ANIMAL CIRCUS TO BE HERE TOMORROW

AL G. BARNES' CELEBRATED SHOW GIVES 2 PERFORMANCES

Street Parade and Unloading of Wild Beasts from Trains Are Features Before Beginning of Performance at Grounds.

Three special trains of railroad equipment, consisting of thirty-two specially constructed cars, will arrive in Pendleton early tomorrow morning bringing the paraphernalia of the Al G. Barnes Big Three-Ring Wild Animal Circuit. For weeks the small boys have been counting the days and hoarding their pennies that they may buy real pink lemonade and peanuts for the elephants on circus day.

As quickly as the cars are parked on the railroad siding in the yards of the O. W. R. & N. the work of unloading will commence.

To the average small boy and to the grownups too, for that matter, the work of unloading the circus trains is one of the most pleasing incidents to the program of circus day. The intuitive welcoming shouts of boys and girls, a blurred slender outline in the distance, the screeching of railroad whistles and the hurried orders of officials. Then a pressure of breaks, a crunching of wheels and a rattling of coupling pins. The circus has arrived!

One of the first persons to alight is the circus mail carrier who hurries to the postoffice. This is the first of three trips to the government station he will make during the day. At his heels is the general manager, whose multifarious duties require an early rising. The circus detective follows behind, scrutinizing faces and figures and approaching by easy stages the local police station.

There are two sleeping cars bearing animal trainers and members of the executive staff on the first section. This train is known as the "baggage section." It bears the paraphernalia necessary to the immediate work of the encampment, s follows: Stake and chain wagons, side pole and center pole wagons, water tank wagons, cook tent wagons and kitchen vans.

On the second section is carried the jack wagons, tableau wagons, dens, chariots, elephants, camels, the seat wagons, etc. The fine circus special carries the 350 odd wild animals together with their keepers and all the remaining attaches of the show.

As fast as the circus trains are unloaded tomorrow morning the haul to the show grounds will commence. The work of unloading generally requires about three hours and is always fraught with that hurry and bustle characteristic of circus followers.

A glittering, gorgeous, fastidious street pageant—one mile in length—will leave the show grounds at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. All the principal downtown streets will be passed through. Following the street parade a series of free exhibitions will be given on the show grounds. The doors to the big show will be opened at 1 and 7 p. m. that the magnificent menagerie may be viewed. The performances will commence one hour later. For half an hour preceding the big show a concert of popular and classic music will be given by the Al G. Barnes Military band of twenty-eight soloists under the direction of Prof. E. E. Markham.

One of the principal acts to be seen with the Al G. Barnes circus this year is the group of twenty-four monster lions which perform in a massive steel girded arena under the direction of Captain Richard Ricardo, one of the world's great animal trainers. Other acts of especial importance is that of Mme. Florine and her Persian leopards, South American panthers and leopards; Miss Dolly Castles in a sensational dance surrounded by a score of man-eating lions and Mme. Ricciedo and her group of Royal Bengal tigers. Altogether there are fifty-two separate acts which are given in two rings and the arena.

Notice to Stockholders. Notice is hereby given to the stockholders of the Pendleton Wool Scouring and Packing Co., that a meeting will be held in the office of the company in Pendleton, Oregon, on Tuesday, May 7th, 1912, at 2 p. m. E. Y. JUDD, President. EDWIN J. BURKE, Secretary.

And there's more competition in the lying business than in any other line.

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD AT COLLEGE

State College of Washington, Pullman, May 6.—Every inch a booster, and decidedly a positive factor in all phases of student activities, Harry M. Chambers, nephew of Isaac Jay and grandson of James A. Jay, Pendleton's lone representative at the state college, has done more in both advancing the fame of his home city and a high standard of student endeavor at the college than any other member of the present junior class.

Harry is fond of "the home town" and his position of prominence in the student body gives him ample opportunity to secure for Pendleton a firm place on the collegiate map of a widely representative enrollment. The sterns Medal Debate contest, which provides a $50 gold medal, the highest debate trophy in the institution, which was held last May, saw Harry in the competition, and that he easily won was no surprise to the student body. Winning this medal placed him in line for leader of the debating team this year that went to Seattle as opponents of the University of Washington in the intercollegiate triangular debate. The team lost on a two to one decision, but it was no fault of Harry's. He was easily the best speaker.

Harry is a member of the Altha Tau Omega national fraternity, and is vice president of the Crimson Circle, the upperclassmen's honor society, of which he will undoubtedly be president during his senior year. He was last year's treasurer of the athletic association, is now a member of the executive committee of the students assembly, and one of a committee of five who anger the first annual campus activities.

