

Woman and Her Varied Interests

For the Girl Graduate.
According to the Dry Goods Economist many of the graduation dresses are made with medium-low necks, some of which are finished off with Medici Collar and others with flat bands of inserting. Some have the sleeves reaching just below the elbow, others come down to the wrist, in the latter case being as a rule transparent.

The draped skirt caught up in the front or sides is well liked in the more elaborate dresses, while the tunic, or two or three-flounce skirt is preferred in the more practical dresses, particularly for younger girls.

Sashes are used almost entirely at the waist. Some of these sashes are placed at the normal waist effect, which continues to be popular for young girls. The dresses intended for graduation usually have white sashes but in the dancing frock many fancy sashes are introduced, showing the Cubist and Futurist colorings and sometimes a combination of two or more colors.

Fancy buttons, particularly of white crystal, or white crystal showing decorations of dainty flowers, are used effectively on many of the dresses. Trimmings of flowers are much in evidence on dancing frocks. Sometimes the low-cut neck is edged with a small wreath of rosebuds or other flowers, and the same trimming idea is carried out in the skirt. Occasionally the flowers are put on the lining, so that only a glimpse of them can be had.

Parisian Hairdressing.
Nothing in the way of puff, chi chi, switch or pompadour is now modish in Paris. Almost the only false piece is the little fringe that fits so nicely over the forehead. Women with much hair do not need a roll on which to fasten or build their hair for the Grecian coil either. The tiny head is now en vogue, and anything that enlarges the head or makes the hair appear thick on the shape of the head thick is taboo. Coiffeurs have only just realized that a small head is a mark of beauty, and for the past six months all their efforts have gone toward making the cranium as delicate and girlish as possible.

Heads are dressed very high for evening. The old-fashioned Grecian coil has returned, and we see heads that have a kind of Psyche on the very top. The hair is lightly marcelled, then brought in a mass over the crown, covering a round roll. Little soft curls lie all about this top scene, filling in the space and making the wearer majestic and taller. With such a coiffure of itself the head is quite dignified and distingue, and to go with some of the evening corsages all the dignity possible is needed.

AMUSEMENTS

The Orpheum.
Extra, extra, "The Miser's Millions," a Cines-Kleine drama in three reels for Tuesday's change.

The Miser's Millions. Cines-Kleine. Three reels. The miser hoards his wealth and guards it in a cunning fashion. His butler discovers his hiding place and in a quarrel which ensues the miser is accidentally killed. After serving a long term in prison, the butler rescues the miser's heirs from poverty by leading them to the hidden wealth. There is a pretty wedding and although he is not one of the principals, the old butler finds joy in the thought that he has made two others happy.

"Nature's Gift from the Sunny South"

DO YOU know the difference between Cottolene and lard? Cottolene is a vegetable product; lard is an animal product. Cottolene is made from purest and choicest cotton oil, a product of Nature.

Lard-cooked foods tend to heat the system unduly, and cause discomfort and indigestion; Cottolene makes food rich but never greasy, and food which any stomach can digest with ease.

Cottolene

The better class of housewives often use butter instead of lard for cooking purposes. It's a mighty expensive and needless habit. Cottolene is every bit as good as butter for shortening; it is better than butter for frying. And Cottolene costs much less than butter.

Cottolene will not burn nearly as easily as butter or lard, and with its use the strong, irritating and indigestible acids found in foods fried in animal fats are avoided.

Two-thirds of a pound of Cottolene will go as far as a full pound of butter or lard.

Just think these facts over and let them sink in. Then order a pail of Cottolene of your grocer.

The Pastime.

The home of good pictures. Program for Tuesday includes a big two reel feature.

Extra special, "The Grim Toll of War." Kalem. A two reel feature picture with many stirring scenes. It is a story of the civil war and depicts thrilling incidents in the dark days of the 60's. Hal Clements plays the colonel and hero; Guy Combs his unknown brother-in-law, the U. S. secret service agent of whom he is unjustly jealous. Anna Nilsson, the governess of the colonel's young daughter, whom the colonel falls in love with and marries on his return from Europe.

"The Power That Rules." Vitagraph. A society drama. Featuring Laura Oakley, Anne Shaefer and Charles Bennett in leading roles. "Blame the Wife." Biograph. A farce played by Dell Henderson, Kate Tonery and others. "The Daylight Burglar." Biograph.

Cosy.

For Wednesday and Thursday, a beautiful Eclair drama in two reels, "The Return of Lady Linda." Barbara Tennant, Fred Trusdale and the winsome little child actress Clara Horton have the leads.

"The Troubadour of the Rancho." Powers. A very pleasing western story in which a displaced Mexican is the means of bringing happiness to a home.

"Binks the Terrible Turk." Imp. Binks, the funmaker, will make you laugh in this.

Coming Friday, "The Black Chancellor," a superb three reel military production.

NEW BILL AT THE NEW GRAND THEATER

Tonight the Grand opens with a new bill, "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway," a screaming farce. There will be new songs and dances. Frank Confer and Paul Reno having the leading characters insure a production up to the standard that has been set by the Edwards and Merritts Musical Comedy company. The balance of the cast is in capable hands and an evening of good entertainment is in store for any one attending the Grand theater. The management wishes to announce that commencing next Thursday the Grand will put on vaudeville and first-class pictures at popular prices.

BAKER COUPLE WEDDED SATURDAY IN GROCERY STORE

Baker, Ore., May 21.—"Never too busy to show goods," is the motto of Rev. D. W. Yoakum, proprietor of the Acme grocery on Center street, but he is thinking of changing it to "Never too busy to tie the nuptial knots," or "Always ready to make two hearts beat as one," or something similar. Rev. Yoakum is often called on to perform marriages, but Saturday was the first time the stage for the ceremony was the back room of the grocery store. Oliver C. Fisher and Emma Steel appeared with a license and shyly made their wants known. Mr. Yoakum was busy weighing up feed and being somewhat begrimed and dusty, asked when they would need his services. "Now" came the answer from both. "All right," said the parson, who took his Bible from the shelf, dusted an old black coat that hung in the store room, donned the same and began the words of the service which made the couple man and wife. With the ceremony over, and congratulations passed by the clerks and employees to the bridal couple, they took themselves on their way, while the parson-groceryman got back to weighing out feed at a high rate of speed to make up for lost time, on a busy Saturday afternoon.

ELEVEN YEAR OLD GIRL ASSAULTED BY UNKNOWN MAN

Baker, Ore., May 21.—A dastardly crime was attempted by an unknown man Saturday forenoon on the person of Goldie Busby, the 11 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Busby, who reside on the North Side. The man lured the little girl to a vacant house on North Grove street, representing that his sister had left a doll there and that they might find it. He also gave her ten cents. When they got in the house, according to the girl, her assailant threw her down and from the appearance of the place the child put up a strong defense. Finally the man left her and she ran home. The police were notified at once. She says he wore blue checked overalls, black shoes, and judging from the description he must have been about 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighing around 160. She could not give any information about his age, being too badly frightened. Medical attention was given the child at once. Every effort is being made to get a trace of the criminal, but thus far without success.

A Clear Brain and healthy body are essential for success. Business men, teachers, students, housewives, and other workers say Hood's Sarsaparilla gives them appetite and strength, and makes their work seem easy. It overcomes that tired feeling.
