$11,000 CHRISTMAS FOR BABY.
$1000 Tree and $10,000 Worth of Toys for the $100,000,000 McLean Child.
Washington.—A $1000 Christmas tree, the largest ever seen in Washington, and $10,000 worth of imported toys, will make the birthday party of Vinson Wash McLean, the $100,000,000 baby, notable in the annals of American childhood. No expense has been spared to make the third birthday of Master McLean memorable.

For weeks, an agent of his indulged father, Edward Beale McLean, son of John R. McLean and nephew of Admiral Dewey, has been skrimishing around Europe buying up the pick of the children's toys. These toys were then brought over on the steamer Mauretania and so precious were they that Mr. and Mrs. McLean themselves went to New York to meet the steamer.

Not content with giving these beautiful toys, McLean has remembered his own childhood and provided a real circus performance.
The Christmas tree will be decorated from top to bottom with imported trimmings and myriads of colored electric lights. A new feature in the lights has been designed and worked out in characters of Mother Goose. The figures have been molded into the glass of the light and make a unique appearance.

MORE ACTION IN DANCES.
Chicago Man Says New Forms Are But Reaction from the "Passive" Kinds.
Chicago.—The "passive dances" of today, such as the waltz and the two step, should be relegated to oblivion and in their stead should be substituted the old time Captain Jinks, Dan Tucker and Virginia Reel, dances of bodily action and physical expression, according to Edwin B. De Groot, general secretary of the Playgrounds association of Chicago, who spoke before the Irish Fellowship club.

The bunny hug, the grizzly bear and the turkey trot, he said, are but a reaction from the "passive dances" which have transformed the former physical exercise of the ball room into a gliding dream.
"Those old dances require more bodily action and physical expression, which the modern passive dances do not afford," said Mr. De Groot. "This country has ushered in an era of commercialized passive amusements that do not require the physical activity and initiative that the games of earlier generations produced."

Killed Cougar With .22 Rifle.
Albany, Ore., Dec. 21.—Snackenburg brought a cougar scalp to the office of the county clerk here and obtained the bounty of $10 for the evidence of his prowess with a .22 rifle. Snackenburg was out in the woods with the toy rifle and his dog, when the cougar attacked the dog. Snackenburg shot the big cat with the small gun. The first shot did not kill the animal and the ejector of the rifle was broken so that Snackenburg had to remove the empty shell with his pocket knife. He managed to do so before the cougar could get away and the second shot was fatal.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that most infectious diseases such as whooping cough, diphtheria and scarlet fever are contracted when the child has a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and greatly lessen the danger of contracting these diseases. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a child with implicit confidence. Sold by all dealers.

STANFIELD MAN GOES BACK TO THE SOIL.

(Special Correspondence.)
Stanfield, Dec. 21.—Geo. W. Clark, one of Pendleton's oldest and most popular grocers, has taken Roosevelt's advice to go back to the soil. After looking over different places he has decided that the Furbush project is the best place for an investment. Mr. Clark has begun work on his place adjoining the Page ranch and expects to make this his future home.
F. J. Thomas of Hermiston has opened a barber shop here. He is fixing up the room next door and will put in a complete line of cigars, tobacco and confectionery; also will add a pool table.
J. R. Means, a former resident of Stanfield, is here for a few days.
Harry Duvall and family have moved on the Dickson ranch about two miles from here.
F. D. Carruth will join friends at Portland and then go to Carlton to spend the holidays with his parents. Miss Hazlet will be in Pendleton. Miss Chezik at Hermiston, Mrs. Dummas, Miss Brierley and Miss McCormick will remain in Stanfield.
Frederick Steiner of Pendleton is renewing old acquaintances here today.
Mrs. C. W. Pugnitz was an Echo visitor Thursday.
S. Miles of Walla Walla, is in the city this week.
George W. Dunning and Geo. Martin are doing Christmas shopping in Pendleton today.
Misses Mable McCormick and Ruby Hazlet are attending the teachers' examination at Pendleton this week.
Alfred and Herman Peters are here from Pendleton looking after wild geese.
Dr. Alex Ried is on a hunting trip. We expect he will be able to supply the Xmas market with wild fowls when he returns.
Miss Viola Gravel was a passenger to Echo yesterday.
Mrs. R. N. Stanfield returned to Portland after a few days here.
Ivan Dunning's new bungalow is about completed. Mr. Dunning expects to occupy it the early part of the new year.

CARABAO HOLD A "WALLOW"

Officers Who Served in the Philippines from 1898 to 1902 Hold High Jinks in Washington.

Washington.—Enlivened by songs, speeches and "stunts" recalling the early days of American occupation in the Philippines, the tenth annual "wallow" of the Washington corral of the military order of the Carabao, was the most successful in the history of the organization, whose members comprise most of the army, navy and marine corps officers who served in the Philippines during the "days of the empire" from 1898 to 1902.

Chief Justice White and Associate Justices Van Devanter and Lurton of the supreme court and Secretaries Stimson, Fisher, MacVeagh, Nagel and Wilson, and Postmaster General Hitchcock were among the prominent guests.

During the dinner there arrived from Manila, in an aeroplane, which first appeared on a screen as a speck and approached until it became real size, a messenger extraordinary, who announced that the Filipino tribes, "in cock-pit assembled," had just adopted a declaration of independence. To prove that they should be given independence, the declaration recited that the United States had been tyrannical by suppressing intertidal strife, encouraging business and commerce, raising the standard of living in the islands, economically collecting the revenues and so on through a long list of reforms. The messenger urged the Carabao to get the United States to double the number of battleships in Philippine waters.

The toastmaster was Major General Robert K. Evans, in command of the department of the Gulf. Henry D. Estabrook of New York spoke in favor of retaining the Philippines, declaring that the time had not come to arrange for the independence for the Filipinos.
