SALEM, Ore., Oct. 14.—Supplied with tentative drafts of several measures and a large amount of data that is expected to be of value to the Oregon delegation in congress, Miss Fern Hobbs, secretary to Governor West, left yesterday for Washington, D. C., in connection with a number of important state land matters.

been under way for some time, but some are experiencing the usual departmental and congressional delays," said the governor. The propositions up include the following:

MAN WITH "CRAZY JAG" EXCITES MANY

HAS ON SCANT CLOTHING—ANOTHER POLICE VICTIM WEARS THREE PAIRS.

A modern Thomas Carlyle with an ambition to write a new philosophy of clothes might have found excellent material for a "Sartor Resartus" in police court this morning for the officers had two cases bearing upon the significance of wearing apparel. One prisoner in jail was found to be in an extremely negligee attire while another had enough raiment to clothe a half dozen men.

A waiter at a local restaurant, whose name is withheld because he refused to give it, was arrested last night in the annex to the Senate rooming house after he had terrorized all of the tenants for a half hour. He was carrying what is known in common parlance as a "crazy jag" and he gave Officers Russell and Scheer a lively tussel before he was finally put to bed in the municipal bastille.

Thought not a sansculotte, he was sans coat, sans hat and sans shoes for he refused to dress before being assisted from his room to safer quarters. This morning when his case was called for trial, his inherent modesty asserted itself and he refused to appear in a court of justice without a complete attire. Judge Fitz Gerald, whose dignity is not offended by a mere matter of raiment or lack of raiment, made it known that the man's appearance would have no bearing upon the case but the prisoner was obdurate and refused to budge until his feet were properly shod, his head properly thatched and his back properly clad. Therefore, he is still in jail and still in dishabille.

What the waiter lacks in clothing, a young La Grande boy could have easily supplied and then had plenty to spare. Shortly after the hour when the former became an inmate of the jail, the police, acting under instructions from La Grande, pulled Frank Clark, a 15 year old youth who was tired of home and mother, off the brakes of No. 9. The boy had run away from his parents and was enroute to San Francisco and, that he might not suffer any discomforts from his mode of travel, he had dressed himself accordingly. When taken to the police station to be searched, it was found that he had on three pairs of trousers and a pair of overalls on his nether limbs, two heavy sweaters, two coats and a jumper on his torso besides plenty of heavy underwear. He was required to do a disarming act which filled all of the hat racks in the police station with cast-off clothing.

The boys father arrived from La Grande on No. 17 and perhaps, if that parent believes in the old time form of punishment, the boy will need all of his clothes again.

GOVERNMENT LAND AT YAKIMA ATTRACTS SETTLERS

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 14.—Letters and telegrams are arriving at the land and reclamation offices inquiring about homestead land to be opened to entry in this county in November. Washington press reports announcing the restoration to entry of 240 acres of land near Grandview and under the Sunnyside canal caused the inquirer. No information has reached either of the offices here other than that which comes directly in newspaper dispatches. The restoration of the land has been recommended by the reclamation service.

There are seven tracts, varying from 12 to 20 acres each, and they include some of the finest and most desirable land in the county. The land is under a pumping project on Early hill. The drawing will be November 21 and the preliminary conditions will be similar to those which have prevailed in recent drawings.

The week prior to the drawing is given up to the necessary preparation, and the time for filing will be between 9 o'clock a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on November 21. The water right and maintenance together are $6.15 and the aggregate filing fee and commission at the land office will be $6.50.

CHICAGO AMERICANS ARE CHAMPIONS OF THE CITY

SALEM ELECTION WILL BE HELD AS ANNOUNCED

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 14.—By a margin of only 48 names, the petition for a local option election in Salem on November 4 was declared to be valid and County Judge Bushey issued the notice of election.

It was feared that the petition would be thrown out because of the many errors it contained. It was found that many women had signed the petition for themselves and other members of their families, and some had used their husband's initials when they were registered under their given names, and ward numbers had been confused with county precinct numbers. There were over 400 names on the petition and only 250 names were needed.

County Clerk Max Gehlhar finished checking the petition and found there were 48 more valid names than the number required.

COURT SETS PORTLAND BACK IN DOCK BUILDING

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 14.—Further delay was faced by the city of Portland in securing money with which to carry on the construction of municipal docks when the supreme court sustained a demurrer and quashed an alternative writ of mandamus directed against Mayor Albee and Auditor Barbur to compel them to sign dock bonds amounting to two and a half million dollars, approved by the city council.

Miss Martin Very Low.

Having developed a complication in the last day which does not result in more than one of a thousand cases of typhoid, Miss Rachel Martin, daughter of C. H. Martin, the county road engineer, is today in a very grave condition. A swelling formed in the glands of her neck yesterday and threatened to shut off her breath.

Physicians lanced the swelling and she was breathing easier. Another nurse arrived this morning from Walla Walla to assist in caring for her.

County Jail Is "Kindergarten."

Furnishing food for the criminalogist's mind is the county jail today. Confined in it are six prisoners hardly more than boys and another will be added tomorrow. Four of the boys, Austin Williams, Fred Getman, Jerald Robinson and David Koestner, were bound over from the Milton justice court on a charge of burglary.

The other two, Amos Smith and Charles Edwards, are the two who were arrested several days ago and charged with the larceny of two horses. They were held under $5000 bonds by Justice Parkes today.

The seventh is Wendell Galloway, a boy bridegroom of but a few days who was arrested at La Grande upon instructions from the local officers. He is accused of defrauding a hotel keeper of $32, W. J. Bell being the complaining witness.

VALUE OF FARM CROPS IS 140 MILLION DOLLARS

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Oct. 14.—With an agricultural production of about $140,000,000 for the year 1913—about $12,000,000 in excess of last year's valuation—the Oregon farmer need not fear that he will be overtaken by hard times. The exact figures based on estimates made by Dr. Withycombe, director of the experimental station, are $139,505,326 for the current year, and $126,784,049 for the preceding year.

The total valuation is made up of $74,099,152 representing crop values and $65,406,174 representing the value of other agricultural products. The leading crop money-maker is wheat, with an estimated production of 22,146,887 bushels, valued at $16,510,165. Its nearest competitor is hay, 1,511,621 tons, valued at $13,604,589. The value of the fruit crop is $8,000,000. The figures for clover seed, while the lowest of the nine separately-headed products, are in many ways the most gratifying of all. They represent a new industry, vindicate the contention of the College authorities that clover and alfalfa can be and are grown successfully, and indicate that valuable additions to the fertility of Oregon farms have been made.

Of agricultural products other than crops the value of livestock sales is $34,897,500; dairy products, $18,425,000; poultry and eggs, $5,770,000; wool, $2,975,000; mohair, $356,250; and honey, $141,750.

FRANCIS J. HENEY IS PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 14.—With Francis J. Heney already the avowed candidate for the progressive nomination to succeed Senator George C. Perkins of California next year, Former Mayor James D. Phelan, practically certain of the democratic nomination and John L. McNab, former United States district attorney, asked to stand for the republican nomination, California is facing one of the biggest political fights in its history.

The candidacy of Heney is accepted by all to mean that Governor Hiram Johnson will not be a candidate for the senate, but will try for reelection. Heney and Johnson, two of the state's leading progressives, are close friends and it practically is certain that Heney's candidacy has Johnson's stamp of approval. As the situation now lines up next year's race for the first time making the final choice, the race to succeed Senator Perkins promises to eclipse the governorship fight in real interest and excitement. There will be no contest for the governorship if Johnson runs again but the senatorship fight is certain to be a hummer.
