PILOT ROCK WATER CASE COMES TO END

Unless an appeal is taken to the supreme court, the long litigation between John P. McManus and A. C. Henderson and sons over an agreement relative to the distribution of water on irrigated lands near Pilot Rock, is at an end. Last week Circuit Judge Phelps handed down his decision in the case, his ruling being mostly in favor of McManus, the plaintiff.

By the terms of his decree, the contract existing between the disputants cannot be revoked by the defendant nor the trustees removed. The court holds the descriptions of the land in the present contract to be plain and that they cannot be changed except by a mutual agreement. Furthermore, Judge Phelps ruled that the land decided to McManus is entitled to share equally with the remaining Henderson lands now under water, but holds that until the defendants have taken water sufficient for their land already under cultivation, McManus has no right to use or sell it.

TOOTHACHE WAS FATAL

Marital illness that ends in death of a man in hospital.

New York.—Clifford Link, who had a fish market in Brooklyn Manor, Queensborough, died at St. Mary's hospital in Jamaica.

He was sent to that institution by Dr. Morsch. When Dr. Morsch was summoned to attend Link he found him suffering considerable pain. His neck was swollen badly.

Link told the doctor that he had a tooth pulled a few days before. The nature of the trouble was not plain, and thinking the glands of the neck might be infected and blood poisoning might set in, Dr. Morsch sent him to the hospital.

Death was caused by pneumonia, according to the hospital report.

PLAYS "DRINK OR SMELL"

Springfield, Mr.—Many causes for discontent in married life are set forth in petitions for divorce filed in the local circuit court, but the latest is contained in the suit filed by Mrs. Minnie A. Whittenberg against Alfred Whittenberg, wherein it is alleged the game of "drink or smell" was one of the chief troubles in their home and has had much to do in promoting marital woes.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PAYS $12,000 DEBT

Showing a splendid success during the last three months and a reduction in the debt on the church in that time of more than $12,000, the finance committee of the First Christian church last week submitted its quarterly report as follows:

Pendleton, Ore., April 19, 1912. To the Members and Friends of the Christian Church, Greeting: Your finance committee is pleased to submit its quarterly report covering the entire work of the church for this period. The bible school is now a part of "morning worship," recently instituted to occupy the morning hour and promises large returns. The attendance last Lord's Day was the largest for two years past, 142. Averages for the quarter were: Attendance, 110; offerings, $7.94; bible, 79; 29 are enrolled in the home department, and 40 on the cradle roll. Bring a friend.

The C. W. B. M. has 33 members, held three meetings, and gave $7.65 to missions.

The Y. P. S. C. E. has 38 members, a gain of seven during the quarter. Had $5.10 on hand January 1, raised $3.03, paid out $3.05, balance, 10.08, on hand. It held 12 services, and is doing splendid work.

The Ladies' Aid has 37 members, $16.96 on hand January 1, gained $212.25; paid out $212.30, has balance of $16.91. Missionary fund on hand January 1, $36.65, received $48.95; paid to ministerial relief, $26.90; to state work, $12.75; to educational work, $7.50; to local benevolences, $11.45; to foreign missions, $30.

Current expense fund, "inherited debt" from 1910, about $300. This is now reduced about one-half and is covered by pledges which must soon be paid. Receipts, from envelope collections, $335.75; from Colfax meeting, $175.50; from National C. W. B. M., for the quarter, $125; from the expense account of the building fund, $359.25; total, $966.50. Expenditures for incidentals, including some bills of long standing, $435.94; balance of pastor's salary for the quarter, $500; total, $992.94. Balance on hand, $35.66.

Building fund. Of this we are very proud. This fine showing was made possible by the leadership of our pastor. Receipts, from sale of notes and bonds, $644.40; from new church extension loan, $4000; from credit on note at bank of pledges made by D. F. Anderson and A. K. Finley, $2000; from Chas. Olcott, $500; from W. F. Matlock, $400; from First National Bank, $100; from sale of old lot, $1800; from collections on notes, bonds and pledges prior to their sale, $1,081.57; total, $16,427.97. Expenditures, to First National Bank, $8605.00; to Chas. Olcott, $2750.70; to W. F. Matlock, $1858.50; to American Seating Co., $556.20; to Mrs. Thompson, $1092; to the city (on sidewalk), $109.48; to the church extension board, $475; to Murphy Bros., $180; to insurance, $102; to Mr. Burrows, bills, $52.35; to expense in handling fund, $243.10; to J. S. Baker, $24.10; total, $16,427.97; net reduction in debt, $12,427.97.

