 The Youth's Companion appeals to every interest of family life, from housekeeping to athletics. It begins with stories of youthful vim and vigor, with articles which disclose the secrets of successful play in the great games, with charming tales of life at the girl's colleges. But the Companion does not surrender these readers when they have entered the more serious paths of life. Others will welcome the page for little children and the weekly doctor's article. Fathers will find the important news of the day as it is, and not as it is rumored to be. The entire household will appreciate the sketches which touch gently on common foibles or caricature eccentricity. In short, for less than four cents a week The Companion brings into the homes clean entertainment, pure inspiration, fine ideals, increase of knowledge.

Names rarely seen in tables of contents will be found in The Companion's Announcement for 1913, which will be set upon request—with samples of the paper, to those not familiar with it.

HE MADE LOVE WITH CLEAVER
 Now Is on Trial for Assault With Intent to Kill Wife.

Denver, Colo.—How Arthur Gash, in making love to his wife, Clara Gash, smote on the cheek with a meat cleaver, thereby causing a deep gash in Mrs. Gash's face was explained to the jury in the criminal court.
 Gash is on trial charged with assault to kill. Mrs. Gash accuses him of trying to cut short her life with the meat cleaver. She testified that on the evening of June 27 her husband came home and embraced her. At the same time, she said, he carelessly drew the sharp edge of a meat knife which he carried across her face causing a deep cut. As a result of that cheek-splitting embrace she says she was forced to cut all social affairs for several weeks.
 Gash pleaded accidental cutting as a defense. He says his wife jumped around so "friskily" that she naturally ran up against that cleaver and was to blame for the whole cutting.

NOTED DUCK, REPORTED DEAD, IS ALIVE AND HUNTERS ARE HAPPY

Duluth, Minn.—It develops that the report that the celebrated Spirit Lake duck, known all over Minnesota, which was reported recently to have been killed, is alive. This will be good news to the hundreds of hunters who go to Spirit Lake to burn their annual offering of gunpowder at the shrine of that elusive wild fowl.
 No less an authority than John W. Nelson, who lives near the lake, claims that the mysterious duck lives. "I have known the Spirit Lake duck ever since he was raised and turned loose as a decoy," said Nelson. "The duck killed was a mallard, while the true Spirit Lake duck is a wamus duck."
 "What is a wamus duck?" he was asked.
 "Well, a wamus duck is—well, it's hard to describe a wamus duck," said Mr. Nelson, "but the Spirit Lake duck is a wamus."

FARMING WITHOUT FARMS IS SCHEME

Chicago.—Boys with a longing to learn farming without going to the country will have their hopes realized if a plan suggested to the board of education is adopted. The attempts to teach the science of agriculture by theory in the public schools have not been successful, and as there recently has been a demand for its teaching under more favorable conditions it has been suggested that an agricultural school be founded.

A great number of boys in the public schools have expressed a desire to learn farming, and, according to Superintendent Ella Flagg Young, it is the solution of the high cost of living. The members of the board favor the suggestion and plans will be submitted for the erection of a school on the board's land at South Forty-Eighth avenue and West Twelfth street.

Dormitory for Deaf Pupils.
 The land is a mile long and half of a mile wide. Many citizens have expressed an opinion to trustees of the board that there is a need for such an institution.

Trustee J. B. Dibelka introduced a resolution recommending that the superintendent make a report as to the advisability of constructing a separate school and dormitory for boarding, lodging and instructing the deaf and dumb children attending numerous public schools.

He said that there are 300 such children scattered throughout the system and that it will be much better to house them together during the five school days of the week, where they can receive the best attention mentally and physically. The resolution was referred to the school management committee.

Contracts were let for a new normal art and gymnasium building for the Chicago Teachers' college. This building is to be, as to exterior appearance, a duplicate of the east wing of the "normal school," known as the Parker Practice school.

Salary Increase Asked.
 A communication was received from the Chicago Teachers' federation, asking for increases in the salaries of the elementary school teachers; also for a shortening of the term of the schedule of salaries from eleven to ten years. The increases asked for are $50 a year for each teacher for the first ten years and $100 a year each for the last three years.

Increases in the cost of living and the requirements for teachers are among the arguments offered for the proposed salary raises.

The maximum salaries paid now are $1,200 yearly and the federation asks that it be raised to $1,300, while the minimum is $650, which the teachers want increased to $700.

YEAR IN PRISON CELL BREAKS NURSE'S NERVE

After Completing Sentence Young Woman is Arraigned on Another Charge and Bows Head on Courtroom Table, Sobbing.

