Woman and Her Varied Interests

Social and Club News, Personals, Fashions; Home Hints and Other Items of Interest to the World Feminine.

FOR LEISURE HOURS.

Here is a charming frock for wear at bridge or other afternoon affairs. Shadow lace and charmeuse form the foundation of this, the former in soft cream and the latter in the shade known as "burnt bread." The bodice is made almost entirely of the lace, the silk being introduced merely as a sort of flat facing in kerchief effect which crosses at the waistline and as a short basque; the resultant effect—a little coat. The draped skirt is made entirely of the silk. The crossed revers are held by large crystal buttons.

It's the Way Clothes are Worn That Counts.

"It's not so much what you wear as how you wear it" paraphrased a young business woman when an associate asked her for the secret of her trim appearance. Observation proves it. There are certain little traits of dress which the best dressed women acquire. They seldom allude to them. But it is either by chance or intuition they practice these little arts which are certainly worth while.

The perfectly groomed woman, for example, is always sure that the back of her collar fits snugly and is never pinned over a half inch or more to one side. If the collar becomes a little large or stretched she does not thrust in an ordinary pin, but runs in little tucks or plaits on each side of the fastening, thus gaining a neat, trim effect.

And another little point known to the groomed woman anent bought shirt waists is that the sleeves at the wrists are apt to be too large, so she runs little tuck in the cuffs or she removes the hooks and eyes and takes up the seam until the sleeve fits perfectly. Many women do not realize that sleeve perfection is often the weakest part of a ready made garment, and a little time taken in alteration will work wonders in this direction.

Then a word to women who aim always to wear immaculate white. Do not overlook the band of your Panama or outing hat, whatever it be. The black marks from a hatpin are far from attractive. It is a simple matter to change the hatband several times during the summer. The adjusting of the veil with a little forethought is an absolute necessity with the small hat of today. When done satisfactorily the tiny chapeau becomes a thing of beauty. If a veil is put on too hurriedly the hair is sure to be too flat against the face. The right way to don a veil with the small hat is first to put it around the throat and fasten it with a tiny hairpin at the nape of the neck. All of the fullness of the veil should be disposed here rather than on the hat. The object in putting on the veil is to press the hair upward, thus avoiding the flat look of the ordinary straight locks.

The well dressed woman is wearing the dark brown hair net veil, which can be drawn snugly, but is not conspicuous against the face.

SOCIETY

Completest of all the surprise weddings in Pendleton for many months was that of Miss Pauline La Fontaine and Alvin P. Knight which was celebrated last evening just before a dancing party of which the bride was one of the motifs. Announced for Wednesday morning, not even the closest friends knew aught of the nuptials until this morning when the young couple were many miles away. The wedding was just as planned, for the young people were seeking to outwit their friends who, they had reason to believe, had plans of their own for the occasion.

The marriage took place at 8:30 last evening at the home of the bride's parents, 509 West Court street in the presence of the immediate relatives of the two young people. Rev. Father Duran of the St. Mary's Catholic church officiated, using the ring ceremony. Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom went to the Eagle-Woodman hall where the former was one of the honor guests of a brilliant dancing party. They spent the evening there and none guessed their secret, both receiving congratulations on the "approaching" event without betraying the fact that the occasion which their friends were anticipating was already past. After the dance, they adjourned to a cafe with some of their friends who unknowingly sat with them at a wedding banquet. Attended only by Mr. and Mrs. George La Fontaine they went to the depot in time to catch the early morning west-bound train. They will spend a few days in Portland before going on to their future home near Standard, Alberta.

Mrs. Knight is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav La Fontaine, pioneer residents of this city. She is a native daughter of Pendleton and has made this city her home since birth. She is a beautiful and charming girl and for the past few years has occupied a prominent position in the younger social circle. She is a member of the Sigma Epsilon Omicron sorority. Her husband is also a Umatilla county product, having spent the greater part of his life near Heils and in this city prior to his departure six years ago for Alberta. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Knight of 513 Franklin street. For the past two years he has held the responsible position of manager of the Fort Pitt Ranch near Standard, Alberta, one of the biggest farms in that section of Canada, and in addition he has land interests of his own in the northern country. Both young people have an unusually large number of friends in this city and, though they were denied the privilege of complimenting them upon their union, their good wishes follow them to their faraway home.

An extremely pretty party was that of last evening when Mr. and Mrs. Westbrooke Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. Chloupek and Miss Edna Zimmerman complimented Mrs. Alvin P. Knight (Miss Pauline La Fontaine), whose wedding was celebrated earlier in the evening, and Miss Iva Hill who is to become the bride of Alfred E. Bloomquist during the latter part of the month. Despite the inclement weather there were many guests present to enjoy the dancing. The hall had been converted into a bower of autumn beauty. From overhead hung vines of fern leaves and ripened grapes and all about the room other foliage of the fall had been used liberally. The alcove where the little Misses Olga and Helen La Fontaine and Vera Temple served delicious punch and cakes was a mass of sumach. Red and green streamers and vari-colored Indian robes were used to complete the decorative scheme, and the effect provoked much praise from the guests. The dancing commenced at 9 o'clock and continued until the midnight hour. It was an unusually enjoyable affair, every feature having received the attention that goes to make a perfect evening.

Miss Effie Jean Frazier left today for Portland where she will be the guest for a week of Mrs. Louis Hunkler at the Fordham Apartments.

Mrs. John F. Robinson left yesterday for Portland where she will visit for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cohen and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Robinson spent Sunday at Bingham Springs.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart naturally responds to the charm and sweetness of a pretty child, and more so today than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a most wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no longer a period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event, and its use brings comfort, rest and repose during the term. This has a most marked influence upon the baby, since it thus inherits a splendid growing system of nerves and digestive function.

And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables her to preserve her health and strength, and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, and is highly recommended for the purpose. Write Bradfield Regulator Co., 134 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and they will mail you, sealed, a very instructive book for expectant mothers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adams were in yesterday from their country home near Adams.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach aches, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink.

START INQUIRY INTO CASE OF DISAPPEARANCE

NEWCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 7.—Determined to solve the mystery of the disappearance of little Catherine Winters last March, the grand jury today began a searching inquiry into the case, under special instructions from Judge Jackson. The mystery has been as baffling as the famous Charley Ross and Dorothy Arnold disappearances. Catherine Winters, on her way home from school, disappeared on the afternoon of March 20, as if the earth had suddenly opened and swallowed her. A nation wide search by county, state and federal detectives and sleuths from the best private agencies of the country, failed absolutely to unearth the slightest clue to the child's whereabouts or the manner of her death—if that were her fate. However, County Prosecutor Evans, recently unearthed what he believes are important clues which make him believe the child is still living. The child's pictures have been almost as widely printed as those of Dorothy Arnold.
