WEEK OF CELEBRATION FOR THIS CITY WILL BE OPENED ON MONDAY

Umatilla-Morrow County Fair and Round-Up Will Bring Thousands Into Pendleton.

VISITORS ARE ARRIVING

Workers Are Busy Preparing Pavilion For Fair Opening—Everything is Practically in Readiness—De Caprio's Band Will Be Among the Many Attractions Here.

Monday will see the opening of a week of celebration and festivity in Pendleton and already visitors are flocking to the city. The annual Umatilla-Morrow county fair will commence on Monday and continue through Saturday while on Thursday commences the Round-up for a three day frontier carnival. The crowd which will attend this double celebration promises to be larger than that ever entertained by a city the size of Pendleton in the United States. Indications are that fair weather will prevail which will insure an epoch making week.

Today the officers and directors of the fair are busily engaged with their helpers in preparing for the opening of the pavilion to the public Monday afternoon. The sound of the hammer and saw is heard above all as carpenters prepare the booths for receiving the exhibits which are already beginning to arrive. Tomorrow, the greater part of the displays will be installed but some will not arrive until Monday morning.

The fish and game exhibit will arrive in special cars tomorrow and all is in readiness for receiving this, one of the most interesting and instructive exhibits which is to be at the fair. The pavilion is one mass of color, strings of vari-colored pennants and flags of all nations being strung everywhere. A carpet of sawdust is being placed today and the air has already taken on a festive aroma.

TROOPS KEPT AS A LAST RESORT

Salt Lake, Utah, Sept. 21.—Gov. Spry conferred with Adjutant General Edgewood, Sheriff Sharp and mine officials today and decided not to call out the troops except as a last resort. It is feared their presence will make trouble.

Twenty-five strikebreakers were taken secretly into Bingham today. The saloons are closed.

Sheriff Sharp was given the responsibility of preserving peace. Besides the 300 deputies at Bingham he has 15 men at Barney, six miles from Bingham to preserve order there. This morning sheriff's deputies entered the working mines without molestation from the worker's pickets. The latter are prepared evidently to keep their promise to Governor Spry that they will not start shooting.

Salt Lake, Sept. 21.—A hundred more deputies were sent to Bingham at noon today. The strikers refuse to surrender their arms. The tension is increasing hourly.

SECRET INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED AGAINST OWNERS

Boston, Mass., Sept. 21.—New secret indictments were returned by the special grand jury today in connection with the accusations against textile mill owners of "planting" dynamite in the strikers' homes in the Lawrence strike. William A. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, Frederick Atteaux, head of the Textile Mills Supply company, and Daniel Collins, a dog fancier, were previously indicted in connection with the same alleged offenses.

SIGNOR DE CAPRIO.

Leader of Famous Band Which Plays Here Beginning Monday.

ATHLETES WILL TAKE PART HERE

The result of the inter club meet at Seattle Athletic club, between the boxers of Multnomah, Seattle and Ballard clubs, is particularly interesting as giving a line on the ability of the representatives of these clubs who will appear at the local meet at the Oregon theater September 27 and 28. Morrow's defeat of Melbus of Multnomah is a reversal of the result of the first fight, when Melbus knocked Morrow out in three rounds at the P. A. A. tournament last spring at Seattle.

The Seattle club man's friends have always claimed a fluke knockout, and last night's win by Morrow seems to sustain that belief, although Morrow only secured a decision after four rounds of slugging as against a clean win by Melbus last spring.

The meeting at Pendleton is the third affair between these two boxers and each one will exert his best efforts to make the result decisive. This settles the 175 pound northwest amateur championship.

Duval's hard battle against Knowlton, losing on a halflime decision, will also be settled when they meet at the local auditorium. These boys will contest in a four cornered meet, all clubs having entries. The winners of the first night will be pitted against each other in the finals.

Ed Williams, the local boxer, represents Pendleton in the 135 pound class and should be returned a winner he will hold the undisputed 135 pound championship of the Pacific northwest.

The P. A. A. C. boxers are working out with Dudley Evans and Fred Sax every evening from 7:30 to 9:30 at the P. A. A. club rooms.

Stanley Trimble of the Ballard, Wash., club, will wear P. A. A. colors in the 115 pound class. Stanley is a very clever boy.

From the West Side club of New York comes a 135 pound amateur boxer, a pupil of George McFadden. He was tried out last night by both Sax and Evans and will probably be accepted to wear P. A. A. colors at the meet.

Fast and furious boxing is the order at the club these nights and Dudley Evans promises some surprises to the entrants from the three big clubs when it comes to the finals.

Spokane A. A. C. is sending a heavyweight wrestler for Aubrey Graham, and while he does not quite weigh up to the local boy, Bullivant, the Spokane director, says that he will be a good match for Graham as his entry is an expert wrestler. Graham has just returned from a trip to Portland where he had a few bouts with some of the big crack wrestlers and is feeling happy over the prospect of having secured an opponent.

