TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

PORTLAND, Jan. 17.—Patrolman Ralph Mainwring arrested a six-foot blacksnake cooing its way through the traffic at Third and Morrison streets in the busiest part of the city. Where it came from none knows. It is now being held for its owner.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—The engagement was announced of Count Boni de Castellane to Countess Talyrand Perigord, cousin of the Duke of Talyrand, husband of the former Anna Gould, who was Boni's first wife.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—The Portland Coast league team may lose their crack outfielder, Chet Chadbourne. Chadbourne admitted here that he is considering seriously an offer from Manager Stovall of the Kansas City Federals, who is dangling a three year contract at $2990 a year before his eyes.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Hats off to the postal service—it boasts real baseball fans. Bearing no direction than a figure "65" two inches high, a letter written by a Chicago fan was delivered here to Christy Mathewson, New York Giant pitcher.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Local prohibitionists started a movement for including a proposition to close all Chicago saloons in the issues to be voted upon at the April election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Captain Lattimore of the police boat Patrol encountered a whale off Alcatraz Island. Lattimore opened the throttle wide and made for the Howard street berth. He got there safely but the mammal ranged alongside and doused Lattimore at regular intervals with icy water. The whale escaped.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The following additional banks have applied for membership in the new banking system: Harney County National Bank, Burns, Ore.; First National Bank, Baker, Ore.; First National Bank, Eugene, Ore.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Robert Stultz of Portland has been appointed deputy collector of the income tax.

MEDFORD, Ore., Jan. 17.—The Jackson county court has received the approval of the New York attorney for the syndicate of bond buyers who recently purchased the $500,000 road bonds voted last autumn for improving the Pacific highway through the county and the money will be available as soon as the bonds are delivered.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Fannie Carr is suing her former husband, Maurice King, for $5000 damages, alleging that he wrote letters to "the trade" ridiculing a face lotion she prepared.

PILOT ROCK LOCALS.
