OFFICIAL INTRODUCER MISSED STEP; REPLACED.

PARIS, Dec. 22.—A story is being told here today intimating that one of the reasons why M. Mollard, introducer of ambassadors at the president's palace, was replaced by M. Martin, was because he stepped on the chief executive's feet. According to the story, on the day Martin succeeded Mollard as master of ceremonies some one remarked to President Poincare, "really no one would notice M. Mollard was not here."
"I would," the president is quoted as answering, "for no one has stepped on my toes." It appears M. Mollard, in making introductions, had a habit of stepping back a pace. President Poincare had learned the trick and stayed far enough away in the rear to escape. M. Mollard weighs over 200 pounds.

A Christmas Opportunity

Will Your Table be Filled Christmas Day?

Will your children be clothed and fed? Will your house be warmed? Will you know where you shall find the money that will feed and clothe and warm you and them during the winter days that will follow?

Yes?

Well, there are many who are coming to us today, who will come Christmas day, and who will come in the days that will follow, who are hungry, ragged and cold—the sick, the deserted, the homeless, mothers with little children are our wards.

If you have enough and just a little more won't you share it? Christmas will mean a little more to you and infinitely more to them.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Buy New Buick.

George Norton has purchased a new model 25, 1914 Buick automobile from the Oregon Motor garage.

Divorce is Granted.

Fred W. Foss was this morning granted a divorce from his wife, Dorothea Foss by Circuit Judge Phelps.

New Case of Smallpox.

The Kemper home at 625 Willow street was quarantined for smallpox this morning. Laura Kemper being afflicted. Gene Folsom, who lives at 308 Madison street, was quarantined this morning for measles.

Attend Music Convention.

C. E. Oliphant, manager of the Alta theater, and Guy Matlock, manager of the Pastime are in Portland attending the convention of state moving picture men.

Cantata Wednesday Night.

The young people of the Methodist church will give a Christmas cantata at the church Wednesday evening. It is entitled "Santa Claus & Co." No admission will be charged but a silver offering will be taken.

Big Hunt in Police Court.

The city jail is fuller this morning than it has been for some time as a result of a big catch by the police dragnet Saturday night and Sunday. Fourteen men entered pleas of guilty to being drunk this morning and all but one took the jail sentence.

Docket is Called.

Circuit Judge Phelps this morning assembled the lawyers and called the docket in preparation for the January term of court which commences January 12. He will set his cases for trial within the next few days. The grand jury has been called to convene, Monday, January 5.

President Campbell Here.

President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon and Louis Johnson, steward of the same institution, spent yesterday in Pendleton on their way back to Eugene from a visit in eastern Oregon points. Mr. Johnson was a resident of Pendleton some years ago, having been an employe of the Teutich Department store.

Looks Like White Christmas.

Indications are that Pendleton will enjoy a white Christmas. With remnants of the snow of several days ago still on the ground, another fall of downy flakes ensued yesterday evening between 8 and 10, leaving a two-inch mantle on the ground. This morning about 10, another storm commenced and it has been snowing steadily since.

Thanks Those Who Helped.

The Thursday Afternoon club has been pleased with the assistance given in the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals and desires to extend thanks to the East Oregonian, the Peoples Warehouse, Alexander's, La Dow's hardware, the postoffice and the Pastime theater for the publicity and help given toward the disposal of the seals.

Bears Scars of Battle.

Homer I. Watts, well known attorney of Athena, is in the city today and still bears the scars of a personal encounter he had last week with Will Ferguson which arose, it is said, over the old killing cases in which Watts appears as attorney for the defense. The battle is spoken of as a very lively affair with honors about evenly divided and no great damage done.

Invites Baker to Make Junket.

President J. V. Tallman of the Pendleton Commercial association has sent a request to the business men of Baker to make Pendleton a visit some time during the winter or spring. La Grande and Baker have been exchanging visits during the past few years and it was reported to President Tallman that the Baker people have been contemplating a junket trip here. He assured them that they would be heartily received should they make the trip.

An Enjoyable Stag Party.

Wyrick brothers, Will and James, were hosts Saturday evening at a "stag" party given at their farm home six miles northeast of this city. Though the unlucky number of 13 sat at the table, the guests declare the jinx never put in an appearance to mar the affair. The fore part of the evening was spent in card playing and later a sumptuous banquet was served. The following were the guests present: Henry W. Collins, Ben L. Burroughs, Wesley N. Matlock, Roy Raley, Fred W. Lampkin, John Eggers, John Mumm, Levi Youngren, Clark E. Nelson, Louis E. Badoux and Elmer Moore.

