WHISKY WEATHER OF LATE SPRING BLAMED FOR "BOOZE" HABIT

Louisville, Ky.—"Whisky weather is responsible mainly for the increase in the use of whisky and the decrease in the use of beer," said T. M. Gilmore, president of the National Model License league, in analyzing the preliminary report of the United States commissioner of Internal Revenue.

This showed a substantial increase in consumption of distilled spirits and a decrease of beer in the amount consumed during the fiscal year ending June 30.

"With many," he said, "beer is a warm weather beverage, and the long, cold weather, chilly spring and rainy summer easily account for the falling off in the use of beer. Park attendance has fallen off enormously."

BOOZE ENOUGH ON HAND FOR EVERYONE

Washington, Aug. 21.—Thirty members of congress, members of smart clubs and just plain, common everyday boozers may "have one" as often as the appetite demands and the change allows, as far as Uncle Sam is concerned and he will supply the drink every time he is called upon to do so. Commissioner Royal E. Cabell, of Internal Revenue, has gotten together a few figures which show that the consumption of whiskey during the fiscal year 1912 was exceeded only by the year 1907, though beer drinking fell off by a substantial percentage.

Today, however, despite the great increase, there are stored in the warehouses of the country 263,786,080 gallons of whiskey and rum, the greatest quantity on record. In Kentucky alone there are stored 150,000,000 gallons, which exceeds the total amount of whiskey and rum in the whole United States eleven years ago. The record production of these intoxicants for 1912 was 188,000,000 gallons, or 12,000,000 gallons greater than in 1911.

PORTUGAL MAY ASK BRAZIL FOR ASSISTANCE

Lisbon, Aug. 21.—The Portuguese cabinet will consider today the advisability of asking the government of Brazil to prevent the establishment of further maintenance of headquarters in Rio Janeiro for the revolutionary movement. Recently Portuguese royalists have been emigrating to Brazil in large numbers, many of the emigrants being priests. The government declares now that the clergy in Portugal are mainly responsible for the royalist movement and intimates that no mercy will be shown the priests suspected of tendencies hostile to the government. There are over 400 now in the jails of Portugal. Death or deportation will be the fate of all recalcitrant clerics. It is declared.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—The thirteenth annual session of the National Negro Business League convened here today, with over 2,000 delegates attending representing all parts of the country. During the sessions the delegates will tell of the success they have made as business men. Among them are bankers, merchants, real estate men, wheat growers, commission merchants and buyers, lawyers, physicians and men in almost every conceivable branch of business. Some of the delegates are rated as millionaires. Booker T. Washington is president of the national association. As an auxiliary to the National Negro Business League, the National Negro Bar association began its second annual convention here today. One of the chief subjects of discussion will be the difficulty of negro lawyers to get before some of the courts of the country in behalf of their clients and secure impartial judgments. They also will discuss the prejudice against negro jurors and the attempt of the American Bar association to force from its membership Wm. H. Lewis, of Boston, the negro assistant attorney general of the United States.
