LISTEN KIDS!--THE CIRCUS IS HERE

BARNES WILD ANIMALS
PERFORM NEAR ROUNDUP

Large Crowd of Pendletonians of All Ages On Hand to Welcome Show and Witness Gorgeous Street Parade It's here, kids!

(By the Press Agent.)
The Al G. Barnes' Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus arrived in Pendleton early this morning for two performances here today. As usual a large "reception" committee was at the depot to welcome the showmen. The first wagon to be unloaded after the railroad siding was the No. 1 kitchen van. Napoleon said that an army moves on its stomach and the same may be said of a great American circus.

The work of erecting the tents of a circus is always an interesting sight, especially to the business man, who marvels at the speed with which circus followers annihilate work. The key note of a large circus lies in the word system. Every man appeared to know just what to do. There were no halts or perplexing delays.

Three years ago while the Al G. Barnes circus was exhibiting in Washington, D. C., army officers were detailed to watch the process of unloading circus trains and the erections of the tents. They came away declaring that they had never before witnessed anything quite so systematic and were astonished with the machine-like precision with which the parts of the circus organization worked.

The first part of the circus program was the parade. Promptly at 10:40 o'clock this morning the glittering, gorgeous pageant of the Al G. Barnes circus left the show grounds. What was particularly pleasing was the freshness and newness of the costly dens and chariots. The animals all appeared sleek and fat following a winter of rest and looked good naturedly from behind the bars. The parade was one of the most pleasing ever seen in this city and more than delighted the thousands of people who lined the streets and curbing.

Following the street parade the show grounds just south of Roundup, became the Mecca for a large contingent. Before the big show began the side show "orators" waxed eloquent and not a few small boys and big ones, too, fell victims to the seductive flow of talk as the wonders just on the inside of the canvas was told in glowing terms.

Promptly at 1 o'clock the doors to the big show were thrown open. For one hour students of nature had opportunity of viewing one of the largest collections of wild animals ever seen in this city. For thirty minutes before the big show began a concert of popular and classic music was rendered by a concert band under the direction of Prof. E. E. Markham.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the big show began. For two hours the spectators who packed the huge tent viewed the performance which was entirely different from the average circus. Wild animals form the feature of the Al G. Barnes circus and while many of the regular circus features remain the performance for the most part was given by the denizens of the forest and jungle under the direction of two score celebrated animal trainers. With two rings, a hippodrome track and a massive steel arena filled at all times with acts the performance proved to be a very kaleidoscope of bewildering ment, thrills and fun. It was truly a wonder show and more than delighted the large audience.

Another performance will be given tonight at 8 o'clock for the benefit of those who could not attend this afternoon. The doors will be opened at 7 o'clock.

WOMEN MAY BUY SALOONS.

Fair Sex of Excelsior, Minn., Plan Novel Way to Upset Victory.
Minneapolis.—Women of Excelsior are planning to keep the village "dry," even if they find it necessary to purchase the saloon licenses at $1500 each.

The formation of this plan comes as the result of the recent election in which Excelsior, a few miles from here, went "wet," after several years of no liquor.

The campaign was begun at a temperance meeting addressed by Prof. Maria L. Sanford of the University of Minnesota, in which she urged the women of the town to persuade the town council to reject all applications for licenses, and to purchase the licenses themselves if necessary.

Has Lost Six Children and His Fortune in Floods; Going to Chicago.

St. Louis.—Joseph Meyers, 101 years old, who served through both the Mexican and Civil Wars and who has lost six children and a chicken farm by floods, has started to a Chicago institution of charity with five cents in his pocket. He declared he would cover the distance on foot.

After the Galveston tidal wave had killed two of his sons and four daughters, Meyers gathered together what remained of his $30,000 fortune and started a chicken farm at Hickman, Ky. The flood there last month destroyed his chickens and everything else he had. He was born in Berlin in 1811 and, according to his story, has not eaten a pound of meat in twenty years.

"PLOT ON TAFT" IS FOILED.

It Was Only a Moving Picture Stunt, but the Police Said No Anyhow.

Washington.—A motion picture plot to show a "crank" attempting to reach President Taft was nipped in the bud at the White House.

The picture machine was to have taken in the proceedings following his attempts to get into the White House, but policemen interfered.

Though the picture men pleaded that the play be allowed the authorities refused.

Hoosier Farmer Discovers Peculiar Error Was Made by Attorney in Drawing Up Will.

Newcastle, Ind.—When John Hagner, a well-known German farmer living southeast of the city, came to the county treasurer's office to pay his taxes, he was surprised to learn that, so far as the records were concerned, he did not own a fine 200 acre farm, which he had been tilling for a number of years. In fact, there was nothing on the records to show that he owned any land at all, and no taxes were charged up against him.

An investigation was started, and after some time a peculiar situation was discovered. Some time ago Hagner decided to make a will so as to provide for the future of his four children after he was dead and gone. He secured the services of a local
