GIVE US MEN.

- God give us men; a time like this demands
Great hearts, strong minds, true faith and ready hands.
Men whom the lust of office cannot kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and will;
Men who love honor; men who will not lie.

Men who can stand before a demagogue,
And brave his treacherous flatteries without winking;
Tall men, sunburnt, who live above the fog;
In public duty, and in private thinking.
—Josiah Gilbert Holland.

In his speech of acceptance Governor Marshall made some pointed statements.

He struck the keynote of the Wilson-Marshal campaign

“Equalization of Opportunity.”

When he declared the “only equalization justifiable in our government is the equalization of opportunity.”

With that sentiment all fair minded men will agree who are not blinded by partisan prejudice or are connected with interests that enjoy special privileges at the expense of the public.

In large measure the ills of the country at present arise from the fact the tariff makers during the past 20 years have not looked to promoting equality of opportunity but to advancing the interests that were influential in keeping the republican party in power.

Most of the mammoth fortunes like those of Carnegie, Rockefeller, Morgan and Perkins came from the formation of the trusts.

Those men were able to make hundreds of millions of dollars by the simple process of getting together and voting it to themselves.

Carnegie made $160,000,000 when the steel trust was formed.

J. P. Morgan was given a fee of $60,000,000 for forming the trust and others fared well in proportion.

Without a protective tariff in force the great trusts could not have been formed with their inflated capitalizations.

Without that protective wall the steel trust could not have been formed on such an unfair basis.

Without protection the trust could not sell structural steel in America at prices ranging from $4.50 to $8.99 a ton higher than it sells the same product abroad.

Without the protective wall that trust could not sell wire nails at home at prices ranging as high as $5.26 a ton more than it sells the same nails abroad.

Without the protective wall few if any of our trusts would have enjoyed the “fine pickling” they have found and our “masters of industry” would not be so overburdened with wealth they have not earned.

The first remedial step should be to get away from a tariff for special privilege and to adjust the schedules with a sole view to raising revenue.

Cut out the obstructions and let the stream flow freely in natural channels and by so doing provide so far as the government is able to do it for an “equalization of opportunity.”

That is what manly and womanly people need and want. They need no “porcelain bath tubs” from George W. Perkins such as Dr. Coe promises.

They need no favors from Carnegie or Rockefeller. They deserve and should have a fair deal as far as the government is concerned—nothing more, nothing less.

The Wilson-Marshall candidacy calls for such a program and it is a program which if followed will restore our government to the path of freedom and equality from which during the past 20 years it has strayed afar.

It is possible Pendleton will have a patient ready for the branch asylum before it is completed.

The telegrams and letters sent yesterday to Dr. Calbraith should convince that gentleman that if he becomes superintendent of the branch hospital he will have the good will and co-operation of local people.

On the part of Pendleton people there is no disposition to consider the institution as a local affair or to demand that a Pendleton man or even an eastern Oregon man be named as superintendent.

To be sure many would be glad to see a local man honored with the post. But fitness for the place, not geography, should be the deciding factor and all right minded people are willing to have the state board use its judgment as to fitness.

Governor West, Treasurer Kay and Secretary Olcott should know what qualities an asylum superintendent should have.

They are all residents of Salem and have seen the operation of the institution there, so know something of the duties that will confront the man who takes charge of the Eastern Oregon branch hospital.

In selecting a man from Portland for the place they are entirely justified. They would be justified in bringing a man here from New York or from Germany if by so doing they could obtain better talent than would otherwise be obtainable.

What the state of Oregon expects from the Eastern Oregon Hospital is good service for its patients. It was not established for the benefit of any one wanting a position or for the benefit of any community.

Meanwhile Pendleton could effectively show its appreciation of the branch hospital by constructing a highway to the institution.

The present condition of the northside streets is bad and one of these days the city will come in for some harsh criticism unless an improvement is made.

It would be exceedingly good policy to have that driveway improved before another legislative committee comes here to investigate affairs.

At their meeting in Portland the bull moosers voted down a resolution asking Dan Kellaher to get off the republican electoral ticket and run simply as a progressive.

Evidently they want Kellaher to run on both tickets which is strange conduct for men who represent the “honor and high purposes of the nation” to use the words of our local bull moose chief.

THEY MEANT WELL.

The last regular football team at Columbia university had as a captain one Tom Thorpe, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times Star.

Thorpe is high, wide and impetuous. The other day he was standing on the sands at Long Beach, when he heard faint cries beyond the outer line of rollers.

