"ALL THE WORLD LOVES A LOVER"

"All the world loves a lover," and the latest sensation straight from the heart of the west, with a hunted man as a hero, in "The Law and the Outlaw," is something new and strange—thrilling beyond compare. Here is rugged reality, which indicates that there must be compensation for violated laws, no matter how brave and daring the victim of justice may be. "Dakota" Wilson, the man from Deer Lodge penitentiary, is an unusual type—not the conventional, cringing, glance-avoiding individual, but the resourceful chap who meets you face to face and measures you for a man—a man who has lived in the open, loves freedom as well as that he will dare almost anything to escape the pent-up wall of the pen.

The redeeming trait of "Dakota" is that he is honest in his love and respects the womanhood—daring death for his devotion. His chase of the frenzied bull his leap from his pony to his back, and his bringing the animal to earth with his naked hands, saving the life of the girl, were possibly all in the day's work to him, but it won the admiration of his comrades and the undying esteem of the girl. His wonderful escape, rolling manacled down the mountain, the target for the unusually unerring aim of the sheriff, is another bit of deviltry. But all of these daring diversions do not equal the plunge from the saddle in which "Dakota" gets caught in the stirrup and is dragged by his running horse—quite the most remarkable feat ever recorded on a film.

"The Law and the Outlaw" will have its first showing here on July 4-5 at Pastime theater.

Pastime Theater. The Pastime theater has been exceptionally fortunate in securing Seilly's western triumph, "The Law and the Outlaw," for Friday's change of pictures for the Fourth. Unquestionably the most thrilling, gripping and appealing western drama ever produced. Featuring Tom Mix the acknowledged all-around champion cowboy of the world. "The Law and the Outlaw" is the season's motion picture sensation. An astounding photoplay feature that will hold you spellbound. A pleasing romance of the fast passing and picturesque west, interwoven with a series of astounding and death-defying feats of cowboy daring. A remarkable story of the Diamond S ranch. You will see Tom Mix, the world's champion cowboy in the role of "Dakota" Wilson, the outlaw. You will see "Dakota" save the life of Rancher Watson's daughter by "bulldozing" the maddened steer that is about to gore her. You will see the frenzied steers battle for supremacy when two herds meet. You will see "Dakota" while handcuffed, make his miraculous escape by rolling down a steep embankment. You will see "Dakota" dragged across the prairie with his foot caught in the stirrup—one of the most daredevil feats ever attempted. You will see a realistic shooting fray in which real bullets are used. A delightful love story runs through this triumph of western realism. "The Heart of Mrs. Robins." Vitagraph, featuring Leah Baird and Leo Delaney. "Professor William McNutt." Edison. An enjoyable comedy picture.

Cosy. Program for Wednesday and Thursday: "In the Toils of the Devil." Three reels. Milano. A costly three reel production by the same company that made "Dante's Inferno." "The Crusaders." "St. George and the Dragon." "Homer's Odyssey" and other really big features, all of which have been shown in Pendleton. Competent critics pronounce "In the Toils of the Devil" to be the equal of the celebrated "Dante's Inferno" which made such a sensation. A pact with the evil one for the sake of a soul, is the basis of this powerful romance. It is absolutely free from objectionable scenes and although sensational is above adverse criticism from every point of view. It will hold your interest without shocking your sensibilities. "She Never Knew." Imp. This is without doubt one of the very strongest one reel features ever made. It is so full of real humanity that it touches human feeling deeply. Wm. Shea and Jane Fearnley play the leads. "Jed Holcomb's Prize Box." Nestor. This is "some comedy" of rural life, a novel feature being a ploughing contest. One of Nestor's happiest offerings. And for the 4th we will show a patriotic feature, "The Spirit of the Flag," a two reel 101 Bison drama of the war in the Philippines.

NEW ATTRACTIONS AT THE GRAND TONIGHT Among the attractions at the New Grand are Bert Roxy, the musical cowboy in his novel rope dancing, rope tying, rope twirling and lassoing exhibition; Mossman and Reynolds, refined white and black comedians; Margaret Beere, Brownie & Silver, in a new act; George Temple, the tramp Caruso, an original English monologist and Miss Ernestine Didier. The latter two will open with the regular company in an entire new bill tonight. COLONEL SEELY NOT TO OPPOSE LORD ROBERTS Westminster.—When it was announced some time ago that the Eighty Club had invited Lord Roberts and Colonel Seely to take part in a debate on compulsory military service it was said that both gentlemen had accepted the invitation. Questioned recently in the house of commons, however, Colonel Seely said that if a body of men was willing to give Lord Roberts an opportunity of expressing his views and he were honored with an invitation he would be very glad to attend and hear what was said. But it had never occurred to him to enter into a gladiatorial contest with a field marshal of the British army, and he had no intention of doing so. Deed Dated 1756 Filed for Record. Lancaster, Pa.—A deed dated 1756 was recorded in the court house here recently. It transferred from James King to Vincent King, father and son, a tract of 235 acres in Little Britain township and it had been handed from owner to owner for the past 160 or more years. The consideration named in the paper was "natural love and affection." The farm property is now owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Wood, of Little Britain.

Women Voters Wanted in Paris. Paris.—At a recent sitting of the Paris municipal council, under the presidency of M. Chassaing-Guyon, a number of members moved a resolution in favor of granting to women votes in the municipal elections. In introducing their proposition the members reminded the council that the reform had been introduced in foreign countries and that it had been proposed in the chamber by a deputy, M. Burnet in the name of the socialists supported the resolution. ECHO HOTEL UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT (Special Correspondence.) Echo, Ore., July 3.—Messrs. Keller and Etubling of The Dalles, who purchased the Hotel Echo some two months ago, but have had it rented, took personal charge of it yesterday, or some time past they have been improving the establishment by adding new furniture throughout, papering, painting, etc. They have already spent $2000 on improvements and are not through yet. Andrew Keller, who is manager, is an experienced business man and will make the hotel one of the best in eastern Oregon. The people of Echo appreciate the good efforts of Mr. Keller and are prepared to give him loyal support.
