Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Want a New Arc Light.
Residents of the neighborhood of Johnson and Alta streets are petitioning the council for the installation of an arc light at the intersection of these streets.

Drive in From Echo.
Hugh Stanfield, Allen Thomson and Dr. Dorn drove up from Echo today in an auto to attend the Masonic degree ceremonies.

Judge Gets Birthday Present.
Judge Thomas Fitz erald, who is secretary of the local Elks lodge, was surprised by the lodge at the close of its session last evening when he was presented with a handsome fountain pen as a birthday gift. Likewise, he was surprised by his own family in the evening with a roast goose dinner, and, altogether, he enjoyed a happy anniversary.

Dies at Indian Agency.
Mrs. Mary Hammond Williams, mother of Sara C. Cloutier, one of the teachers at the Indian agency, died this morning at the home of her daughter after suffering for some time with asthma and in gripe. She was aged 78 years and, besides her daughter, leaves a son in Washington. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the Baker undertaking parlors.

White Slaver Is Convicted.
Chief of Police John Kearney returned this morning from Spokane where he had been as a witness against John Sullivan, accused of white slavery. He reports the conviction of the prisoner after a lengthy trial. Sullivan formerly lived here and was arrested here in November for bringing Rena Holmes here for immoral purposes. His sentence had not been pronounced when Kearney left.

Swaggart Back to New York.
Lester Swaggart will leave tomorrow evening for New York where he will again consult Dr. Coley, specialist, regarding the malignant growth from which he has been a sufferer for several years. It will be remembered that he recovered wonderfully while receiving treatment in the eastern city last year, but recently he has been troubled again, though not as seriously as before.

Game Tomorrow and Sunday.
Though Charles Bond received a telegram from O. A. C. stating that the trip into the inland empire has been postponed for the time being, the Buckaroos are pretty well hooked up for practice games. Tomorrow the formidable Adams team will cross bats with them on the local diamond and on Sunday will come the battle royal when Garrett will divide his men and pit them against each other in a tryout of skill that will determine the fate of several of the men. The practice game held yesterday afternoon went ten innings and every man was playing the game as if his life depended on the outcome.

Tom Mylan Is Brought Back.
When Chief of Police John Kearney returned from Spokane last evening he had in his custody Tom Mylan, the last of the trio who beat up M. W. Beardorf during the recent teamster's strike. Mylan was arrested in Pasco but resisted the efforts to bring him back for trial and it was necessary to secure extradition papers. He was given a preliminary hearing before Juscelce of the Peace Parkes this morning and bound over to the grand jury under $300 bonds. Being unable to secure them, he is being held in the county jail. Mylan is not gaining much by fighting the case against him as he has already been in jail longer than the term drawn by his fellow offenders.

Non-Supporter Must Now Work.
After the conclusion of an interesting trial yesterday afternoon, County Judge J. W. Maloney sentenced William Martin to three months in jail for failure to provide for his wife but announced that instead of actually confining the man behind the bars he would put him to work on the county road. The prisoner was accused by his wife of failure to contribute anything toward supporting her for several weeks and this fact was well established though the defense attempted to show that the defendant had been kept away from home by fear of his wife. The latter admitted that she had struck his several times in her disgust at his drunken condition but denied that she had ever wielded a club. "I only struck him with this," she said and exhibited a clenched fist. The couple have been married since last August. Col. J. H. Raley, appearing for the defendant, intimated that he would appeal the case.

HIS OFFENSE NOT OUTLAWED.

Wife Deserter Is Arrested Long After Spouse Remarried.
York Pa.—When Detective Fickes ran into Cornelius Lasage upon the street he remembered a five-year-old warrant which he had been carrying about ever since 1907 and clapped it upon him. It charged desertion of three minor children.
Mrs. Mabel Lasage, whose name appears upon the time-stained document as prosecutrix, has since secured a divorce and remarried. The children, whose ages appear as 6 and 3 years, and 9 months, are now aged 11, 8 and 6 years, respectively.
Lasage disappeared at the time of the prosecution and has been spending most of the time in Connecticut. He returned home to see his children.

4 FEUDISTS FALL IN FIGHT.

Selma, Ala.—J. T. Bradford and W. H. Bradford, prominent residents of Dallas county, are dead, George Haines is in a dying condition and his nephew, Hammond, is perhaps fatally injured as the result of a feud fight that occurred at Roche's Landing on the Alabama river near here.

It's a Dog-Gone Shame

that a puppy should be too affectionate in the street in muddy weather, but both ladies and gentlemen have good redress when we get their garments to clean. They are made to look like new again. And no matter how delicate the fabric may be, we never injure it in the cleaning operation.

THE $15.00 WATCH FOR WOMAN
Some folks think a woman's watch is merely a decorative piece of jewelry—to be worn only on festive and formal occasions and stored the rest of the time in the back of the top drawer of the bureau—underneath the handkerchiefs—where the burglars can't find it.
This is not that kind of a watch.
It's an Elgin. The word ELGIN is an expression commonly used to describe timekeeping. You should give your wife one of these watches—she'll use it all day from the time she gives the breakfast eggs a three minute boil until she puts the children to bed. It will help her to bring order into all workings of the household.

EXTRA MADAME SARAH BERNHARDT EXTRA
The World's Greatest Actress in Her CAMILLE
Greatest Success
COSY THEATRE Fri. and Sat., April 26-27
SPECIAL NOTICE: This is positively the first and only appearance of Mme. Bernhardt in motion pictures. In "CAMILLE" you have your only opportunity of seeing this world renowned actress.
Of this "Camille" the London "Telegram" says: The finest star in Madame Bernhardt's crown as all the world knows is her Marguerite Gauthier. Surely she never played the part more finely than now. The scenes are essential in every liberal theatrical education. No one has ever denied her conquering fascination. Can one ever praise too much that wonderful last scene, its pathos and passion, its fire and tenderness, its infinitely pious beauty? Who in our day but Madame Bernhardt has ever been so vivid? Who has had the power so to reveal the passion of the soul through the dying body's frailty?
It is the supreme dramatic masterpiece of the age.
TO OUR PATRONS—On account of the tremendous demand for these films, we were obliged to pay an enormous sum for the privilege of using them, therefore we are obliged to raise the price of admission to 15c and 25 Cents in order to break even.
In all the world no other picture to equal these. At the summit of her glory Sarah Bernhardt has conquered the new world of the Photo Play in "Camille," her finest role and the most popular drama in the history of the theatre.
AFTERNOON AND EVENING.
Consider:—Bernhardt has reigned for years the undisputed sovereign of the stage, history offers no parallel to her popularity. As late as this winter London went mad over her Camille. The critics deplored the weakness of their adjectives. So immense was her drawing power that for playing the last scene of "Camille" alone she was paid $10,000 per week. Think, then, what it means to have "Camille" incarnated by Bernhardt in motion pictures. Ever since the beginning of the motion picture art, it has been the dream of the studios to have Bernhardt for a subject. For years she resisted gold and entreaties. She consented only when convinced that the projective would be worthy of her glorious self.
