R. R. MEN OVERWORKED.

Court Fines Denver & Rio Grande for Breaking Hours of Service Law.

Santa Fe, N. M.—The Denver & Rio Grande railroad was found guilty on four counts by Federal Judge Pope of violation of the federal statute fixing the maximum hours of service for train crews at sixteen hours. The court held that holding a train on a siding to allow another train to pass, even with the waiting train's headlight extinguished, switch locked, brakeman asleep and engineer reading, does not constitute a break in the sixteen-hour maximum of service provided by law. The railroad was fined $250 and costs.

U. S. ASKS $110,000 DUTY.

Federal Sugar Refining Company is Sued for Underweight.

New York.—Suit against the Federal Sugar Refining company for $116,000 was filed by the government in the Federal District Court. The amount represents alleged back duties on importation of sugar entered at the custom house between 1902 and 1908, a difference due to the recently discovered errors in the original liquidated weights.

Through an error in the drafting of the papers it appeared that the suit was for full value instead of back duties.

FIRST EAGLE BOY SCOUT.

Signal Distinction is Won by Long Island Youth.

New York.—Arthur R. Eldred of Rockville Center, L. I., has just won the distinction of becoming the first eagle scout among 300,000 of his fellow boy scouts of America.

The title of eagle scout is awarded to the boy who has gone through the three different degrees of scouting, namely, tenderfoot, second class and third class scout, and who has passed the tests in twenty-one different useful and fun-giving activities, including firemanship, gardening, woodcraft, cooking, horsemanship and handicraft.

When it is considered that the national court of honor of the Boy Scouts of America has awarded only 141 merit badges to about fifty boys in the last year, Eldred's honors seem all the greater. Before he gained his honors, however, he had to undergo a thorough schooling in all the subjects prescribed for him.

Another boy who has gained signal honors among the Boy Scouts is Vincent Deviny, member of the bear patrol, Olivet Troop No. 3, of St. Paul. He got a medal of honor for saving the life of Harold Hillman, another Boy Scout. Deviny and Hillman were swimming in Birch lake on August 2, 1911, when Hillman got a cramp and sank for the second time. Deviny went after him and finally pulled him to shore and resuscitated him by first aid methods.

MISS RUTH ELIOT TO WED.

Granddaughter of Harvard Educator to Be His Secretary's Bride. Cambridge, Mass.—News was received from Rogers Pierce, son of Dr. M. V. Pierce of Milton, that he has become engaged to Miss Ruth Eliot, granddaughter of Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard. No date for the wedding has been fixed. Mr. Pierce is a graduate of Harvard and is about thirty years of age. He has been traveling with President Eliot in the latter's party as Dr. Eliot's secretary.

Miss Ruth Eliot is the daughter of the late Charles Eliot, who achieved some prominence as a landscape painter.

Killed by Shock of Fire

Ithaca.—The shock of the burning of the central school building caused the death of E. Kirk Johnson, secretary of the board of education. Mr. Johnson, who was seventy-one, hurried to the fire and entered the building. He inhaled smoke and on the way back home was overcome by acute indigestion. He died at midnight of uraemic poisoning, the vital organs having become paralyzed by shock.

THE CHAIN IS NO STRONGER THAN ITS WEAKEST LINK.

Pendleton, Ore., May 6, '12.

The weakest link in the article which Mr. Robert J. Linden published in the Live Wire on May 3rd, is the statement that the Gravel Bitulithic Pavement is laid on a loose gravel base. This shows his utter lack of knowledge of Gravel Bitulithic construction. As a matter of fact the Gravel base is mixed with Bitumen and placed on the street at a temperature of about 250 degrees Fahrenheit and compressed by rolling with a heavy steam roller. The surface is prepared in a similar manner and the finished street is a solid monolithic pavement.

The statement also reads: "I will not discuss the qualities of this pavement, nor will I compare it with a pavement resting upon an immovable foundation of concrete."

Well, from the above statement I judge that the party knows very little about Gravel Bitulithic and also that it is a good thing not to try to compare the qualities of the two pavements, for one would find himself floundering in deep water to find a scientific argument in favor of the rigid pavement compared to the elastic resilient pavement.

