LA TAUSCA PEARLS

More and more precious are pearls becoming. More and more popular is this queen of gems, for there is a charm about the pearl that appeals strongly to men as well as women.

Fashion says that the pearl shall lead in favor.

The LA TAUSCA PEARL NECKLACE has become eminently popular on account of the very reasonable cost. They have the rich lustre and beauty that characterizes them.

Jubilant because of their victory last night over the team of the Weston high school, the girl basketball players of the Echo high school arrived in Pendleton this morning en route home. They defeated the Weston girls by a 9 to 1 score and on the Weston floor, in a clean and exciting game. To make their rejoicing more complete, they heard while here that the Echo boys' team defeated Hermiston last night. The girls report that Emma Scherer was their star in the Weston game, most of the points being due to her basket shooting. The first half ended in a score of 3 to 1 in the second half, the Echo "bloomers" were able to shoot three field goals to their opponents' none. INDIANS ENJOY A CHRISTMAS TREE

The second annual Christmas tree for the Indians of the reservation was held this afternoon at the Hamley and Company saddle store. This is an event inaugurated by the store and is attended by scores of Indians. The squaws made up by far the larger part of the audience this afternoon. Candy, apples and popcorn were distributed to the Indians who were as pleased as children to receive the gifts.

Besides these gifts, there were shawls, ropes and hats and other things dear to the heart of the Indian, that were to be drawn, the lucky one to get one of the presents. A large crowd of Indians was present and during the festivities several selections were played on the piano.

O'CONNELL TO MEET BUZUKOS ON XMAS

Pendleton sport lovers are promised an event of unusually large caliber for a city the size of Pendleton for Christmas afternoon. Eddie O'Connell, the acknowledged welterweight champion wrestler of the United States, having accepted the challenge of Peter Buzukos, the Greek welterweight, for a finish match on next Wednesday. Lee D. Drake this morning received a check from the Portland banding to bind the contract and there now seems no doubt that the two will get together.

The bout will be held in the gymnasium in the rear of the Commercial association and will commence at 3 o'clock. The two men met several years ago in Portland and O'Connell won, but Buzukos has more weight and experience than he had then and he believes he can defeat the Portlander. At any rate, the bout should be a first class one for the two are among the foremost mat artists in the world.

MANY ARE ATTENDING TEACHERS INSTITUTE

Well attended by school officials and teachers from over the county, the joint directors and teachers institute is being held in Pendleton today. This morning the teachers held a separate meeting at the Methodist church while the directors were meeting in the auditorium of the court house but this afternoon the meeting is being held jointly. Though each section of the county is well represented, County Superintendent Frank K. Welles estimates that there are not quite as many here as were last year.

At the meeting of the directors this morning, State Superintendent L. B. Alderman and President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon were the principal speakers, both making extremely helpful addresses on the problem of developing the rural schools to their maximum of efficiency. A number of the directors also participated in the speaking, their practical suggestions proving very interesting.

At the meeting this afternoon Superintendent Alderman and President Campbell are again scheduled to be the principal speakers.
