AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum.
An exceptional good program for Tuesday's change. Four full reels of the best pictures.

1. "The Governor Who Had a Heart." Vitagraph. Brownson is elected governor of his state, with the understanding that he will pass the bill in favor of child labor. The bill is passed but before he will sign it he gives a banquet and invites all the leading politicians. When he comes to speak he presents a child who works in one of the large shops. He contrasts her with his own little daughter. His associates are so ashamed of themselves they endorsed that he veto the bill and promise to sustain his campaign against the evils of the system.

2. "Her Uncle John." Lubin. Grace, who is engaged to marry, one morning is going to work when she drops her hand bag, a fresh young fellow hands it to her and tries to scrape up an acquaintance with her. He is very persistent and in many ways tries to press his suit. Finally he is cornered and treated to a thrashing by the girl and her Uncle John.

3. "Hoodooed." Lubin. John Brown breaks a mirror and is told it means seven years bad luck. The Hoodoo can only be removed by having some one break a mirror like the one he broke.

4. "True Love." Eclipse. The course of true love never did run smooth. Robert and Grace are engaged but when Robert's parents hear that the young lady's fortune had been greatly reduced by a lawsuit they are very much opposed to the match.

5. "An Arizona Escapade." Essanay. Brig Harris, a renegade Mexican, cast off his sweetheart telling her he is tired of her. Harris and a pal have a shipment of ore from the Catspaw mine to be left over night at the house of Barnes, the town agent. A plot to rob Barnes' house is instantly laid.

The Pastime.
The home of good pictures. Vitagraph feature for Tuesday's change: "Nemesis," Vitagraph, featuring Maurice Costello. Cast—Dr. Richard Adams, Mr Maurice Costello; Bob Carter, man of wealth. Van Lyre Brookes; his wife, Miss Rose Tapley; Carter's stenographer, Miss Leah Baird. By subtle inducements and defamation of young Dick Adams, Bob Carter, a well-seasoned and wealthy profligate, succeeds in persuading Nell Carter to marry him and break her engagement with Dick. Bob tires of her after a bit, takes up his old dissipation and deserts her. After this Dick is more bitter against Carter than ever and the day of reckoning comes about in a very peculiar manner.

"Rice and Old Shoes." Lubin. An excellent, strong picture. It is not a romance, but a sophisticated picture of real life. It is a feature, a fine feature for cultivated people.

"The Kidnapped Conductor." Kalem. A fine bunch of pretty cowgirls who ride well. Is what makes this picture go. It also has a comic situation and affords a good many laughs.

"A Victim of Fire Water." American Pathe. A typical western subject of plot upon plot, with a rushing, breezy story that will grip you.

"Outwitting Father." Kalem. A rapid transit comedy with one hundred laughs.

The struggle in which the supposed murdered man lost his life is then described to the sheriff who then sees the suspected ones are innocent. Some good riding and swell scenery.