If you did not "get in" on this, you have a chance on the balance, for we owe just $9000 more, which is borrowed from the church extension board, interest 4 per cent, returnable one-fifth each year, first payment due March 1st, 1913. Our property is valued at $45,000, and we carry $17,000 insurance.

All notes and bonds made to the church prior to this have been sold to private parties and are now at the First National Bank for collection, but payments may also be made to Brother St. Reets.

The pastor's report shows 47 addresses, about 150 calls, 17 added to the church, including those at Colfax and $440 raised in cash and pledges for the Colfax church. Did you ever hear our pastor?

Enrollment.—We now have on the roll 126 active members and 110 more either live elsewhere or show but little interest in the church. To which class do you belong? We covet your aid in this great work. Be a worker. A statement of the account of each contributing member accompanies this report. In case of error please notify E. O. Draper at once as a chart showing the financial relation of each member to the church will be posted.

WOMAN BUYS VAUDEVILLE.

Mrs. Chas. F. Kohl Acquires Interest in New York Playhouses.

Chicago.—With the payment of $1,000,000 cash for a one-fifth interest in a chain of New York vaudeville houses, Mrs. Charles E. Kohl, widow of Charles E. Kohl of Kohl & Castle, owners of four Chicago playhouses, becomes a leading figure in the world of variety.

The purchase price for the eight New York playhouses was $5,000,000. B. F. Keith was the buyer. The houses purchased were owned by Percy Williams.

According to local theatrical men, Mrs. Kohl's million dollar purchase means a split in the ranks of the Western Vaudeville Managers' association.

Fans See Local Tri-State League Team In Action

er was not condemned by the critical benches for they saw that he has a number of the ingredients of a good heaver. The other three artists all showed up well. Mountain held the visitors to one hit in his five innings and proved that he has plenty on the ball. Hewitt is a southpaw and his benders completely baffled the Pirate sappers. Wynne, who came here on his own responsibility, made something of an impression on the fans yesterday during his three innings of operation against the Buckaroos. He is a big fellow and has a good assortment of slants and there is a possibility that he may become a fixture. Garrett himself did not pitch but contented himself with watching his men from one of the outer gardens.

Pembroke showed yesterday that he still has all the qualities as a backstop which made him feared by all fans last year when he wore a Walla Walla uniform. He is in right with the fans and the way he pegged to the second station yesterday, catching every would-be stealer by a mile, brought joy to their hearts. Wilson, who caught for the locals, did not show up so well as his fellow receiver, allowing two passed balls and dropping several third strikes but he comes with a good record and the fans are reserving opinion.

Augustus a Star. Of all the infielders little Augustus was the scintillating star, and, if only he could develop his hitting eye, he would be an idol, but in such cases he would not be coveting on a local diamond for his weakness with the willow is all that keeps him out of bigger company. He is a sure felder, staid on his feet has a beautiful whip and seems to get the ball away from him at maximum speed with a minimum effort. The other part of yesterday's left wing, Cushman at third base, also won plaudits from the grandstand. He is one of the most willing workers of the squad and he accepted some fast chances yesterday in perfect form. He played with Whitman college not long since and is living up to the name he made there.

Nadeau, a veteran of many seasons, kicked up the dust around second yesterday with almost as good a form as when he was a youngster and he adds to his infielding ability, the qualities of a good outergarden worker, a hitting eye and a knowledge of the game.

Lodell at first will probably get a contract, for he is a valuable man at the initial sack. He hits well, too, and taken all in all looks mighty good to the fans.

Walters Scores a Hit. The boy who made the hit yesterday was Walters, who covered the center plot. Young Walters spent his childhood in Pendleton but for the past sixteen years has been camping in the Spokane ball park picking up crumbs of baseball knowledge. Though still in his teens, he made such a showing that Joe Cohn took notice of him and wishing to keep a line on him, wired here asking Garrett to give him a tryout. The fans were a little skeptical until his performance yesterday. In the fourth inning Doc Lieuallen cracked the spheroid and sent it hurtling through the ozone between center and right fields. The fans took it for a two sacker but they figured without the boy from Spokane. Facing across the field, he speared it with one hand as it sailed past. In the eighth also he came in from his station with a captured fly and whipped it back to first, completing a fast double. With the stick he started the fireworks in the second and met the ball every time he was up.

Mensor also showed up well in the field and at bat and with his ability as an infielder should make a strong bid for a berth. Garrett did not get an opportunity yesterday to show his worth as a pitcher or fielder, but he batted .500, which is a good beginning for a slabster.
