Were You Among the Fortunate Purchasers?

Yesterday a local merchant published a very important announcement in the EAST OREGONIAN, which enabled a number of people to effect a great saving.

Were you among the fortunate? This splendid opportunity was presented to all the readers of the EAST OREGONIAN but only those who have formed the habit of reading the advertisements closely and constantly every day were able to grasp it.

There are similar opportunities presented in the EAST OREGONIAN'S advertising columns every day. Today it may be a special sale of furniture. Tomorrow it may be an offering of Easter Suits. Every day new things are featured. Merchants tell you their most important store news.

So you see it pays to read the EAST OREGONIAN continuously. By doing so you will always be well informed regarding the new arrivals, the latest and most fashionable merchandise, and never miss an opportunity to save money.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Appraisers Appointed.
Judge Maloney today appointed Clyde Gard, George W. Done and O. T. Carnes as appraisers of the estate of Roy Linsner, deceased.

Deputy Sheriffs Appointed.
Sheriff T. D. Taylor has appointed James Dykes and J. H. West as deputy sheriffs of Umatilla county and their oaths were filed with the county clerk today.

A New Indian.
Dr. R. H. Hagood of the eastern Oregon branch hospital has just received a new Indian motorcycle which he recently ordered through Lester Cronin, the local agent.

Takes Position in Bank.
Paul Finnerell, well known high school senior, has accepted a position in the First National bank. His duties will not interfere with his school work.

"Coyote Bill" in Again.
William Blevens, sometimes known as "Coyote Bill," was the only prisoner to face Judge Fitz Gerald this morning. He pleaded guilty to being drunk and in lieu of ten dollars cash went to jail for five days.

Local Boys Graduating.
Numbered among the 113 members of the class which is to be graduated from the University of Oregon in June are two Pendleton high school graduates, Harold Warner and Glen Storie. Both will receive A. B. degrees.

Special Venire Drawn.
The following names were drawn yesterday as a special venire of jurymen to serve during the special term of the circuit court: Frank Hilbert, Charley Cheney, A. T. Perkins, George O'Daniel, J. S. McCloud, Douglas Belts, H. F. Kamrath, John McGinn, Robert Laing, Kim Morton and Henry Craig.

Bowling Team to Portland.
The Pendleton bowling team, consisting of Adolph Molitor, Pat McDevitt, Virgil Botts, Ed Parlee and H. Anderson will attend the Portland bowling tournament in Portland next week and try its skill against the best of the northwest. Their "Let 'er Buck" shirts are on exhibition today in the Alexander display windows.

Boys New Franklin.
W. M. Blakely, well known retired farmer, has discarded the old Franklin which he has driven for the past five years for a new one, a "Little Six," which he purchased yesterday afternoon from the Pendleton Auto company. The new car is a handsome one. It is a five passenger, six cylinder machine and is equipped with a self starting device and electric lights.

Finds Trace of Moreland.
Recorder Fitz Gerald is in receipt of a letter from E. E. Sharon, secretary of the grand lodge I. O. O. F. in which he states that he has a record of W. S. Moreland, inquiry about whom was made by a Buffalo jewelry firm and printed in the East Oregonian where it was seen by Mr. Sharon. He states that the missing man was in Tennessee in 1897, in Richmond, Wheeler Co., Oregon, in December, 1901, and in Fossil as late as May 29, 1909. He is endeavoring to trace him farther.

Real Estate Transactions.
Alfred P. Myrick and wife of Pendleton to Louis Dern, for $20,400, 400 acres on sec. 15, twp. 4, S. R. 21; Fred Eggerth and wife of Richmond, Calif., to M. F. Dick, lot 9, block D, original town of Albee; William Caldwell to Stella A. Dodd (quitclaim) s. 1-2 of the se. 1-4, sec. 22, twp. 4, N. R. 28; T. J. Costley and wife to Rufus Gross, lot 26, Grandview Orchard Tracts, consisting of five acres in twp. 6, N. R. 25; Allen Garnett of Weston to John F. Snyder, part of lots 17 and 18, block 11, original town of Weston and all of lot 12, block 2 of Hartman's addition to the same.

