AMUSEMENTS

The Orpheum.
For Tuesday's change a touching two-reel Lubin specialty, "Home, Sweet Home," featuring Harry Meyers and Ethel Clayton.

"Home, Sweet Home," Lubin, two-reels. A successful man and wife, thinking to make their parents happy, sell the old home and furniture, and take them to the city to live in their luxurious home with them. The old folks longed for their old home and make frequent trips to the old second hand store. John and Ned discover their unhappiness and buy the old home back and all the furniture, and pa and ma went back to "Home, Sweet Home."

"The Taming of Betty," Vita. Featuring Clara K. Young and Maurice Costello. Betty's mother and Sir James Disbrow have arranged for a marriage between Betty and Charles who have never met. Betty storms and goes to stay with a missionary friend when she hears Sir James and his son are coming. They arrive and Ned her brother, accidentally brings about a meeting between them although they do not discover each others identity. Next day Betty's mother sends for her to come home, saying she is ill. Betty goes and her surprise is great when she meets her rescuer of the day before. Her prejudice is removed and Mrs. Forester and Sir James are entirely satisfied.

"The Friendless Indian," Pathe. Even when he rescued the child of a white man his only reward was a nod of thanks, for of course he is a red-skin and as such is doomed to walk the world alone.

"Barcelona, Spain," Pathe.

Pastime

We will present Tuesday, "The Ne'er to Return Road," a drama of intense heart interest written by Mrs. Otis Skinner in two reels. A powerful play again emphasizes "The Wages of Sin Is Death" and the aftermath of tragedy is tears. This new treatment of the world--old theme, and a heart-hold in the mother's love, adds intensity to interest, and the element of suspense is dominant to make it tense and thrilling.

"The Ne'er to Return Road." Sellig in two parts. It is difficult to conceive a deeper sense of injury than the case of the mother facing the murderer of her son after many years; seeing him lie prone in her power, begging for mercy, when she has a loaded rifle in her hand, and all of the hatred of pent-up years to back the bullet for revenge. This is the crux and almost the climax of a powerful new pictorial and emotional play from the pen of Mrs. Otis Skinner. The victim of a modern Cain had a mother who had grieved long and deep and in her wild moments dreamed of vengeance but when it came to the test, pity overwhelmed her, inspired her for a better part, so that she really provided the slayer of her son a means to secure his freedom. "A mother is a mother still, the holiest thing alive."

"A Chinese Puzzle," Biograph. A hilarious comedy, the sweetheart of the girl (Grace Lewis) gets a job with the family in the guise of a Chinese cook.

"The Dream Fairy," Edison.

"The Sweat Box," Biograph. A rough and tumble farce with a laugh in every foot of film.

Cosy.

Program for Wednesday and Thursday.

"The Smuggler's Daughter." Two reels. Rex. A two part story of the Pacific coast with some splendid views of ocean and rugged shore. One exceptionally fine scene in which we see the revenue launch coming over the tossing waves, is most effective. There are some interesting characters, especially one strong man who nobly gets into trouble, because he will neither do wrong nor tell the revenue officers of the wrong the smuggler's daughter is doing. He manages to escape and saves the revenue officer's daughter from rough smugglers. The capture of the evil doers makes everything right in the end.

"A Country Cousin," Gt. Northern. An enjoyable comedy which fairly exhales merriment. Jack bet he can go to a young ladies' school disguised as a girl and get away with it. He succeeds for a while but finally is found out. When cornered he shouts "mouse" and in the ensuing panic he escapes. There are some beautiful out of doors scenes in this picture.

"Poleon the Trapper," Nestor. A story of the great north woods.

STABS YOUNG WIFE HE CLAIMED TO LOVE

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 13.—A tragedy occurred here the other night truly Russian in the horror of its details. A young man, just 26 years of age, named Groshev, adopted son of a rich merchant of Moscow, entered the fashionable Haurida restaurant and ordered a private room.

