A New Instrument

An attachment for hoe drills as illustrated here has two very valuable and important features which every progressive farmer will appreciate at once. They are made to fit any hoe, are easily adjusted and answer the double purpose of regulating the depth of sowing and at the same time press the soil firmly around the grain thus insuring immediate germination. Splendid results are obtained from their use.

MUST WEAR SKIRTS,
ORDER TO MAIDENS

British East African Women Almost
Revolt Following Governor's Decree.

London.—The difficulties of the clergymen and social reforms of more enlightened countries in their efforts to compel the fair sex to put more cloth into their skirts pale into insignificance beside the troubles of the local governor of Inhamhane, British East Africa, who has almost caused a war by ordering the native maidens to attire themselves in European garb.

The order particularly insisted that the native women should not appear in public without skirts under pain of some grave penalty not specified.

Never was an apparently innocent sumptuary law received with such an outburst of rebellion. The commercial council signed in a body and the Indian store keepers who deal in the articles of attire favored by the native ladies threatened to shut up shop in protest. The native belles took even more drastic action by refusing to come near Inhamhane at all, with the result that the town was soon in danger of a famine in vegetables, eggs, poultry and other necessary food supplies. The women who lived in town prepared to leave.

The opposition became too hot for the governor, who withdrew the obnoxious decree, and the belles of Inhamhane again go about in their scant native costumes.

"VOTE" FLAGS ON KING'S LINKS

Balmoral, Scotland.—Suffragettes invaded the grounds of King George's Highland castle. The king is residing there during the shooting season and a strong force of police is on guard. The women, however, succeeded in completely outwitting the guards and left signs of their daring in the shape of purple flags bearing the words "Votes for women means peace for the cabinet ministers" all around his majesty's private golf links. They removed and took away with them the flags marking the holes.
