BIG FLEET TO GATHER AT THE 1915 FAIR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Anchored in Hampton Roads early in 1915 will be the greatest international fleet ever gathered in American waters, assembled in answer to the invitation of the United States government to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal by making a voyage to the Pacific through the new waterway. Some of the nations with great navies may be represented by squadrons of four or more warships; others by only one or two, and some of the countries practically without navies including vessels of the first class will be represented only in the personnel of their legations and commissions to the Panama-Pacific exposition. The president will go to Hampton Roads to review the assembled fleets as they start on their voyage to San Francisco. The international fleet probably will be under command of an American, in all likelihood Vice Admiral Cameron McK. Winslow, for it is expected that congress, which authorized the assembly, will make provision for this new grade rather than have the American commander outranked by some foreign naval officer. The ceremonies at Hampton Roads and the time reserved for a visit to Washington by the foreign visitors will consume about a week or ten days, and then, headed by the American fleet, probably with the super-dreadnaught New York at the right of the column, the great armada will make its way southward for Colon. It is estimated that about four days will be required to pass the fleet through the locks and canal, and about twice that length of time will suffice to replenish the coal bunkers and oil tanks of the ships before they resume their cruise, this time steaming northward for San Francisco. Altogether it is planned to make the complete voyage from Hampton Roads to the Golden Gate in 42 days, which will include a stop of a day or two at some convenient harbor or roadstead on the Pacific coast, probably Magdalena Bay, for additional fuel and supplies.

VENICE, Cal., Oct. 21.—Mayor Holbrook, Tom Pryor and Professor C. T. Work, members of the Venice Straw Hat club, were each fined $5. They forgot the club's rule which enforces the wearing of straw hats every Sunday throughout the winter.
ROME, Oct. 21.—While posing for the "movies" here, Adriana Castagnana, an actress, was badly clawed by a leopard.
PORTLAND, Oct. 21.—Members of the Reformed Presbyterian church have adopted resolutions urging the city school board to reconsider the recent action barring the Bible from the schools.
PORTLAND, Oct. 21.—In readiness for its campaign in Europe to secure substantial farmers to come to Oregon, to make their homes, the Oregon State Immigration Commission has issued two books for distribution in Germany.
PORTLAND, Oct. 21.—"If there was a competent meat inspector appointed in this city, we would be able to find today 20 tons of meat for sale which are unfit for human consumption," was the startling statement made by Dr. Mack, a prominent veterinarian, appearing before the budget committee of the city council.
BRUSSELS, Oct. 21.—Owing to the latest Zeppelin balloon disaster, Belgium cancelled the year's military dirigible flights and dropped negotiations for the purchase of a new Zeppelin.
LONDON, Oct. 21.—The stage led so frequently to the peerage, the Earl of Carrick turned things around and took the peerage onto the stage. It was not poverty which drove the earl to the boards. He has stipulated that his salary which was equal to that of stars like Harry Lauder, should go to charity.
CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—W. R. Russell, a fake clairvoyant, has confessed that he amassed $500,000 by paying for police protection.