He was apparently in high good humor. After ordering a supper of the best the place could afford, he sent a messenger with a letter to his young and beautiful wife inviting her to join him at the restaurant, and added that he had sent the most modest youth he could find so that she, whom he adored so much, would not be insulted by so much as a bold glance. The young wife, happy in the thought of the evening that awaited her, hurried to the restaurant. Groshev received her with that flattering solicitude the well born Russian knows so well how to assume.

Champagne of the finest vintage was ordered and the orchestra was commanded to play the most entrancing airs. The wine flowed freely and while the musicians were playing that exquisite Russian thing, "Forgotten is the Tender Rose," the husband raised his glass in the presence of the manager, who acted as servitor and cried, "I drink to the health of my beloved wife." Then he dashed the glass to the floor, seized a long knife and

THE FREE CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND AT THE SPOKANE FAIR.

THERE is one place above all others where children, big and small, can have the best time of the year, and that place is the Spokane Fair the week of Sept. 15. One of the latest attractions for the little folk is the big new Play Grounds installed by the Spokane Park Board. This covers more than an acre and is full of swings, slides, seesaws, trapezes, horizontal bars and other things for having fun, and it's all free. Up in the Midway there are two big glittering merry-go-rounds, with prancing steeds and enticing bally-hoo music, and the Ferris Wheel, not so big as the original Ferris Wheel perhaps, but just as much fun.

Then there's the Animal Circus, with all sorts of cute, trained ponies, monkeys and dogs and a bear that can skate on roller skates; the big Indian Congress and Village and other shows too numerous to mention.

In front of the Grand Stand there are the races, the polo games, the cow-boys, the fireworks, the big Indian battle every night, the log chopping contest the miners in their rock drilling contest, the motorcycle relay race, the Scotch Highlanders' band, the broadsword battle on horseback and lots more attractions different and more interesting than any circus.

Then there is a long list of cash prizes for children, nearly $400 in all, covering nearly everything they raise in gardens or make at school. All this children's work will be shown together this year in a new department all its own.

Even the babies can win some big cash prizes at this Spokane Fair, for there is a prize of $100 in gold for the best baby from outside Spokane, as well as many other cash and trophy prizes for the babies who enter in the Better Babies Contest.

And last, but not least, there is a big Free Nursery, where the babies can be left in charge of competent nurses while the parents enjoy the fair.

plunged it into his wife's heart. Groshev, without any further show of emotion, calmly waited for the police. He declined to give any motive for the crime. It is believed he is insane.

SALEM, Aug. 13.—A lively discussion was precipitated at the meeting of the state printing board when Harris announced he intended to enter a written contract with the typographical union when the new printing plant is established. State Treasurer Kay objected on the grounds of discrimination against a citizen not a member of the organization. The Secretary of State urged Harris to hold the matter in abeyance.

FORMER BEARS WIN 10 INNING GAME FOR SEATTLE

Two former Walla Walla players won a ten inning game for Seattle from Victoria Monday afternoon, the final score being 2 to 1. Kelly and Martini scored the two runs for Seattle. Kelly was on the mound and struck out 12 men. He allowed four hits and walked one man. In addition he got two hits out of four times up and made two assists and one put-out. Martini got one hit out of three times up.

The Seattle club was held scoreless until the ninth, when with one out, Narveson, the Victoria pitcher, hit Martini, who scored from first base on a center field drive. With the score a tie and one out in the tenth, Kelly hit past second, advanced on a single by Shaw, and then scored on an outfield hit.

MRS. HARRY LEHR TELLS WHY SHE AVOIDS LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The London friends of Mrs. Harry Lehr, May Goelitz of New York, were delighted the other evening on seeing her at the party given by the Duchess of Manchester (nee Zimmerman) at her magnificent home on Grosvenor square.

It is very seldom that Mrs. Lehr condescends to pay London a visit, the society of Paris being more to her taste. But the French capital at this time is practically deserted.

