MANY KILLED IN BATTLE RAGING BETWEEN FEDERALS AND REBELS

Fierce Encounter is Reported Between Forces in Sonora While Inhabitants Flee.

REINFORCEMENTS ON WAY

Government Dispatching More Troops to Scene of Engagement—Refugees Flocking Into Nogales, New Mexico, and Town Overrun—Can Accommodate But Few More.

Nogales is filled with refugees from various sections of Sonora. More than 100 arrived via the West Coast line of the Southern Pacific. The town can accommodate but a few more. Another company of federal troops arrived here today from Hemosillo. They are enroute to Cananea to reinforce the federal garrison there.

LOCAL BOY GAINS FAME AT CHEYENNE

Lee Caldwell Takes Third Place in Bucking Contest, Riding Wildest Horse.

Lee Caldwell, son of William Caldwell, prominent local rancher, demonstrated his ability as a broncho buster in Cheyenne last week when in the finals of the bucking contests of the annual Frontier day, he won the third place prize of $150. Had the decision been left to the audience, he would unquestionably have captured the first trophy, according to accounts received here.

Young Caldwell is well known here, where he was raised and where he got his first training as a buckaroo. Before the inception of the Round-up, he had taken many prizes at small bucking contests, though only a boy, and in each of the two Round-ups he has ridden, but met with hard luck and was eliminated from the finals. Recently he has been traveling with the 101 Ranch and was with that show when it gave a performance here. He is only nineteen years old now and his record at Cheyenne indicates that he will be a world beater when he has secured the experience of a few more years.

In speaking of his showing at Cheyenne, the Herald of that city, after stating that Frank Carter of La Grange, Wyoming, had been awarded first place, says:

"Had a decision in the final riding been left to the crowd, the championship would undoubtedly have gone to Lee Caldwell, a youngster of nineteen years, who, not included in the list of contestants selected to ride in the finals, demanded a return ride that he might prove his ability, and on Senator Warren made a showing so good that he could no longer legitimately be denied admission to the final contest. Riding in the final his performance on I-Be-Damned was as spectacular as any of the celebration and when, after the wicked horse had dashed into the judge's stand and then through the fence, the youngster was still in the saddle and ready for more, the crowd fluttered the clouds with its cheers.

Caldwell's riding, however, was not technically as perfect as Carter's or Hugh Clark's, in the opinion of the judges, and he was awarded third place, Clark taking second for his ride on "Nevada Kid."

The tenth infantry now at Panama, was ordered to hold itself ready for embarkation. The cruiser Denver due at Corinto on Sunday carries 300 marines. It is expected they will be ordered overland to Managua where the situation is regarded as critical, to reinforce the American forces already landed there.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, Aug. 21.—Advices received here today say that panic reigns in Managua as a result of the threat of general Mena, leader of the insurgents, to resume his bombardment of the capital unless the city surrenders.

PENDLETONIANS MAY MAKE RIVER TRIP

Indications are that many Pendleton people will avail themselves of the opportunity to making a river excursion trip on Labor Day when the Umatilla Commercial club runs its special holiday boat up the river to Pasco and Kennewick. Through its officers, the Umatilla club has secured the co-operation of the local commercial association and will circulate among the citizens in order to secure enough to warrant a special train from this city to meet the boat both on its start and return.

The boat will leave the Umatilla docks at 8 o'clock on the morning of September 2 and it is the intention of the club to start a special train from Pendleton in ample time to make connections. The day will be spent on the river and at Pasco and Kennewick and the boat is scheduled to leave on its return trip at 6 p. m. Pendletonians wishing to come on home will find their special train awaiting them and those who wish to remain for a big dance in the evening can wait for No. 6.

Conductor Jack Cherry of the motor car is taking an active interest in getting up a crowd from this city.

SHERMAN TOLD HE IS CHOSEN

Notification Committee Informs Taft's Running Mate He is Nominated on Republican Ticket.

PRESIDENT TAFT SENDS MESSAGE TO SHERMAN

Washington, Aug. 21.—A letter of congratulations was sent by President Taft to Vice President Sherman at Utica today, while Sherman was hearing the official notification of his re-nomination for the vice presidency. The message said: "I am proud again to be a joint standard bearer with you for the party of conservatism, sanity and progress."

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 21.—James S. Sherman was officially notified today of his re-nomination by the republican national convention for vice president of the United States, Senator Sutherland of Utah delivered the notification address.