New York.—After a year in the penitentiary, Helen Louise Watson, a trained nurse, who tried to keep the secret of her identity and shield the family when she was convicted of shoplifting in a Brooklyn department store, and maintained her innocence when accused of stealing $1500 from a dead woman, Mrs. Mary Porter Gregory Devereaux of Mamaroneck, N. Y., broke down in the Mount Vernon court. She pleaded guilty to larceny in the first degree.

Prison pallor showed in the face of the pretty nurse, and her defiant manner at her trial had given away to utter hopelessness. She bowed her head on the table and sobbed.

Nerve Completely Gone.
 No one expected she could ever lose her nerve so completely and after the exhibition of coolness she displayed when detectives and agents of societies were trying to learn the names of her parents. Even when they had determined to their own satisfaction the identity of all her relatives, the girl steadfastly sought to protect them from disgrace by reiterated denials.

When Helen Watson was arrested detectives found she had been night superintendent to nurses in the Long Island College hospital and had been discharged. Also they learned that many valuable articles from the hospital were found at her home. Other nurses said the young woman was suffering from kleptomania, as the articles she took were often valueless.

Has Sister in Chicago.
 In Raymond street jail, Brooklyn, the nurse declared she "simply had to take certain things" which caught her fancy. More serious thefts she refused to confess. Investigation showed that the father of the girl was dead. He had been a professor in a western university. One of her sisters is the wife of a clergyman in Chicago.

At the time of her arrest, Helen Watson was engaged to Dr. Donahue, a physician at the hospital. He broke off the engagement.

When the nurse was arrested, the police carted away a wagon load of wearing apparel and many jewels from her room at 157 Congress street, Brooklyn. Several families for whom she had worked identified the stolen articles.

60,000 SOLDIERS MUSTERED AGAINST SPANISH STRIKERS

Reservists Retired for Six Years Are Summoned to Rejoin Army—Social War Practically Declared.

Madrid.—All the Spanish reservists who have left active service during the last six years were summoned to rejoin the colors and 60,000 men who ordinarily would not have been called to join their regiments until next March also were ordered to report for duty.

The decree mobilizing this vast army was published and is regarded as showing that the government considers the railroad strike serious.

Premier Canalejas asserts that the railroad men have virtually declared a social war. He says their demands are impossible of fulfillment.

LITTLEST BABY OF ALL BORN IN NEW YORK

New York.—The champion lightweight baby of the entire history of medical practice, according to New York physicians, is being carefully guarded in an incubator at the Lying-in hospital, Second avenue and Seventeenth street, for fear the faint spark of life it possesses may expire at any moment. Nevertheless, its chance for existence seems favorable. It weighs only twenty ounces.

Lost—Eastman 3-A camera in case. Dropped through East section of grand stand on Saturday afternoon. Finder notify S. A. Hoag, Box 455 Everett, Washington.

It owes its present hold on life to Dr. Charles H. Goldsmith of 1910 Lexington avenue, who, first believing the little girl, born prematurely, had come into the world dead, later noticed a slight twitch of one of the eyelids. He then revived the infant by breathing into its mouth. Mrs. Mary O'Connor of 2555 Eighth avenue is the mother of the child, and at the time of its birth was suffering with whooping cough.

After Dr. Goldsmith had been hurriedly summoned to the O'Connor home he told the parents, after careful examination, that the baby was dead. The physician was astonished at the diminutive size of the infant.

An eight pound baby is not considered a large one, yet this little newcomer was only one-sixth the weight of an eight pound baby.

As it lay on soft material arranged on a table, the father, hearing the doctor's verdict, started out to find an undertaker. A few minutes afterward the physician noticed a slight movement of an eyelid. The father returned a few minutes later, having arranged for the burial, to find the physician working to revive the child, though the appliances usually used in such cases were lacking and there was no time to send for them.

WOMEN OPEN DRY GOODS BOX BATTLE FOR RIGHT TO VOTE

Plead for Amendment Which Removes All Restriction to Their Sex in the State of Kansas.

Kansas City, Mo.—Women mounted dry goods boxes, chairs and other available things to stand upon in Kansas City, Kan., and talked for "votes for women."

All along the main thoroughfares crowds assembled to hear the speakers. Twelve of them were in action. It was the opening of the campaign in Kansas on behalf of the adoption of an amendment to the state constitution giving women the right to vote in all elections—state and county.

At present they can exercise suffrage only in city elections. The amendment will be voted upon at the November election.
