RESUMES BALDWIN FIGHT.

Miss Turnbull Will Continue to Sue for Share of Estate.

Boston.—Despite the decision of California supreme court denying her a new trial, Miss Beatrice Anita Turnbull of Brookline will continue her contest for a daughter's share of the estate of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, who she claims, was her father. The estate amounts to approximately $20,000,000.

Walter B. Grant of this city, one of Miss Turnbull's attorneys, announced that the contest would be continued.

"I do not know what the California supreme court says in its opinion denying the new trial, so I cannot say just what our course will be," he said. "The fight may be renewed either in the state courts of California or the federal courts there."

HAZEL MOORE IN TOILS.

Woman Who Ruined Ortes Hamilton Violates the White Slave Law.

Seattle.—Hazel Moore, who gained notoriety three years ago as the woman upon whom former Adjutant General Ortes Hamilton of the Washington National Guard squandered the $50,000 he was convicted of embezzling from the militia fund, was arrested on a charge of violating the federal white slave law.

When Hamilton's defalcation was exposed, Mrs. Moore hurriedly left Seattle for Oakland and did not return until after the former Adjutant General was sent to the penitentiary at Walla Walla, where he is serving his sentence.

ARRESTED FOR BLACKMAIL.

Bisbee.—Thomas Callaghan, a miner, was arrested here charged with having attempted to blackmail L. C. Shattuck, millionaire mine operator and banker.

Callaghan is said to have gained admittance to Shattuck's office and demanded money, threatening to kill Shattuck and dynamite his home, if he refused to comply.

Shattuck told him to return later, and meantime, notified the police. Callaghan did not return, but was later arrested and locked up.

YOUNG GIRL HELD AS MURDERESS AND SPY

Philadelphia.—Charged by the German government with being a murderess and spy and with having stolen $70,000 in gold in addition to valuable papers, Marie Purz, aged 20 years, a Saxon girl, was arraigned here before United States Commissioner Edmunds. She is charged with having killed Karl Gutlieb. Miss Purz waived extradition, agreeing to return to Germany voluntarily. She emphatically asserted her innocence.

The German government charges the girl with killing Gutlieb because he refused to allow his son to marry her, and that she then stole the papers and money from their hiding place. She eluded secret service men until her recent arrival in Pittsburg.

RICH VOICE KEEPS NOOSE FROM NECK

Condemned Man's Sentence Commuted After Folks Heard Him Sing. Sharon, Pa.—A remarkable baritone voice has saved Veika Ankravitch from the hangman's noose, for the board of pardons has recommended to Governor Tener that he commute the death sentence of the murderer to life imprisonment. When the condemned man was told the news he cried for joy and exclaimed "Thank God!"

Then he broke forth into a hymn with such expression that tears were brought to the eyes of Sheriff Martin Grain. The prisoner's wonderful voice caused many to work in his behalf, including scores of prominent women. Often, unknown to the prisoner, music-loving visitors were allowed to stand in the jail corridor and listen while Ankravitch sang one melody after another.

UNABLE TO GET DIVORCE, HAPPY WITH TWO WIVES

Pittsburg, Kan.—Unable to procure a divorce from either of his two wives Peter Sharp now is living happily with both at his home here, his attorney said.

Prior to the attempt of Sharp to obtain a divorce from his wife, Celia Samantha, it was said peace did not reign in the divided household.

Sharp married his first wife, Ann Catharine, more than forty years ago but became separated from her during the Chicago fire. Believing his wife to have perished, thirty years later he married Celia Samantha. Last summer he learned that Ann Catharine was still alive and since then he and his two wives have lived together.

Decreed at first determined Sharp to seek a legal separation from one of his helpmates.

Orpheum. An extra good program for Tuesday's change. Four full reels of the best pictures.

1. "The Female of the Species." Biograph. A miner, his wife and her sister and another young woman are the sole survivors of a mining camp on the desert. Death is inevitable should they stay longer so the four start their race with death to the desert's rim.