HUNTINGTON POKER ROW RESULTS IN KNIFE PLAY

Huntington, Or., Sept. 21.—As a result of a quarrel following a gambling game between Dudley Evans and James Alvey, Saturday, Alvey drew a knife and swore he would cut Evans in two. He was arrested and fined in the recorder's court. Evans, who is a railroad employe, has not been arrested, being out on his run. A few weeks ago Alvey was arrested and convicted before former Judge Woods of running a disreputable house and ordered to leave town. D. D. Johnson, who is out of the city and who owns the saloon in which the game was played, left orders prohibiting all kinds of gambling in the place. It is said.

F. Wilson this winter.

On account of the great interest taken by the students in the winter short course last year, a regular series of short course lectures covering a period of two weeks will be given in which special attention will be drawn to the proper management of bees in the orchard. The college opens Sept. 24, and the short course Jan. 6.

Repairs are being made on the building occupied by the college apiculture, and two large commercial seed companies have donated equipment to be used in the regular instruction and in demonstrations. A twelve year old boy of Baker who calls himself the "Chickasaw Kid" and who is a son of L. S. Calkins of that city will be the miniature cowboy a Shetland pony will be the miniature horse and a good sized, healthy calf will be the miniature steer.

The "Chickasaw Kid" will arrive early next week and will give a demonstration of his act before the directors of the Round-up. If he can pull off his feat in a manner satisfactory, he will be placed under contract and will be featured during the three days of the show.

BARELY ESCAPES IN IRISH RIOTS

Lunderry, Ireland, Sept. 21.—Sir Edward Carson, former solicitor general for England, was near death here today when a heavy stone thrown from the top of the city hall missed his head by an inch and landed in his carriage. He was proceeding through the streets from a meeting where he gave an address on Irish home rule, when the missile was thrown. The would-be assassin escaped.

The attack followed a riot between unionists and home-rulers at a meeting in Guild Hall, presided over by Duke Abercorn, when the Nationalists stoned the torch bearers and the bands of the unionists. After their escape, Sir Edward Carson and other unionist leaders, went to Coleraine where a great demonstration was held.

Fire Protection for Round-up.

For the purpose of considering ways of giving the city proper fire protection during the next week, Fire Chief Vaughan and the fire committee of the council will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon. The plan considered now is to have two teams always at hand in case of fire and also to have several paid firemen. Chief Vaughan points out that with a volunteer department only, there would be much delay in getting to a fire on account of the congested condition of the streets.

WYOMING WILL CAST LOT WITH DEMOCRATS

New York, Sept. 21.—Judge John M. Hence, a lawyer and wealthy sheep raiser of Thermopolis, Wyoming, is a republican, has been a republican and says he expects to always be one, but he is convinced that Wilson and Marshall will be elected in November.

Not only is Judge Hence convinced that Wyoming will go democratic, but he has made a careful tour of the middle west and some of the eastern states and finds Wilson sentiment growing every day.

"Roosevelt was my choice at first," said Judge Hence, "but his selfishness in Chicago in refusing to step down and allow a good third man to be nominated disgusted me."

"I have been talking to republican bankers and business men in person through the middle west and I am sure there will be hundreds of thousands of good men who will turn to Governor Wilson."

Mrs. R. B. Stanfield and children came up this morning from Echo.

ARCHBOLD TO TESTIFY

Other Prominent Men in Financial World Will Probably be Brought Before Committee—Corporation Campaign Contributions to be Investigated to Bottom.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The senate campaign contributions investigating committee may call Mrs. E. H. Harriman as a witness to testify regarding her late husband's dealings with Col. Roosevelt and the late Cornelius N. Bliss, national republican treasurer in 1904.

Sergeant at Arms Ransdell announced he has subpoenaed Secretary C. T. White, General Counsel Elliott, Director Lobby of the Standard Oil, John C. McCall, of the New York Life, Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., son of the late treasurer, and C. C. Tegehoff private secretary to Mr. Harriman.

The committee will probe all the corporation campaign contributions to the bottom. It was stated that Mrs. Harriman has not yet been subpoenaed but likely will be, to tell the senate committee what she knows of her late husband's political contributions. Miss Lizzie Bliss, daughter of the late treasurer also may be asked to testify at the senatorial inquiry.

It is probable that John D. Archbold and William Rockefeller will also be called to testify. Subpoenas served in New York require the production of books, letters and other documents regarding contributions to the campaign funds. Cornelius Bliss, Jr., will be asked to produce his father's records regarding Harriman and the Standard Oil contributions to the political funds. The McCall subpoena indicates that the investigation of the life insurance contributions to the funds will be made and the heads of other life insurance companies probably will be called later.

According to James Estes, chairman of the committee, all autos will load on Garden street between Alta and Court and will proceed to the park by way of Court street, returning on Alta street, thus keeping all traffic on the two principal streets moving in one direction.

At 4 o'clock, the return service will commence and the order will be reversed, the loaded machines coming back to Garden by way of Court and proceeding to the park on Alta.

There will be no ticket booths but sellers will circulate among the crowds and the loaders will also be supplied with tickets. The uniform fare of 25 cents will be charged.

Today Chief Kearney is tagging all licensed autos in order that the traffic may be regulated.
