AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum. An exceptional good program for Tuesday's change. Four full reels of the best pictures.

1—"The Governor Who Had a Heart," Vitagraph. Brownlee is elected governor of his state, with the understanding that he will pass the bill in favor of child labor. The bill is passed but before he will sign it he gives a banquet and invites all the leading politicians. When he comes to speak he presents a child who works in one of the large shops. He contrasts her with his own little daughter. His associates are so ashamed of themselves they endorsed that he veto the bill and promise to sustain his campaign against the evils of the system.

2—"Her Uncle John," Lubin. Grace, who is engaged to marry, one morning is going to work when she drops her hand bag, a fresh young fellow hands it to her and tries to scrape up an acquaintance with her. He is very persistent and in many ways tries to press his suit. Finally he is cornered and treated to a thrashing by the girl and her Uncle John.

3—"Hoodooed," Lubin. John Brown breaks a mirror and is told it means seven years bad luck. The Hoodoo can only be removed by having some one break a mirror like the one he broke.

4—"True Love," Eclipse. The course of true love never did run smooth. Robert and Grace are engaged but when Robert's parents hear that the young lady's fortune had been greatly reduced by a lawsuit they are very much opposed to the match.

No. 5. "Wolcott Combs," Selig. The phenomenal blind and deaf boy. Showing the partial result of three years of study and what may be accomplished by the deaf blind. A really remarkable educational picture on same reel with "The Boys of the Figure Two." Reviewing the sports, pastimes and work of a day on the west's largest horse ranch.

Musical program.

1. Chanticleer Rag. Albert Gumble.

2. Play Dat Rag. T. Leomniar.

3. That Italian Rag. A. Pianadost.

4. That Hypnotizing Rag. F. F. Zittel.

5. Alabama Shuffle Rag. R. Barton.

The Pastime. The home of good pictures. Vitagraph feature for Tuesday's change: "Nemesis," Vitagraph, featuring Maurice Costello. Cast—Dr. Richard Adams, Mr. Maurice Costello; Bob Carter, man of wealth, Van Lyre Brookes; his wife, Miss Rose Tapley; Carter's stenographer, Miss Leah Baird. By subtle inducements and defamations of young Dick Adams, Bob Carter, a well-seasoned and wealthy profligate, succeeds in persuading Nell Carter to marry him and break her engagement with Dick. Bob tires of her after a bit, takes up his old dissipation and deserts her. After this Dick is more bitter against Carter than ever and the day of reckoning comes about in a very peculiar manner.

"Rice and Old Shoes," Lubin. An excellent, strong picture. It is not a romance, but a sophisticated picture of real life. It is a feature, a fine feature for cultivated people.

"The Kidnapped Conductor," Kalem. A fine bunch of pretty cowgirls who ride well, is what makes this picture go. It also has a comic situation and affords a good many laughs.

"A Victim of Fire Water," American Pathé. A typical western subject of plot upon plot, with a rushing, breezy story that will grip you.

"Outwitting Father," Kalem. A rapid transit comedy with one hundred laughs.

Musical program:

No. 1. My Konicek, march two-step A. L. Meresh.

No. 2. Kdzy Ja Lieb Spin (In dream-land) Waltzes.

No. 3. O Zvonu, polka two-step.

No. 4. Venricko Ma (My Country Home) Waltzes.

No. 5. Poda Mijnem (At the Mill) march-to-step.

Cosy. Wednesday and Thursday another Marlon Seaward photo play that touches our sympathies.

"So Speaks the Heart," Rex. Featuring Miss Marlon Seaward in a beautiful story. The girl became blind, and her lover, unable to stand the test, left her and went west. She asked for letters from him and her mother gave her blank sheets of paper. One day they took her to a great surgeon and he cured her eyes, and she saw the box filled with blank paper and understood.

"The Branded Indian," Powers. Indian lost his money playing poker with a half breed and claims Indian stole it. The Indian was captured and the half breed branded him on the cheek. He became an outlaw. But in a series of lively events his innocence is proven.

"His Step Mother," Majestic. In this picture is shown the struggle a young man had with himself when he felt in love with a girl whom his father married in his absence. But matters were properly adjusted in the end.

"Those Married Men," Gt. Northen. A farce comedy showing three great comedians at their best. How they escaped from their wives and their subsequent adventures are very amusing.
