BITULITHIC STREETS MOST BEAUTIFUL

The Capital City of Oregon is famous for having the most beautiful streets of any city in the United States. They are 100 feet wide, paved with the finest pavements in the world, Warren Brothers Bitulithic waterproof pavement, and have attracted the admiring attention of townbuilders from all over the union. Mayor Ross, of Milwaukee, Wis., after inspecting Salem's 76 blocks of bitulithic said "There is no better pavement than bitulithic and no more beautiful streets than at Salem, Ore."
Warren Brothers Bitulithic pavement stands all tests that can be applied to a street pavement. That laid in Salem four years ago shows no signs of wear, and has never been repaired. — Salem Journal.

GOVERNOR MARSHALL AND WIFE REFUSED ROOM

Chicago, Ill.—Governor John Marshall of Indiana innocently ran afoul of Chicago's new strict police regulations against the registration of couples without baggage at hotels.
The governor and his wife, who are making a tour of the west, stopped in Chicago. They arrived in the morning and went at once to the Great Northern. The governor registered. Scanning his dapper appearance, the clerk asked:
"Where is your baggage?"
"Why, it's at the station. We are only going to be in town a few hours and didn't have it sent to the hotel," was the governor's reply.
"Can't accommodate you," was the terse reply.
"Why not? We've got to have a place to wash up."
"Can't accommodate you," came the answer.
"Well, if you haven't a suite one room will do."
The clerk's tone became icy.
"We can't accommodate you, I tell you. This hotel doesn't accept couples without baggage."
"Young man, I'll have you understand that I am the governor of Indiana and that this is my wife!" the governor fairly shouted, as he grasped Mrs. Marshall by the arm and rushed out of the building, leaving the astonished clerk before he could make a reply.
Later in the day at the Congress hotel, the governor laughed over the incident, but admitted he was "pretty sore" for a time.
The management of the Great Northern denied the refusal of a room was made on the grounds stated by Governor Marshall, declaring all their rooms were occupied at the time.

gen shipped from New South Wales on the barkentine Arizona, bound for San Francisco. When within two days sail of the latter port he became insane.
Under the immigration laws he could not be received in this country, and the steamship company which brought him here was ordered to take him back to his starting place.
But New South Wales refused to accept him. Gajen was born in Russia and that government has been appealed to, but in vain.
Efforts were made by the immigration authorities in this country to locate some of the relatives of Gajen, but without success.

The Evans and Mullen bout was a lively affair while it lasted, but it had nothing to do with the round-up for membership in the Fraternal Order of Eagles next Friday night. Something will be doing all time that night. Look out for the fireworks.
