WILSON TELLS ABOUT MEETING

Hamilton, Bermuda, Dec. 6.—The story of just how the engagement for the approaching conference of President-elect Wilson with William Jennings Bryan came to be made was told yesterday.

It seems that just before Mr. Wilson's departure for Princeton and while he was keeping his destination secret in order to avoid callers, word came to Mr. Bryan that Mr. Wilson was going to Florida. It happened that Mr. Bryan already had made plans to visit Miami, and in writing the president-elect casually mentioned the fact, adding that he might drop in on the next president some day if the president-elect happened to locate nearby. The letter was not received by Mr. Wilson until after he arrived at Hamilton. In reply he said he would be pleased to meet Mr. Bryan when he returned to the United States. This is the extent of the correspondence on that subject between the two democratic leaders since the election.

The president-elect is not permitting himself to be troubled by the factional difference affecting his administration. "I know that there have been all sorts of cross-currents," he said, "but there is not going to be any trouble. Why, it would be downright stupidity to start trouble in the present state of things and those who expect it are going to be fooled, and badly fooled, too."

It is known that Mr. Wilson's mind is an open one on many momentous matters, and he has made it clear that he will have no single adviser.

ANEURISM IS CURED BY SPANKING DEVICE

Machine Bringing Results Strikes Patient 10,000 Blows Every Minute.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 6.—To be mauled by a mechanical device striking 10,000 sixty-pound blows a minute, is not a pleasant ordeal, yet affected a cure for W. C. Dean, of this city, who had been suffering from a supposedly fatal aneurism, according to statements last night to the Southern California Medical society.

It was said that Dean was subjected to two five minute treatments daily until he showed signs of appreciable improvement. The device was adjusted to the patient so that the piston operated by compressed air came in contact with his seventh cervical. Dean was present at the meeting. He said the aneurism resulted from an injury sustained by him a number of years ago.

Among the resolutions was one indorsing a $500,000 appropriation for Washington's building and display at the Panama-Pacific exposition and another recommending a 3-mill levy for permanent state highways.

The "pork barrel" method of distributing state funds for road purposes was denounced and it was urged that the public highway fund be divided as nearly as possible between the east and west sides of the state.

A complete system of roads to encircle Mount Rainier was indorsed. The state legislature will be asked to memorialize congress for the construction of two more national highways for the general development of the United States.

COACH LYTLE PICKS ALL-EASTERN OREGON INTERSCHOLASTIC ELEVEN

(By Dr. W. H. Lytle, Coach of Pendleton H. S. Team.)

- Herbert, left end, Baker, captain.
- McColloch, left tackle, Baker.
- Bonnecamp, left guard, La Grande.
- Wolf, center, The Dalles.
- Rondeau, right guard, The Dalles.
- Finch, right tackle, Baker.
- Johnson, right end, Wallowa.
- Finnell, left half, Pendleton.
- Hinderman, fullback, Pendleton.
- Huntington, right half, The Dalles.
- Jordan, quarter, Pendleton.

The above theoretical eleven represents, in my opinion, the very best team that could be chosen to represent eastern Oregon on the gridiron. In making my selection, I have shifted several of the players from their regular positions because such shifts would be necessary to secure the eleven best men and maintain an evenly balanced team.

Halfback Herbert of Baker is moved to end because he plays that position equally as well as half. He is shifty, a good tackler and gets down the field fast and has weight to withstand abuse. McColloch of Baker is the best high school tackle in eastern Oregon. He has weight, experience and intensity. Bonnecamp of La Grande, is moved from his position of tackle to that of guard. He is shifty, follows the play well and breaks through the line often. Wolf of The Dalles for center had the easiest competition of all for his position as most of the centers were light and inexperienced. Rondeau, right guard of The Dalles was together with Wolf the offensive strength of their team. They opened practically all the holes through which Huntington made his yardage.

Finch, right tackle of Baker, was the heaviest man in the eastern Oregon interscholastic league. Though suffering from a broken bone in his wrist, he played throughout the season, using his 215 pounds of avoirdupois to stop all plays directed at his side of the line. He was at all times a power on defense. Johnson, right end and captain of the Wallowa team, is given the opposite end of the line from Herbert. He is a good tackler, a fast man going down under punts and receives forward passes well, and has both weight and experience. Finnell, left half of Pendleton, is

SCHOOL TAX MADE 9 MILLS

The school tax for 1912 in the Pendleton district will amount to nine mills, the same as levied by the council for city purposes. At a meeting of the school board yesterday afternoon, a nine mill levy was ordered.

This is three mills more than levied last year, the increase being caused largely by the expense of furnishing and equipping the new high school building. It is estimated that it will require $12,000 to fit the building properly.

The county court has not yet made its 1912 levy but will do so at the January term.

HOLDS SPECIAL COURT SESSION

In order to clean up the criminal docket of the circuit court, Judge Phelps is holding a special session of court and today Lynn Hill, indicted for the larceny of some cows, is being tried. The only other two criminal cases have been dismissed from the docket because of the jurisdiction acquired by the federal courts. Ralph McBean, indicted here for horsestealing, has been convicted in the federal court and is now serving a term at McNeal's Island while Columbia George, indicted for first degree murder, has been taken to Portland to face the same charge before a federal jury.

Hill, whose trial is on today, was jointly indicted last fall with Charles Modrell on four different counts for stealing cattle from Sam Nelson and Frank Byrd in the south end of the county. They were arrested at La Grande just after they had sold the cattle. Modrell, upon being indicted, pleaded guilty and was sentenced at the September term to the penitentiary. He made application, however, for a parole and has been confined in the county jail since pending the outcome of his application.

Hill pleaded not guilty to the charge, declaring he had been hired by Modrell to drive the cattle. This Modrell denied on the stand today and his testimony is proving damaging to the defendant. The case was postponed at noon until after the arrival of several La Grande witnesses on No. 17.

On account of the circuit court business, the water adjudication cases which have been going on at the court house this week, have been postponed until Monday. Progress is slow at these hearings.