Thousands of persons, friends and fellow townsmen of the nominee witnessed the ceremonies. Various forms of amusements for the visitors had been arranged, making the notification a gala occasion.

The notification ceremonies were informal and were held in Conklin park. Sherman was escorted to the park by a detachment of state troops following the ceremonies the members of the notification committee were entertained at the Sherman home. Fireworks will be displayed tonight to complete the celebration.

Accepting the republican nomination James S. Sherman said in part: "Undeceived by the clamor of those attempting to bolster up their claims without a basis by hundreds of contests resting on a foundation so flimsy that in the light of investigation most of them melted away like snow in a hot furnace, the national republican convention at Chicago adopted a platform which rings true for patriotism and constitutional government. The new party thrusts itself into the vacuum left by the phantoms of the other third party which passed it. The democratic presidential candidate, Gov. Wilson, is Bryan and Parker over again, without the oratory of the one or the legal training of the other, but with the free trade prejudices of both seemingly intensified. It is not unkind to discern that Wilson is a pedagogue, not a statesman."

REDMOND MAYOR AND MARSHALL QUIT JOBS

Salem, Ore., Aug. 21.—Governor West was informed that his law-enforcement crusade had succeeded when he brought about the resignation of H. J. Jones as mayor of Redmond, and City Marshal McClay, a telegram being received to that effect from the city council.

This will make it unnecessary for him to call out the troops and proceed to the scene to compel the city council to give the people of Redmond a clean lot of city officials. The council advised the governor Monday morning that it had the mayor's resignation but suggested a further investigation of conditions, maintaining that the governor was ignorant as to them. The governor wired back that nothing but the resignation of the mayor and city marshal would satisfy him, and threatened to take steps to bring it about, unless they were forthcoming and his threat had the desired effect.

Proceeding under a statute which he may invoke in his law-enforcement crusade, Governor West designated Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin of Portland, as special agent, with power to act in any county of the state. The statute provides that whenever in the judgment of the governor criminals are apt to escape justice or punishment, he may employ special agents to accumulate evidence against them and bring about their arrest. Should conditions warrant it he will make use of it in the campaign he is waging to compel county and municipal officers to enforce the laws against gamblers, saloons and disreputable houses.

RELATE STORY OF COLLISION

Damaged Steamship Corsican Arrives in Liverpool After Striking Iceberg at Sea.

IMPACT WAS SLIGHT ONE

Passengers Praise Capt. Cook—Preparations Were Made to Abandon Vessel But Investigation Showed Damage Was Small—Some Passengers Badly Frightened.

Liverpool, Eng., Aug. 21.—With bulkheads protecting her damaged bow the Allan liner steamer Corsican which recently collided with an iceberg off Newfoundland, arrived here today. Captain Cook said that at the time of the accident the steamer was proceeding slowly, having sighted a berg ahead. The engines were stopped and the impact was light.

Preparations were made to abandon the vessel but an examination showed that the damage was above the water line.

The captain declared there was no panic among the passengers. Some of the passengers, however, said the shock was most violent. They said that tons of ice fell on the decks and many passengers were thrown from their berths. It was further asserted that some of the passengers were terribly frightened and jumped into the boats. Everyone on board praised Captain Cook highly. The passengers presented him a gold watch and purse after the accident.

GENERAL BOOTH IS CALLED BY DEATH

Veteran Leader of Salvation Army Is Unconscious 48 Hours Before End Comes.

London, Aug. 21.—General Wm. Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, died at 10:30 o'clock last night. He was born at Nottingham in 1829.

The veteran Salvation Army leader was unconscious for 48 hours before his death. The medical bulletins had not revealed the seriousness of the general's condition, which for a week it now is admitted, was hopeless.

General Booth underwent an operation twelve weeks ago for the removal of a cataract from his left eye. For two days after physicians gave hope of his recovery. Septic poisoning then set in and from that time, with the exception of occasional rallies the patient's health steadily declined. The general recognized that the end was near and often spoke of his work as being finished.

The aged evangelist died at his residence, the Rockstone, Hadleywood, eight miles from London, where he had been confined to his bed since the operation. At the bedside when the end came were Mr. and Mrs. Bramwell Booth and their daughter and son, Adjutant Catherine Booth and Sergeant Bernard Booth; the general's youngest daughter, Commissioner Mrs. Booth-Heibrod, and Commissioner Howard Colonel Kitching and Dr. Wardlaw Milne.