"Why don't you live in London, my dear," asked a prominent peeress of Mrs. Lehr at the Manchester ball, and adding, "your countrywomen are so popular over here?"

Woman and Her Varied Interests

Flowers on Top.
A good plan for the concealment of the unsightly garbage can is to have built two stands to be placed on either side of the kitchen porch steps--large flower pots with plants being placed on top. The stands should be built just large enough to contain the can, which is placed on a shelf, that swings out when the door at the side is opened. Holes for ventilation can be made in the stand, keeping the can as thoroughly sanitary as when exposed. Use the other stand for ashes, etc., or have shelves within for the reception of groceries or milk. If the door is fitted with lock and key.—Good Housekeeping.

Silver Cleaning.
Useful cloths for rubbing up silver or plate in daily use can be prepared by boiling soft cotton cloths in fresh milk in which is dissolved one ounce of hartshorn powder per pint. Boil for five minutes, wring out in cold water, and dry at once. Use these cloths for rubbing up the silver after drying, and if necessary before using again, taking care not to touch it with the bare hands or it will quickly tarnish in patches, says the Philadelphia Press. Whenever much silver is to be handled a pair of clean housemaid's gloves should be slipped on.

Egg Yolks Kept.
I often make angel food cake and other dishes requiring the whites of eggs, writes a contributor to the Madam Priscilla. The yolks one can use in custards, mayonnaise dressing, omelet, egg lemonade, etc. Invariably one puts the yolks away to be used at a more convenient time, and in a few hours they become dry and hard and will not beat. I discovered that if a little cold water was added to the yolks, and they were well beaten immediately, and then set away, they would remain as fresh as when

ed. It soon begins to level and shrink from the pan, and if a straw is inserted in the center it comes out dry. This means the cake is done, says the Newark News. Another test is if the cake springs back as it is pressed with the finger.

Add Red Ink.
When washing dainty pink fabrics that are almost sure to fade, a drop or two of red ink added to the rinse water or starch, same as bluing, will keep them in good color all summer.—New Haven Journal Courier.

Hammer the Knot.
I have made a discovery which I think may help others to loosen knots in harness, straps, cords, ropes or even shoestrings, writes a contributor to the Philadelphia North American. Hammer the knot on all sides with a mallet or a piece of wood, turning the strap or rope around, then dip in boiling water, holding it there a minute or two, according to size of knot to be loosened. Before doing so add a little soap to the water, then with a sharply pointed instrument pick the knot loose. Knots that have been pulled in harness or ropes for months or years can be loosened readily.

Satin Blouse.
The satin blouse is still very smart, especially in white, and buttoned in the front with large bell shaped buttons in satin or ivory, and either very apparent buttonholes or else thick satin loops, says the Philadelphia Times. A little embroidered pocket breaks the simplicity of the corsage on one side, and the little silk handkerchief placed there gives a pretty touch of color.

Cake Baking.
A cake which is made without butter requires a cooler oven than if butter is one of the ingredients. To know when a cake is done one should see that after the mixture begins to rise, brown spots appear here and there upon the surface, then the center of the cake rises a little more as it browns all over. This stage reach-

Depopulation Alarms France.
PARIS, Aug. 13.—Figures showing depopulation in France, published today, are regarded as the most startling in years. In the department of Gers, the figures showed that for every 100 babies born, 153 people died; in Lot-et-Garonne the proportion is 100 to 131. In thirty departments the deaths outnumbered the births while in only nine departments did the births come up to the average for the German empire.

DISPATCHES CONFIRM THE LOSS OF BRITISH CORPS
LONDON, Aug. 13.—War office dispatches confirmed Aden reports that a British camel corps was destroyed at a battle in Somaliland. Two thousand Dervishes attacked the corps while the latter was reconnoitering near Berbera, killing Captain Cornfield, a white man, and killing and wounding 50 native soldiers. Reinforcements were rushed to the scene.