Alleged Embezzler on Trial.
Oliver White alias Robert King, who is charged with the embezzlement of funds while manager of the Milton branch of a Walla Walla furniture and undertaking establishment, is on trial in the circuit court today. The jury was drawn early and the state will probably conclude its case by 3 o'clock. Among the witnesses for the state were J. M. Cookerly, one of the proprietors, C. H. Egan, bookkeeper, R. G. Still, Tom Frazier, Roy Givens, and R. R. Knight. The testimony is to the effect that a shortage of $223 was discovered when White resigned his position. District Attorney Stetser is representing the state and Peterson & Bishop are conducting the defense.

DELAYED MAIL IS RECEIVED IN ALASKA

Fairbanks, Alaska, March 21.—The mail hungry mobs was surfeited today when fifteen dog sled trains arrived with six tons of mail from the south, the first since the snow blocked Cordova two months ago. It was the largest single shipment of mail ever received overland in Fairbanks.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE DECLARED AT OAKLAND

Oakland, Cal., March 21.—Because of the refusal of the United States Iron Workers of Oakland to concede the demands of its casting chipper for a union scale of three dollars per day, about two hundred men, belonging to five other iron trades and crafts, went on a sympathetic strike. These are the patternmakers, machinists, moulders, foundry employes and blacksmiths. The casting chipper has been on strike for some time.

ELKS SHOW CHORUS IS SIMPLY GRAND

Young Ladies and Gentlemen Rehearsing Faithfully—Chorus Has Been Carefully Chosen—There Is Plenty of Humor in "The College Pennant"—Minor Parts Good.

With a few more rehearsals, the chorus in "The College Pennant" will be ready to appear in public for the first time on Wednesday next at the Oregon theater. This musical show will be the annual offering of the local lodge of Elks and from the way the rehearsals are being conducted, the production will be among the best things seen in Pendleton this season. The chorus has been carefully chosen, the first necessity of course being that a full volume of sound be produced. A weak chorus is always a failure and spoils the best of productions. Director Brown, who is conducting the rehearsals, has an ear for voice and he has taken the best talent in this particular line for the Elks' play. So it can be safely said that the chorus will be fully up to all the flattering comment that can be made of it. There is a deal of work yet to be done, however, and the participants, who are new to the stage will have to be drilled in team work so that the dances and gyrations will be in strictest harmony. The chorus is responding readily to every suggestion and on the first night of the musical should be up to the limit of perfection.

From the fact that some of the best known Pendleton folks are in the cast, local playgoers will likely await with much anticipation the dates of the offering.

Rehearsals will proceed every evening until next Wednesday, the first night of the offering, the chorus being drilled early in the evening and the character parts latterly, while private rehearsals of those who take more prominent parts are also being held. Most of the lines have been committed to memory. Close application now to the technique of acting should bring the participants to a high standard of excellence.

To mention this musical show and forget to include the comedians would be a dire calamity, for it is the funmakers who are going to decide whether the show is a success or not. It is safe to say, however, that those chosen to fill these most difficult roles will do their parts exceptionally well.

Jack Urquhart and Jiff Estes, as the Dutchmen, will provoke much laughter. One of the funniest situations is placed on the island where the captain of the steamer Columbia lands the passengers and crew in order to rescue Bob Stubble (Brooke Dickson). The Dutchmen proceed to seek for clews of the young man and in their search discover foot prints in the sand. Not being versed clearly in the art of detective work, they have procured a book which gives directions how to proceed when following clews. So they look up what to do when they find foot prints, and say, this scene is guaranteed to make a clear store Indian smile.

To step from the ridiculous to the sublime is always a short step, and in "The College Pennant" there is fun well mixed with the deeper shades of sentiment, such as love-making for instance. There is a pretty love scene between Lucille Bondman (Mrs. Roy Alexander) and Dick Holbrook (Roy Buchanan) which is as good as has ever been placed behind the footlights. These two characters in fact have stellar parts throughout the play and they have entered into them with the enthusiasm of professional stage people.