DEMAND FOR MONEY IS FELT BY INTERIOR BANKS

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 21.—Reports received from the banks of the interior state that those institutions are feeling the call for money with which to make the crops. Wheat is coming to market freely, despite the price, which the farmers consider low. The early selling of wheat is having a good effect on collections, and merchants who have been carrying their farmer customers through the spring and summer are becoming able to re-adjust themselves to the better conditions.

Many of the interior counties will have larger total returns from the fields than in several years. This will come from the mixed farming methods used and the better tillage. It should have a good effect on trade, and merchants who go to market for their supplies are starting earlier than usual, and with plans for liberal buying.

Retribution is something we are morally certain will overtake other people.

WILL CLEAN UP PORTLAND NEXT

Governor West Promises Sensational Shake-up in Rose City Unless Laws are Obeyed.

Salem, Ore., Aug. 21.—Routing vice from its haunts in Redmond and Huntington has been but preliminary to the real fight Governor West is preparing in his law enforcement campaign. He is now ready to tackle the biggest job in the state. The next town on his list is the city of Portland.

When asked yesterday where he would strike next, the governor said: "I'm going to clean up Portland next."

He said he did not refer merely to roadhouses, but to the city itself. He said he did not care to discuss his plans, except to say he was prepared to shake the metropolis to its foundations unless the laws were enforced there.

It is to be presumed that his line of procedure will not vary greatly from his attacks on smaller places. This being true, the matter of law enforcement will undoubtedly be put squarely up to Mayor Rushlight and Chief of Police Slover, as well as Sheriff Stevens and county officials. In his campaigns the governor also never overlooks the district attorney's office.

If these officials do not respond to his demands it is not at all unlikely that the governor will demand their resignation under threat of putting the city under martial law. It is believed he has been gathering evidence on Portland for some time, as he has made it a practice to be well prepared for every showdown that might arise before opening fire on a city.

London, Eng., Aug. 21.—By the terms of the will of General William Booth, opened here tonight, Bramwell Booth, his son, is named as the new commander-in-chief of the salvation army.

Washington, Aug. 21.—President Taft today paid a tribute to General William Booth, late head of the salvation army. The president said: General Booth was one of the world's remarkable characters. He had a genius for organizing men and women against vice and uplifting those usually regarded as lost in immorality and crime. He lived long enough to see the salvation army a force in every country in the world."

Notifies State Treasurer Thomas Kay That He Cannot Accept Place Here.

BOARD FACES PROBLEM

rumored That Dr. Frank Griffith of Salem Institution May Be Offered Place—Some Doubt, However, If He Would Accept Superintendency If Offer Is Made.

Salem, Ore., Aug. 21.—(Special)—Dr. J. C. Calbreath of Portland, has refused to accept the position of superintendent of the eastern Oregon asylum. He notified State Treasurer Kay to that effect last night.

This reopens the knotty problem the present state board has to solve in trying to launch that institution on a successful course. It is not unlikely the position will be offered Dr. Frank Griffith, first assistant at the asylum here, but doubt is expressed as to his acceptance if it should be offered to him.

HOBO GIVES WARNING AND WRECK AVERTED

Only timely warning given by a hobo yesterday averted a wreck of the Northern Pacific local, which arrives here at 10 a. m., according to a story that just reached Pendleton today. Discovering a piece of rail broken out near Fulton, he had just time to reach that station and notify M. A. Ballinger, a warehouseman, before the train arrived in sight. Ballinger flagged it and it was stopped until the track was repaired.

The track was presumably broken by the morning freight which leaves here at 8:30 a. m. The hobo was walking along the track just after the train had passed him and found a piece of rail about eight inches long broken out. He hastened to one of the warehouses and his warning was just in time for the two trains had passed each other at Myrick and in another five minutes the local would have struck the broken rail. In the opinion of trainmen a wreck would have been inevitable.

His mission performed, the hobo left without waiting for thanks or without revealing his name.

It will last three days, during which addresses on subjects of interest to the institute will be discussed by prominent men. It was hoped to have President Taft address the convention but he is detained at Washington on official business and has made it plain that he will not make many addresses during the campaign. Extensive plans have been made for the entertainment of the delegates, including interesting sight-seeing trips.

A woman can't feed a man so much taffy that it will spoil his appetite for it.
