TEXAS TOMMY AT THE GRAND THEATER

Stevenson & Barr, the champion Texas Tommy dancers, opened last night to a highly pleased audience. This act comes directly from the Barbary coast, made a hit in San Francisco, played Portland S. R. O. and won the championship for their clever dancing in Seattle. The management had to go to great expense to be able to secure these people for this town, but it was money wisely spent. Their act makes good and went by from the very start as last night's houses proved. This is the cleverest act ever visiting Pendleton. Don't miss to see them, they are only booked for four days. Sunday will close their contract. Moseley & Co, another act on the bill, made a very good showing in their playlet, "The Wayside Inn." The pictures were of the usual high grade. In short, a very good show. Don't miss to "see it."

WEDS WHEN HE GETS JAG.

Man Admits That Matrimony Generally Makes His Lapse From Sobriety.
New York.—Arranged in the court of general sessions on a charge of bigamy and confronted by two wives, Thomas Wright, a butler, said: "You see, it's this way, your honor. Whenever I get drunk I fall in love with somebody. Most always I escape getting married but sometimes I don't. That's all I got to say." Mrs. Nora Wright, the wife of L. Eggert Wright, whom the butler took unto himself last November, smiled brightly as their mutual husband was given a sentence of from one year and a half to three years in Sing Sing and later walked from the court room with arms linked.

ALAS, ALACK!

"There will be no marriage nor giving in marriage in heaven," said Mrs. Henpeck. Mr. Henpeck drew a long, deep, sad sigh. "Why do you look so sad about it, Henry?" she asked. "We haven't any such assurance about conditions in the other place." Ah, Yes! "Ah," sighed Mrs. Plumpley. "that song carries me back to my childhood days." "Some carrier," whispered Mrs. Snipperson, turning to Mrs. KaFlippe

PHONE SETS ROBBER FLYING.

York, Pa.—A telephone in the home of Dr. W. A. Yeagy of Dillsburg made an excellent burglar alarm.

Robert Bally, living not far away, detected a man in the act of crawling through a window into the home of the physician. Not caring to risk an encounter with the would-be thief, he went to his telephone and called up the physician.

Looking out again, he saw the burglar make his exit as though fired from a gun. The telephone bell had done the work. Nothing was missing except a few dollars from a drawer of the sideboard.

Nurse to Wed Her Patient.

Winsted, Conn.—Miss Alegetha Wright, until recently assistant matron of the Litchfield County Hospital, is now on her way across the continent to wed Albert R. Burwell a chemist of Los Angeles, Cal.

Miss Wright, assisted in saving his eyesight when he was a patient in the hospital here last year. Young Burwell, who is a son of Dr. R. M. Burwell of Winsted, had been severely burned by an explosion in a local laboratory and grave fears were entertained for his sight.

Miss Wright looked after his case personally and their engagement followed his recovery.