It is not a good plan to overlook the smaller parts, for in many instances it is just these parts which make or mar the piece. As a matter of fact, there are few minor parts in "The College Pennant," but no play has ever been written in which all take star parts, so with this particular production there are incidentals upon which hinge the plot of the story.

If the newsboy Raggsy (George Gillette) had remained away from the wharf on the day the Columbia sailed, the captain (Paul Sperry) would not have purchased a paper which contained the news of the murder at the college. It is Raggsy, therefore, who is responsible for circulating the news of the crime; and it is through this knowledge and the belief that Bob Stubble is innocent that leads Captain Starboard to determine to help the young college man. Mr. Gillette will undoubtedly enact his part with realism. For the time he is on the stage he should be a newsboy in fact and forget that he is a businessman or knows anything about business—and from the way he is rehearsing it is safe to say that he will be a regular Richard Mansfield—which is saying a good deal, for if Mansfield had ever essayed to be a newsboy he would have been the best newsboy that ever appeared on the stage.

BOYS WANT ANTI-CIGARETTE BILL PASSED

Los Angeles, March 21.—More than forty thousand school boys of Los Angeles in a secret ballot have asked for the passage of the anti-cigarette bill introduced in the legislature in behalf of the southern California W. C. T. U. It would prevent the manufacture as well as the sale of cigarettes.

WOMAN TREATED BY FRIEDMANN CURE

Monrovia, Cal., March 21.—The Friedmann treatment was administered today to Mrs. Albert Erickson by Dr. J. L. Pomeroy and Dr. H. D. Phyle, who obtained the serum from Dr. A. D. Held of Pittsburg.

EX-GOVERNOR OF WASHINGTON DIES

Bellingham, Wash., March 21.—Ex-Governor A. E. Mead, died Wednesday evening at 5:30 at his home of an acute attack of heart trouble. His death was unexpected although he had been sick for two months.

Governor Mead was a native of Kansas, born at Manhattan, December 4, 1861. He came to Washington in 1889 and settled at Blaine, Whatcom county, where he practiced law. He was elected governor in 1895 and served one term coming to Bellingham at the expiration of his term, where he made his home.

While governor of the state he put into effect the railroad commission law and other reform measures.

His death was sudden, and, according to his physicians, was due to valvular heart trouble. He is survived by a widow and four children.

LIBRARY NOTES

In a recent magazine article, John Coitson Dana, librarian of the Newark, N. J., library, a man of authority in all lines of library activity, is quoted as having said "lots of people think the library a place where they can get the latest book of fiction or book of travel." It is true people do not stop to think that they can stop in at the library and produce a book on how to plant and cultivate sweet peas, or how to do cleaning and renovating at home, or recipes for the fireless cooker, or how to raise poultry for market, yet all of these things can be answered in the library.

It is the aim of the Pendleton public library to appeal to the practical side of our business life and to maintain our library for practical use rather than for the mere book reading public. The idea that the library is for "men who read novels and nice old ladies who read Shakespeare" should be speedily dispersed.

FAST LAUNCH SERVICE ON UPPER COLUMBIA

No More Steamboats to Run from Wenatchee—New Company in Control
Walla Walla, March 21.—Fast launch service has supplanted steamboat service on the upper Columbia river, north from Wenatchee, and hereafter, according to announcement of the Columbia & Okanogan Steamboat company, which concern is now in control of up-river traffic. The new schedule will make passenger travel twice as expeditious as with steamboats.

The new fast launch E. I. G., made her initial trip from Wenatchee Tuesday with a full load of passengers. The 70-mile trip from Wenatchee to Brewster was made in five hours, and the return trip in less than four hours. Fares for passengers have been reduced from previous years. It is planned to make connections with stage lines for Methow and Okanogan points when road traffic is resumed in the north country.