MEDAL TO TITANIC HEROES.

Carnegie Commission to Have One Placed in Washington Museum.

Pittsburg, Pa.—At a special meeting of the Carnegie hero fund commission action was taken in recognition of the many acts of heroism in the wreck of the Titanic. While under the terms of its foundation the commission is unable adequately to recognize the self-sacrifice displayed by passengers, officers and crew of the ship. It was decided that a gold medal be issued by the commission, appropriately inscribed to the heroes and heroes of the Titanic, and deposited in the United States National Museum at Washington, and that a record thereof be placed on the roll of honor of the Carnegie hero fund commission "as a lasting memorial of those whose chivalrous conduct and self-sacrifice have profoundly moved the civilized world."

BIG CONVENTION FOR 1912.

"See America First" Association Proposes Great Gathering.

Baltimore, Md.—It was decided by the organization committee of the "See America First" committee to cooperate with the San Francisco Convention League in an effort to hold a "See America First" convention in San Francisco while the Panama-American exposition is in progress in 1915.

NO INDIGESTION OR SICK STOMACH

GAS, HEARTBURN, DYSPEPSIA AND ALL MISERY VANISHES

Five Minutes, After Taking a Little Diapiesin—Your Stomach Will Feel Fine. Again—Eat Your Favorite Foods Without Fear of Distress.

Take your sour, out of order stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and let you eat one 32-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name of your trouble is food fermentation—food souring; the digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapiesin.

The organization committee had considered the possibility of holding the proposed convention in Baltimore this year, but it was deemed inadvisable because of the interest taken by the country in the presidential convention.

A vigorous campaign will be waged throughout the country in an educative way. Children will be impressed with the importance of visiting places of interest in their own country before trying foreign travel.

NOTICE OF BIDS FOR CITY PRINTING.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Common Council of the City of Pendleton at the City Recorder's office in Pendleton, Oregon, up to May 8th, 1912, at 5 o'clock p. m. for the city printing for the ensuing two years bids to specify the price per inch for all city notices set in six (6) point type solid, and price per hundred for blanks or per thousand as the case may be. Information as to blanks required will be furnished upon application to the City Recorder. The city reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Dated this 25th day of April, 1912. THOS. FITZ GERALD, City Recorder.

BEAUTY DOCTORS FACE SUIT FACE DID NOT SUIT WOMAN

Has Features Treated by Dermatologists and Awakes With Entirely New Physiognomy—Asks Damages. Chicago, Ill.—Because she went to bed with her usual face and awakened with one she had never seen before, Mrs. Nina M. Clampitt, 3499 Elaine place, filed a suit for $50,000 in the circuit court against two dermatologists, Dr. Harry R. Enlow and J. Elizabeth Tompkins. Mrs. Clampitt alleges the beauty doctors have ruined her appearance forever as a result of her face melting away.

Mrs. Clampitt visited the two four years ago and had a wrinkle between her eyes filled out by an injection of paraffin. The operation had such interesting results that she decided to have Dr. Enlow change the whole contour of her face. She went into the operating room wearing a distinctly oval face and left it with one that was as round and plump as a baby's. That was four years ago, and all went well until the fateful morning several weeks ago when Mrs. Clampitt climbed out of bed and took her morning peep into the looking glass.

Overnight her beautiful plump face had gone forever and left in its place one that was an utter stranger. All of the paraffin that had been injected suddenly had fallen and my skin had caved in and hung in the most awful wrinkles imaginable. Those doctors had ruined my pretty face and now—now they've got to suffer for it."

Dr. Enlow alleges that the responsibility of the facial collapse is not his.

"She was so delighted with my work that she came to me and wanted me to do some more repairing," he said. "but I didn't care to run the risk of spoiling what I had already done, so I wouldn't give her the treatment. I firmly believe she then went to some quack who shot some more paraffin into her face and put a too great load upon the tissues. This is the reason that now she is not so pretty."

Mrs. Clampitt's attorney declares that she had been a handsome woman before she made her first visit to the beauty specialists, and that she had taken this through a mere whim.

LITTLE SURPRISES.

"Mister, your gas bill is so little this month that we'll tack it on to next month's statement. Good day."

"Match? Certainly; here's a box of 'em. Stick it in your pocket."

"Dear Sukie: I am sorry to say I shall be unable to visit you this summer as contemplated."

'AUNT HESTER.'

"Mr. Swineford, this is the last month's salary you will ever receive from us. We are going to take you into the firm."

"All I want, young man, is a pair of shoes that fit me; I don't care how big they are."

"That was the worst cigar I ever tried to smoke, Duban, but I voted for you just the same."—Chicago Tribune.