2. "In After Years." Lubin. A man and his little daughter are reunited after being strangely separated.

3. "The Fisher Maid's Love Story." Pathe. A story of love and jealousy which involves the little fishing village of Gloucester.

4. "Bessie's Dream." Selig. A dream comedy that made many hearty laughs.

5. "A Trip to Tamitti in the South Pacific." Selig. Picturing in an interesting manner glimpses of the life, customs and industries of this tropical island.

The Pastime.

The home of good pictures. Tuesday's change of program:

"Working for Hubby." Vitagraph. This is a very clever comedy in which the principals, especially the merry wives, Leah Baird and Lillian Walker, acquit themselves nobly. Not only is the story strictly original but it is developed in a very able fashion. The uniformly clever work of Bunny is one of the features of this story. The atmosphere is refined and true to life in every inch of film.

"The End of the Romance." Selig. A cleverly enacted drama suggested by L. Max Ehrlich's famous painting of the same title. Eugenie Besserer, Bessie Eytan, Hobart Bosworth, play leading roles. This picture tells the life story of a beautiful young girl who meets Lieutenant Dupres of the French navy, falls violently in love with him, curly dismisses John Strong, to whom she is engaged, only to find out later that Dupres has a sweetheart in every port.

"Captain King's Rescue." Lubin. The entire gamut of human emotions, love, jealousy and hate, are strikingly enwoven in the plot meshes of this drama. A story with a moral that strikes deep and true.

"The Unknown Traveler." Eclair. The story of a young sailor lad and his sweetheart. It will touch the heart strings of all.

Cosy.

Monday only. In addition to our regular program, we will run the "Titanic" pictures again today, showing the ill-fated ship just before and just after starting on her fatal voyage.

Monday and Tuesday's program: "The Guardian Angel." Eclair American. A pretty told story of a poor musical couple who fought their way to the top and became rich and famous. Both are tempted to be untrue to each other, but their little child is their guardian angel. A story that grips.

"Under Her Wing" Rex. Featuring Marion Leonard in a strong story. The girl's brother took some money from his employer's safe and for his family's sake the sister took the blame. But her innocence was proven and she then appoints herself bread winner of her guilty brother's family and took them under her wing.

"A Game for Two." Majestic. A laughable comedy. The man, engrossed in work, neglected his wife and she decided to wake him up. An awful mixup occurs that causes hearty laughter and which woke-up the neighborhood as well as hubby. "Galmont Weekly. Big fire in New York, Germany's battleship, carnival at Nice, aeroplaning in wintry weather, the war in Tripoli, new French style submarine. A beard 10 feet long. Dr. Wiley, the jinx of bad foods, summer fashions from Paris and many other events.

EXTRA GOOD PROGRAM AT THE GRAND

A large and well pleased audience witnessed the opening show of Welch & Maitland, comedy acrobatic contortionists last night. Miss Ulen the sweet voiced singer, and McWinn Trio the favorite of the last change who were held over to satisfy many requests from people who had no chance to see them.

Little Frank, the 9 year old violinist and Miss Alice the little pianist and singer certainly made a decided hit through their clever playing.

Maitland & Welch, another one of Pantazes circuit acts, is one of the best in their acts that we had here.

Comedy is intermingled with their work and it is a pleasure to look on and watch them work.

All acts are above the average and well worth seeing.

Entire change of bill Thursday.

Maitland & Welch, comedy contortionists.

Frank McMinn, youngest violinist on the coast.

Allie McMinn, girl concert pianist. Photo plays: 1—A Woman's Wrath; 2—A Tale of the Wildamers; 3—One Way to Win.

CRATERS IN LANDSLIDE.

Extinct Volcanic region in New Mexico Is Reported Subsiding. Santa Fe, N. M.—The weather bu-

Experts Endorse It

"Marion Harland," Mrs. Janet M. Hill, and Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer are among the cooking authorities whose names are familiar to almost every housewife. Each has her own distinctive methods of work, but it is interesting to note that on the all-important question of a cooking fat, they are unanimous in recommending Cottolene.