Here are a few missing links in the above mentioned article. It speaks of contracts awarded in Portland. This I am forced to contradict, as no such contracts have been awarded and I have certified letters from city officials of Portland to that effect.

It also says, "Bitulithic was $2.10 per sq. yard, and 25c per yard additional for five years' maintenance." The price, as the fact stands, was $2.00 per sq. yard with no maintenance charge.

The article states again that Bitulithic patents are in the hands of the Standard Oil Co. This is absurd as the patent is not on a Bituminous Cement, or the article pertaining to oil, but is on the mineral aggregate mixture, which is the grading and mixing of the rock and sand itself. I wish to state in this connection that the Warren Bros. have manufactured Asphalt and Bituminous Cement for the past thirty years, laid asphalt pavement for nearly twenty years before the invention of their famous Bitulithic Pavements, and have laid Bitulithic for the past eleven years. And when they guarantee to turn a street over at the end of five years' use in a perfect condition, you can be sure they will be here to fulfill their contract and will not have dissolved and blown to the four winds before the time has expired.

The citizens of Pendleton do not have to leave their own city to see a sample of the high class pavement laid by the Warren Brothers Co. Main and Court Streets having been laid for six years are in perfect condition.

Therefore in summing up I will say that the chain of thought displayed in the newspaper article under consideration, contains many very weak links and several links are missing entirely on the grounds of misunderstanding of real facts as set forth in the article.

POOR HUSBY NEEDN'T SUPPORT RICH WIFE

San Francisco.—A rich wife is not entitled to support from a poor husband was the substance of a ruling made by Superior Judge F. J. Murasky on an application by Jennie N. Bishop for temporary alimony pending the trial of a divorce suit she has instituted against Harry H. Bishop, a mail carrier, charging him with desertion. Bishop has filed a cross-complaint making the same charge. Mrs. Bishop and her counsel, William A. Kelly, came before Judge Murasky with a petition for $75 a month alimony pending trial, and $200 counsel fees. The husband's salary is $100 a month. The judge inquired of Mrs. Bishop what her financial standing was. She said she owned real estate valued at $20,000 which was her separate property. Her husband owned property valued at $1,500, but which was encumbered with a $750 mortgage.

Judge Murasky told Mrs. Bishop the only thing he could do for her would be to give her action and speedy trial and that he believed she could manage to live off her income in the meantime without any temporary alimony. He denied the application to have the husband pay $200 to the wife's attorney, declaring the wife was fully able to pay her own counsel fees.

FEIGNS DEATH AND DIES.

Child Falling Over to Fool Pedestrians, Has Neck Broken.

Shenandoah, Pa.—Robert Waters, 9 years old, son of T. C. Waters, a well known business man, was found dead on the mountain road north of town. The victim was playing "dead" with a number of companions, and while falling to the ground to make pedestrians believe he was dead, struck his chin against a protruding stone, breaking his neck, causing his death instantly.

PASTOR AS POLICE HEAD.

Canton, Ill.—Pastor W. T. Kossinger of the local United Brethren church has applied to Mayor Fox for the position of chief of police.

He says he wants an opportunity to clean up the city and would expect to retain his pulpit if appointed.

It is understood another man is to be named for the position.

SLAVERY IN SOUTH AMERICA.

Mr. Alexander P. Rogers, who lately made an engineering trip through South America, tells of the barbarities committed by rubber adventurers to get cheap labor. They entice peons to come from the interior of Bolivia under the promise of high wages. As soon as the unsuspecting natives arrive, they are arrested upon complaint of an agent of these men, who charges that the peons owe him several hundred dollars. They are taken before the judge, who is also an accomplice and who immediately finds the peons guilty and sentences them to work out the debt on the boats that carry gold and rubber down the rapids. The conspirators own the boats, of course. They force the victims to work until they drop from exhaustion or die of fever.

If they will not work the poor creatures are taken to the jail and stretched out on the ground while a burley ruffian gives them from 200 to 500 lashes with a deadly leather whip. I actually saw one boat's crew of Bolivians work for two long days in the blazing sun without being given a thing to eat except a little cold salted beef, while they paddled. Among the peons a smile is rare.

The average man is just as sharp or dull as his point of view.