Thorpe could just see a man out there. Apparently he needed help.

“Come,” said Mr. Thorpe to the nearest lifeguard, and they went. They smashed through the breakers and did a fancy crawl stroke to the side of the endangered man.

“Put your hand on my shoulder,” said Thorpe.

“Bawle, woggle oog,” said the man, or something like that.

Thorpe got him by one arm and the life guard got him by the other. Now and then they caught him by

FLESH FORMING FOOD.

When you buy a package of Samose, the great flesh-forming food, weigh yourself and see how much you gain in the first week’s use.

The Pendleton Drug Co. will tell of many of their customers who a month or so ago were thin, pale and haggard, but who are now, through the use of Samose, plump, strong and happy, with perfect health and attractive flesh.

They have seen so many instances of the wonderful power of Samose to restore the weak and sick to strength and health, and to make good natural flesh that they give their personal guarantee with every package of Samose they sell to refund the money if it does not prove satisfactory.

Samose is a pure preparation, and can be used with absolute confidence by the most delicate. It gives remarkable results with children who are weak and run down and without appetite.

the hair or an eyebrow or something when they holds slipped. But they got him safe to the sands. There the rescued man proved to be a big, husky individual, who had evidently been a man of great strength before his figure slipped.

“What’d you want to do that for?” asked the rescued man, angrily. Then he turned and, though weak and shaky dashed back into the sea.

“He’s a nut,” said Mr. Thorpe to the lifeguard. And so they went for him again and dragged him to land, not quite so gentle this time.

Thorpe had to thump him in the wind to still his protests, and when the rescued man got his breath back he tried to hit his heroic rescuer with a rock.

“What’s the matter with you, anyhow?” Thorpe asked, indignantly.

“Nothing, you nut,” was the surprising reply of the rescued man. “I’m all right. The guy who is in trouble is still out there.”

“Sure enough. Thorpe and the lifeguard saw, beyond the outer line of breakers, a man making his slow way to shore. He was weak and frightened, but he was getting in all right. Thorpe apologized to the man he had pulled out of the nice, cool wet and went away.

SYMPATHETIC BURGLAR.

“I woke up suddenly the other night and thought I heard a burglar in the room I sat up in bed and that awoke my wife.”

“What did she do?”

“She accused me, as usual, of having a burglar bug. Said I’d never hear a burglar if I lived 1,000 years. I said I’d bet I would. She said she’d bet I wouldn’t. And just then a shadowy form rose from behind the dresser and a hoarse voice exclaimed: ‘He wins, madam.’”

“Did you catch him?”

“Catch him? I didn’t try. I just laid there and laughed and heard him slam the door and run down the street. And say, my wife was so mad she didn’t speak to me for a whole day. But I’ll bet one thing.”

“What is it?”

“I’ll bet that burglar was a married man.”—Cleveland Plain Dealer

PLEA FOR MODEST WOMANHOOD

Report is Made to Druggists’ Convention in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee.—“Mrs. G. P. Mills, Evanston, Ill., recommends that we as a woman’s organization, join our voices and influence in behalf of modest womanhood.

“It seems to Mrs. Mills, as it must to all of us, that it is unfortunate that as long as so much is being done to control the ‘white slave traffic’

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs which unfortunately are looked upon as heralds of advancing age.

Gray hair, however handsome it may be, makes a person look old. We all know the advantages of being young. Aside from the good impression a youthful appearance makes on others, simply knowing that you are “looking fit” gives one courage to undertake and accomplish things. So why suffer the handicap of looking old on account of gray hairs, when a simple remedy will give your hair youthful color and beauty in a few days’ time?

Most people know that common garden sage acts as a color restorer and scalp tonic as well. Our grandmothers used a “Sage Tea” for keeping their hair dark, soft and luxuriant.

In Wyeth’s Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy we have an ideal preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp and thin, weak hair that is split at the ends or constantly coming out. A few applications of this valuable remedy will bring back the color, and in a short time it will remove every trace of dandruff and greatly improve the growth and appearance of the hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days’ treatment. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

so many decent women will dress so that they attract attention and cause vulgar remarks of the worst men and boys on the streets and in public places.”

This is part of a report which started a discussion on short skirts, thin hose, low necks, bath-towel gowns and other fashion vagaries at the convention of the National Druggists’ association. It is backed by most of the women who are here taking a prominent part in the meeting.

When it’s your turn to face the judge the scales of justice usually go wrong.

Many a young man’s chances in life go up in cigarette smoke.