"Marion Harland" says of Cottolene: "It has given complete satisfaction." Mrs. Hill says: "Very satisfactory; glad to recommend it." Mrs. Rorer says: "A much more healthful product than lard."

With such authority behind it, every housekeeper will be safe in giving Cottolene a trial. It is purer and more wholesome than lard—and it is more economical, too, one-third less being required.

MME. FLORINE AND ONE OF HER PERSIAN LEOPARDS

rean reports a remarkable landslide forty miles west of Santa Fe in the Jemez mountains, which has engulfed a large area. Natives are afraid to approach the brink of the sink as trees and rocks along the edges are still crumbling away into the abyss. Large cracks also are opening in the earth north of Jemez springs.

The entire range consists of extinct volcanics, which were active in recent geological times, and has many hot, sulphur, iron and other mineral springs and lava flows that destroyed prehistoric cities and cliff dwellings. The weather bureau also reports an unprecedented snowfall of two to four inches in the same region. A rise of a foot in the Jemez river every night in the last two weeks from melting snow is also reported.

SPOKANE GRATIFIED WITH RATE VICTORY

Spokane, Wash.—When the interstate commerce commission orders in the compromise rates submitted by the railroads and accepted by the Spokane chamber of commerce, the merchants' association and the city and county commissioners, Spokane shippers will enjoy a cut in freight rates averaging $150 a carload.

At a joint meeting of the rate committees of the chamber of commerce and the merchants' association, yesterday, it was determined to send Attorney H. M. Stephens, J. B. Campbell, secretary of the merchants' association, and Fred S. Hall, traffic manager of the Spokane Dry Goods company, to Washington, D. C., to represent Spokane before the Interstate Commerce Commission at the hearing to be held May 8. In addition to the three men it is expected R. B. Peterson of the Spokane Dry Goods company, who is now in the east, will appear with them.

"It is a source of great satisfaction to me that the matter has been so satisfactorily disposed of," declared R. Insinger, president of the chamber of commerce and of the Northwestern & Pacific Hypotheekbank. "After a fight of six, or even 20 years, it is a happy feeling to know that we have come out in a triumph of glory. For that is what it amounts to because we have secured what we have been fighting for. In some instances the rates we have secured are even better than the tentative rates, so that we have clearly won out."

"It is all settled now and the majority of business men, public officials and shippers are satisfied with it. When the chamber of commerce, the merchants' association and the city and county commissioners decide that the compromise should be accepted, it seems reasonable to conclude that the rates are in the best interests of the community."

RANCHER FOUND DEAD WITH HEAD CRUSHED

Body Thrown in Cellar of House Where Murderer Had Drugged It.

Nelson, B. C.—The body of Peter Winstanley, aged 33 years, a rancher who lived four miles west of Slocan Junction, was discovered by a Douk-hobor farmer, the man having been murdered. Winstanley lived in a log house on the ranch, and the body was found lying partly in the cellar under the house, the door of which had been burst open. There were signs of a desperate struggle beside a creek near the house, two heavy stones being found with clotted blood on them. After having been dragged beside the creek, Winstanley's body had evidently been dragged to his house by the feet, and thrust into the cellar, head first. The murderer had taken the keys from the dead man's pockets and endeavored to open the door, but, failing to do so, had obtained admission to the house by breaking a window.

80 POISONED BY ICE CREAM AT METHODIST PICNIC

Church People Stricken in Midst of Festivities at Hanford, Cal.

Hanford, Cal.—Poisoned by eating ice cream at a picnic 80 members of the Methodist church here are slowly recovering today. Seventy-five were terribly stricken and some thought hopelessly so. All physicians from Hanford and Lemoore were summoned and worked over the patients all night.

The cream was made by one of the parishoners, and after standing over night in the freezer was frozen the next morning. The picnicers then proceeded to the banks of Kings river near Harwick, where they were stricken while in the midst of the festivities.