Farmers Helping Relief Assn.

Many of the farmers living around Pendleton are taking considerable interest in the relief work now under way here. One farmer living near Helix is sending in a number of chickens to be distributed among those where the Christmas dinner will be a minus quantity, another from out north of town has contributed 12 sacks of potatoes and from the Pilot Rock country one prominent farmer has sent in a number of sacks of vegetables. This is the spirit that serves to make a community. Let the good work go on.

Exporting County Books.

J. H. Wilson, an expert accountant, has again been employed by the county court to audit the books of the county officials and he is now busily engaged in his work. He has already gone through the sheriff's records, the treasurer's and the recorder's and is now working on the clerk's. This will be the last time that the county court orders the work as heretofore, the recently created state board of accountancy will send an expert to go over the books.

Dr. Best is Sued.

Dr. James A. Best, who has appeared in the limelight rather frequently of late, was today made the defendant in a suit for a judgment on a promissory note. The American Life & Accident Insurance Co., with headquarters in Portland, is the plaintiff and alleges that on March 5, 1912, Dr. Best executed his promissory note for $100 with 6 per cent interest, due Nov. 1, 1912 and that he has paid only $10 on it. Furthermore, plaintiff charges that defendant refuses to make further payment and ignores the demands made upon him. Arthur I. Moulton of Portland is attorney for the company and attorney fees in the sum of $75 are asked.

Presbyterian Cantata Tonight.

Tonight the young people of the Presbyterian church will hold their Christmas entertainment. It will be in the form of a cantata entitled "Santa Claus at Miss Prim's." There will be a Christmas tree also. The following is the cast of characters for the cantata:

- Spirit of Love, Pauline Jones;
- Miss Prim, Leona Jerald; Miss Mrs. Glen Sturdivant; Reta, Zeila Thompson; Laspin Lou, Edith Power; Teddy Bear Girl, Ruth Terpenning; Witch's Daughter, Helen Raymond; Santa Claus, Richard Hansen; Tom, Victor Hansen; Betty Bay, Garland Gray; Noley Ned, Clarence Farmerly; Chorus, Thelma Thompson, Katherine Thompson, Leon Grigsby, Mrs. Judd, violin Lella Grigsby, piano.

Pinkerton Will be Fined.

The will of the late William Pinkerton of Athena was admitted to probate today and by it his wife, Elizabeth Ann Pinkerton, comes into possession of the greater part of his estate for use until her death when it is to descend to their children. Mary A. Nelson, Nathan H. David A., James W. and Robert E. Pinkerton. At her death 80 acres of his wheat land is to go to each and the other property is to be divided share and share alike. The 80 acres already decided to the wife of David Pinkerton and the 120 decided to Robert are to be recognized as appertaining to their share of the estate. The will specifies that each shall be paid five dollars at this time. David A. and James W. Pinkerton are named as executors. The court has appointed W. S. Ferguson, Edward E. Koontz and Henry Dell as appraisers but they cannot do their work until the state treasurer has been notified inasmuch as the estate is valued at over $10,000.

PERSONALS.

S. D. Peterson of Milton is here today.

P. T. Harbour, prominent Weston resident, is making the city a visit today.

Clark Wood, Weston's "man with the pen," made a Saturday visit to the city.

J. G. Kilpack, state agent for the Boys' and Girls' Aid society, is here today on official business.

Hans Struve, a senior at the Oregon Agricultural college, has returned to Pendleton for the holidays.

R. Lane of Pendleton, passed through the city this morning on his way to Elgin, where he will visit during the holidays. Mr. Lane is a landscape artist and is now engaged in painting beautiful Willows Lake in the Commercial club building at Portland. Mr. Lane studied with his father in London. He came through here 27 years ago.—La Grande Observer.

In addition to great musical festivals, such as the Welsh National Eisteddfod, the German saengerfests and others, there will be constant music on the Panama-Pacific international exposition grounds throughout the whole period of celebration. There will be both military and orchestras playing practically all day in some part or parts of the exposition grounds. $10,000 will be offered by the Eisteddfod in the chief choral competition.
