in Kansas the writer has the following to say:

"We have had the most severe winter I ever saw in Kansas. One storm follows another in quick succession until it seems as if it is all storms. We got our first snow before Christmas, we had a couple of weeks of nice weather the latter part of January. Since then we have had some of the worst storms we ever saw. All of the old settlers agree on this being the worst winter they ever saw in Kansas. The snow banks are from four to 15 feet deep and it is impossible to travel in the roads. The coldest weather we had was in January when it was 26 below zero one morning. I expect that you have all heard of the terrible drought that we had last summer. The farmers did not raise enough wheat for seed, corn was a failure, so was millet, sorghum and prairie hay. So the farmers have had to buy grain for their horses and baled hay too for their stock this winter."

TAFT WINS ILLINOIS AT STATE CONVENTION

Indianapolis, March 25.—The republican state convention today elected four delegates at large to the national convention, instructed to support President Taft. They were chosen by a viva voce vote. Roosevelt men threaten to bolt. The Taft men scored the first decisive victory by a vote of 772 to 667. The minority report of the credentials committee, seating Roosevelt delegates in practically all the contested districts was rejected.
